TABLE

Pam Bailey

Pam.
It has really been
just great knowing you.
You a cute girl with a great personality. Good luck
all you do.

Your friend
Betty Shaw

Pam - I'm so glad I had Newdy. I'm so glad I had the chance to be friends with you, I hope we may continue to be friends. It's been a real hell. Please look for me this summer and well raise some may God bless and watch over you (he has to).
yours,
Genie
6-68

Pam.

Is a real sweet, nutty girl.
How does it feel to be next year's Senior. Good luck next year & the rest of your life. Be good & stay cool.

Love ya
Gail Shepherd
Sr. '68

Pam - It's been a lot of fun
comparing notes on Charlotte,
Sam, Lily and everybody.
You've gone through about a jillion boys since the first of school so there's not much to say in that department except keep it up. Remember all the fun (?) with Mr.
Crain and Millican. Stay
sweet and have fun next year as a cool Senior, '68
Love ya Karen (KA-RAN)

Pam -
You are a cool gal,
and if you are
wise (like me!)
you'll stay that
way. People like
cool girls --- and they like you. Good luck always,
Love ya, Linda
Jellison

Pam.
I must say
this year has been lots of fun. Our private jokes have kept us in good spirits. I'm so glad that you know my cousin! Aren't.
I hope that this summer will bring more interesting events for us.
Be good to the quip, always Love ya, Jammy Sr. 69.

- Pam -
Business mach.
has been a drag
but it has been fun knowing
you. It's to bad we haven't been better friends.
Let me hear from you from time to time.

- Pam -
Sorry you didn't stay in Biology this year.
I know it just broke your heart! But English hasn't really been that bad. Be good this summer. See you next year, Mai Spencer

Kathy
Dennis
Sr. '68

- Pam -
BUSINESS Machines was something else,
It's been great
knowing you this year. You have a sweet personality. Keep it!

person and a student.
Everytime I wear my H.P., I think of
you. Good luck.
Liz Lippman

Damn -
well another year has gone by. But this year
we haven't done half
the stuff that we did last year and I sure
wish we could have,
so we will just have to get together this summer. OK???

Be good, you little flirt, when I'm not
around next year.
And whoever it is that you like (nervous can remember you change
so often!!) I hope you get him.

I have fun with you when you are a senior but don't have too much.

Love ya,

Upper left: Mathematics becomes more meaningful for Richard Pralle as Miss Jill Reber demonstrates the intersection of three planes. Above: Serious thought is given the selection of the right library book by Lynn Burton. Below: A living textbook, the daily newspaper, is an important tool for learning in Mrs. Charlotte Eaker's journalism class. Upper right: It's lab day—and chemistry students Jackie Lamb and Steve Flynn get careful instruction from Instructor Dennis Simpson while making preparations for a laboratory experiment. Lower right: Pushups build muscles for boys in Mr. Ken Grissom's gym classes.

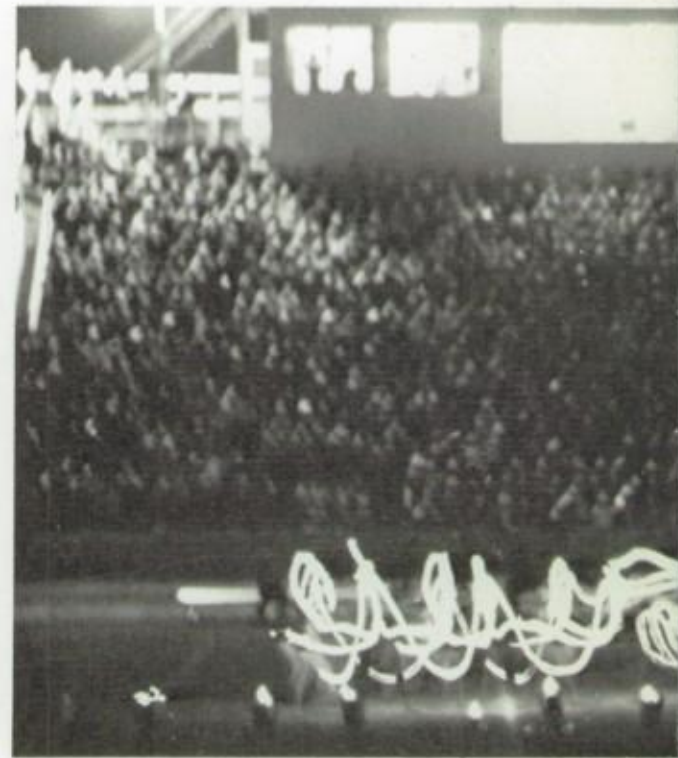

A Look of Distinction

Industry, Concentration Pervade Classroom Scene

Practice, scores, test tubes, and books provide disciplines of thought. Wide-spread goals inspire Knights as the multi-facets of knowledge take related forms, and the awareness of one's potential is the discovery of purpose.

Upper left: A cherished tradition in Knightland—the raising of the Victory Flag. Seniors Butch Held, Frank McGregor, and Doug Polk do the honors after a big game. Upper right: Fans at Taft Stadium are spellbound by spectacular fire routines by majorettes at halftime. Above: Indulging in "girl talk" after the assembly announcement that they are sports queen candidates are five of the school cheerleaders. Right: Off to lunch in his "dune-buggy" is Jack Bowlin with his girl friends. With the help of a few neighborhood friends, Jack assembled the car in his garage-workshop.

Sparkling Moments Lend Knights Magical Tinge

Spirit permeates the halls of Northwest sparkling students with the warmth of congeniality. Slamming lockers, shuffling feet and light strains of laughter momentarily fill the halls. The expectant hush of an audience as the curtain rises, the din of the parking lot, the roar of the stands—These are the sounds which spell Life with a capital "L" in Knightland.

Bustle of Participation Enriches Knightland

The fervor of elections, parliamentary "ayes and nays," morning meetings, service projects, ingenious ideas, artistic capabilities reflect innumerable versions of happiness, represent individual specialties and interests.

Mixture of Courage, Skill Spices Rivalry

Sideline talk, roar of the crowd, unity of the team, breathless tension
of Friday night's game,
Pushing enthusiasm of pep rallies,
Boosters, band, pep clubs, fans
say, "Knights are best, anyway!"

A Cherished Look

Sum Total of All Its Parts — NW's People

Giving and taking, savoring the joys of companionship, accepting the frustrations of disappointments, Knights view learning with a forward look as they reflect loyalty to their classes and pride in their progress.

Left: Biology lab "pets" provide means for class experiments. Below: "Tie her fast!" Stepmother Susan Cooper (right) orders Barry Tennis. Nancy Fisher (Cinderella) Robyn Birdwell and Barbara Ketchum play leading roles in the drama class children's theater production, "Cinderella."

"SNEAKY, huh?" Jim Baker takes advantage of a quiet moment during class to slip a note to Joni Mythen.

TRADITIONAL Knightland hospitality is shown Maria Moncayo, AFS'er from Ecuador, when some fifty Knights greet her at the airport as she arrives to spend the school year at Northwest.

FRIENDLY GREETINGS are extended freshman Mindy Swank Orientation Day by Council officers John Stacy, Susan Stacy, Danny Loving, and Laura Turney.

September Sets Pace for Brisk Activities

"H"owdy" was the magic word as new students were greeted with Orientation Day and the traditional "Howdy Week" climaxed by the mixer.

Knights participated in summer workshops and planning sessions to set the stage for the year's activities. Shield staffers gathered news for the annual first-day paper; Student Council committees met to coordinate opening events.

Everyone looked forward to the big prep preview and the first look at our football team. Fees, activity tickets, and pep club dues depleted our allowances. We had to curtail our social life as studies quickly demanded more and more attention.

Word came in late September that fifteen semi-finalists were recognized by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. For the third time Northwest boasted more winners than any other school in the state.

Another "first" was marked when the drama department presented the third of its children's theater productions, "Cinderella," and NW became the only school in this area to stage plays for children.

IT'S NOT Cinderella's pumpkin, but the principal's car to which Cinderella, (Nancy Fisher) and Stage Manager Rick Varnell are attaching a bumper sticker. The stickers proved effective advertising as a capacity crowd attended the children's theater production.

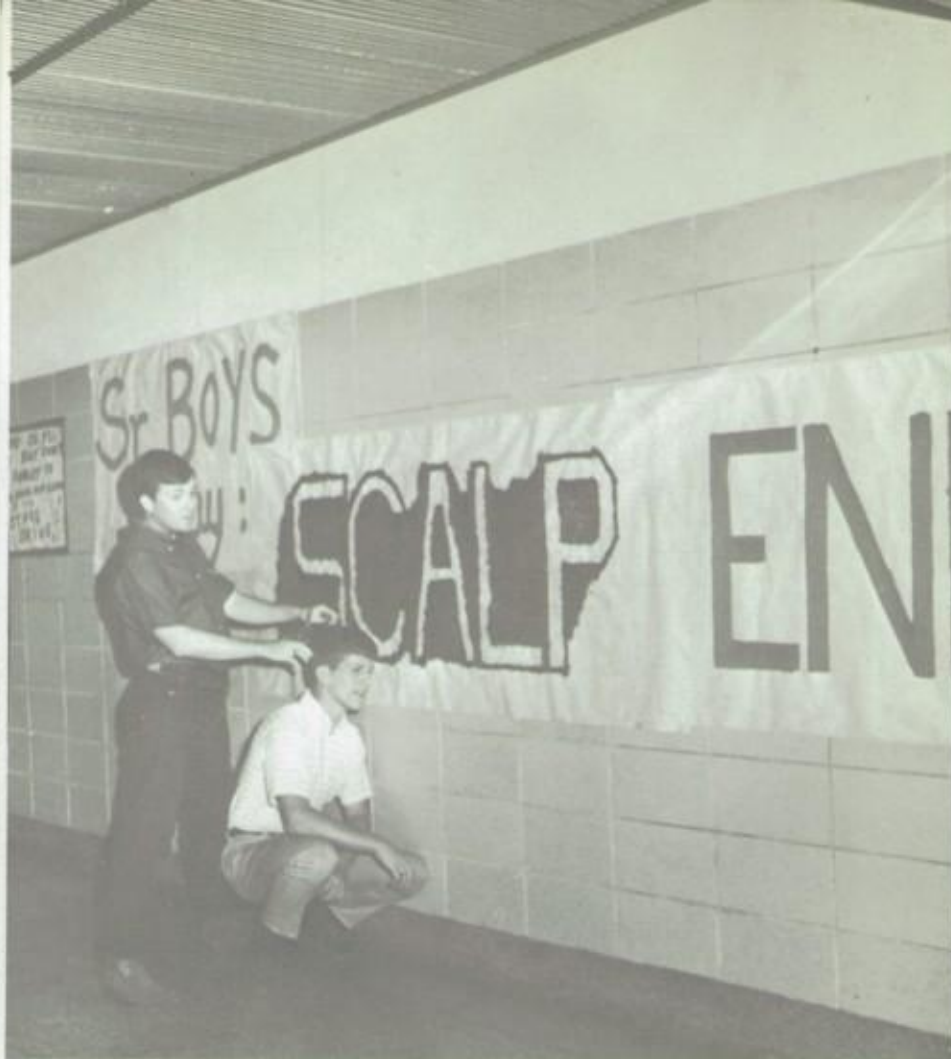

OUTLET for enthusiasm is the "car bash," featured before the Capitol Hill football game at a pep rally in the school parking lot.

FIRST PLACE trophy from State Fair competition is presented Principal Jim Johnson by majorettes during pep assembly.

GRIM reminder of last year's loss to Enid are shirts sported by gridmen.

Wizards Plan Details For First-rate Shows

One of the most rewarding parts of attending Northwest was sharing in the different joys, interests, troubles, hopes, and dreams of some 3,050 classmates.

Few people realized the many details of planning which produced the high caliber of programs and activities traditional at Northwest.

Who set up the risers for the chorus? Who ordered the Cokes for the mixers? Who handled arrangements for the speech department's tri-tournament which drew some 600 students? Who checked timing and production on the Cry-slurs' and art department's TV shows?

Teamwork. Knights worked together beginning with Student Council, where the blueprints for extra-curricular life were drawn up. Courtesy and Key Clubs ushered, directed. Pep Clubs applauded, sold programs, presented capers. Announcers Club informed over Central Sound. The band played; art students made posters; audio-visual aides tested mikes, the speech department built scenery.

DR. J. Herbert Holloman, president-designate of the University of Oklahoma, talks with Northwest's Merit Scholars after his assembly appearance.

PROMOTING their new club, Future Business Leaders of America, Sandy Craig, president, and Nancy Pennington recruit members by hanging posters throughout the building.

"HERE is the hatch," John Morozuk tells his fellow-announcer Assistant Principal Harold Crain. School announcers, Ed Warren, Bill Perry and Cheryl Cantrell present the former Navy commander his Christmas present.

VISITATION DAY delegate, Alvis Stisson, newspaper editor from Northwest High School, examines The Shield with his Student Council hostesses, Pam Keleher and Janice Davis. Seventeen school representatives attended.

"DO I have to?" Cecilia Tolley reluctantly drops her favorite stuffed animal in the Toys for Tots box to help admit her and Randy Marx to the annual Christmas mixer. This national drive is sponsored by the U.S. Marine Corps.

SENIORS don't mind the record-breaking cold winter evenings. They just gather by the fireside to sing and discuss plans for college.

"I THINK it needs a pink bow ..." says Laura Townsend, as she and Janet Sheets wrap packages for Northwest's seven homebound students.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS confuse foreign exchange students Maria Moncayo and Claudie Billion when Melvin Miller and Roy Mote try to sneak up on them with mistletoe.

Student Life

Holidays Cast Spell On Altruistic Pupils

A winter wonderland glowing with the true meaning of Christmas, Knightland took on a special look in December.

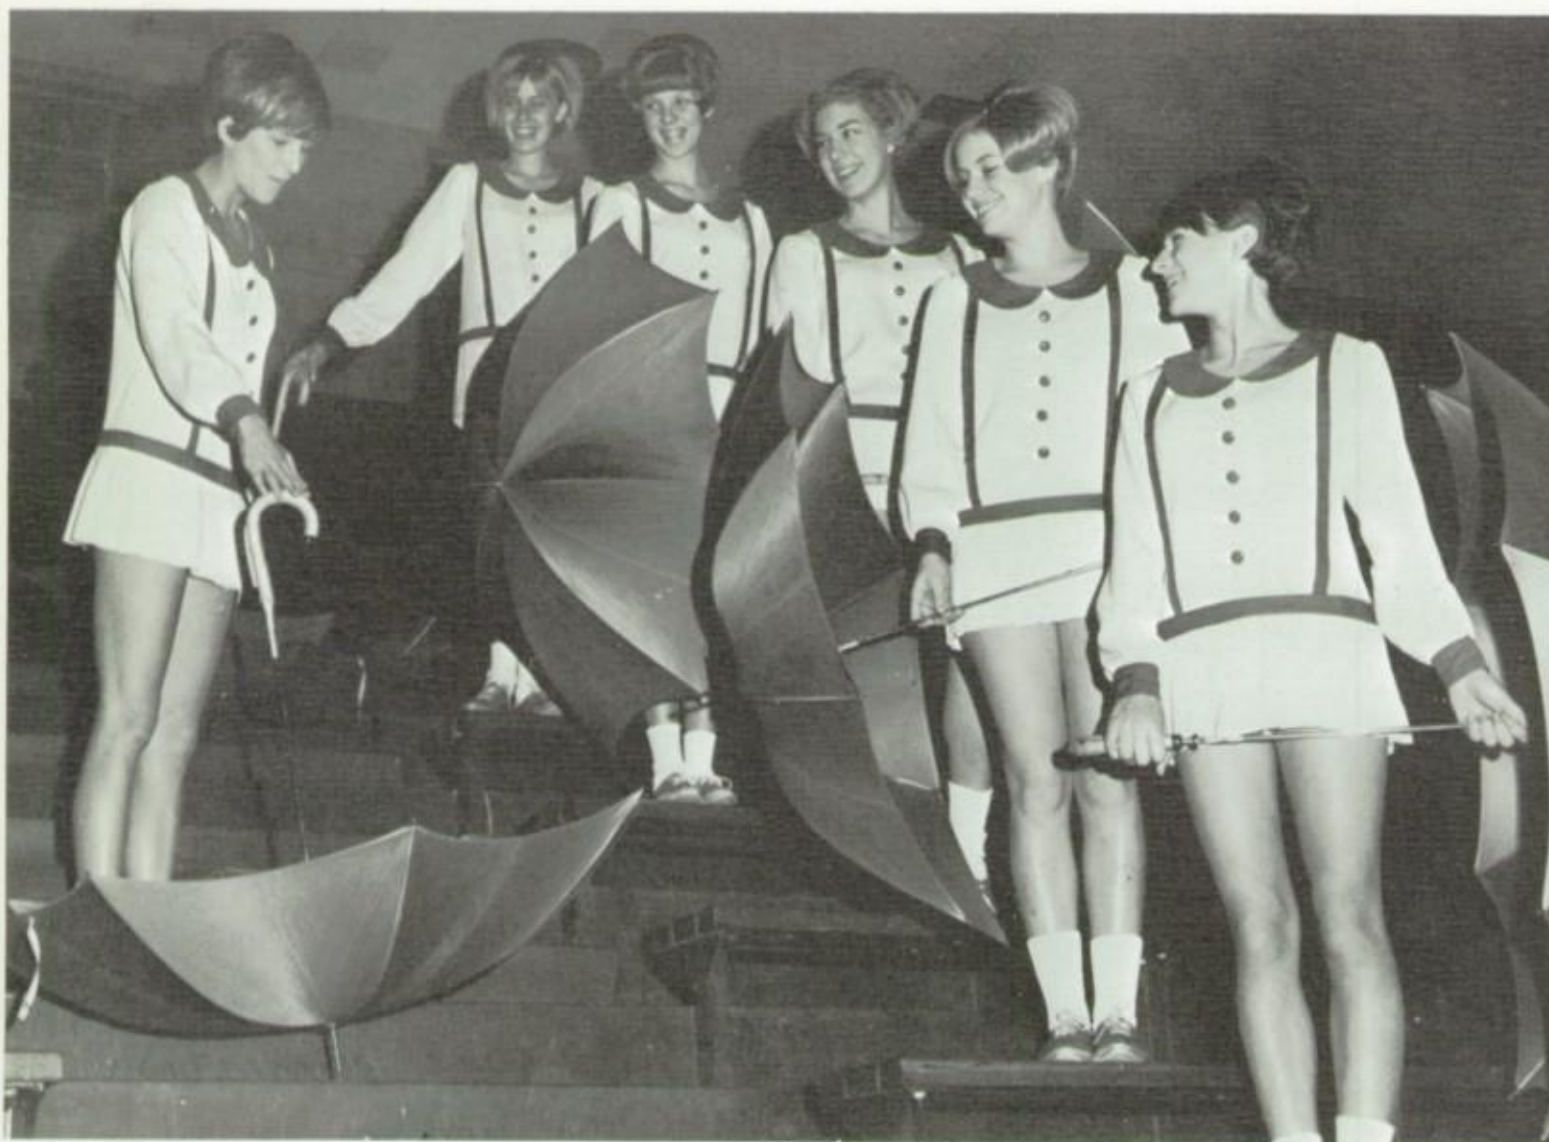

All forty-nine clubs and organizations chose service projects. Instead of the annual Sock Tree, Red Cross sponsored "Santa's Pack," providing socks and underwear for needy children.

Youth of the Kingdom members helped to bring Christmas cheer to Northwest's seven homebound students by making gifts for them.

Friday, December 15 turned out to be a unique day at Northwest. Ice-blanketed streets made driving so hazardous that attendance was decreased about one-half. The Distributive Education talent show went on as scheduled and marked the first time in school history that the whole student body gathered in the auditorium at one time.

Late in December a newspaper story named Northwest a target for solicitation of supporters for anti-war demonstration groups. A Shield poll indicated an overwhelming 92 per cent of our students registered disapproval of the war protest movement and would reject any overtures to join a group.

READY to entertain basketball fans at halftime are state champion majorettes (top to bottom) Cindy Carter, Kathy Martin, Cindy Brown, Cathy Cooper, Beverly Miller, and Katie Sheehan.

'The Section' Signals Upswing of Spirit

"Shed a tear, buccaneer," sang out some 500 members of The Section as the boys' spirit group made its debut at home when the Knights played Putnam City's Pirates February 8.

Members created their own special cheers and participated in the girl cheerleaders' chants. Ross Pope, boys' head cheerleader, delighted fans with his acrobatic stunts. Other Section cheerleaders included Butch Held, Kent Carnahan, and Dan Loving.

Such tags as "Cool Hand Luke," "Buffalo," and "Hombre" were assigned individual players by the imaginative new spirit group.

Although the boys' Section grabbed the spotlight second semester, the girls applauded their spirit and joined efforts to produce pep which helped propel Knight cagers into the State playoffs.

Majorettes varied their routines for halftime shows in the gymnasium during basketball season, while the cheerleaders added color with their psychedelic pom pom dances at pep rallies.

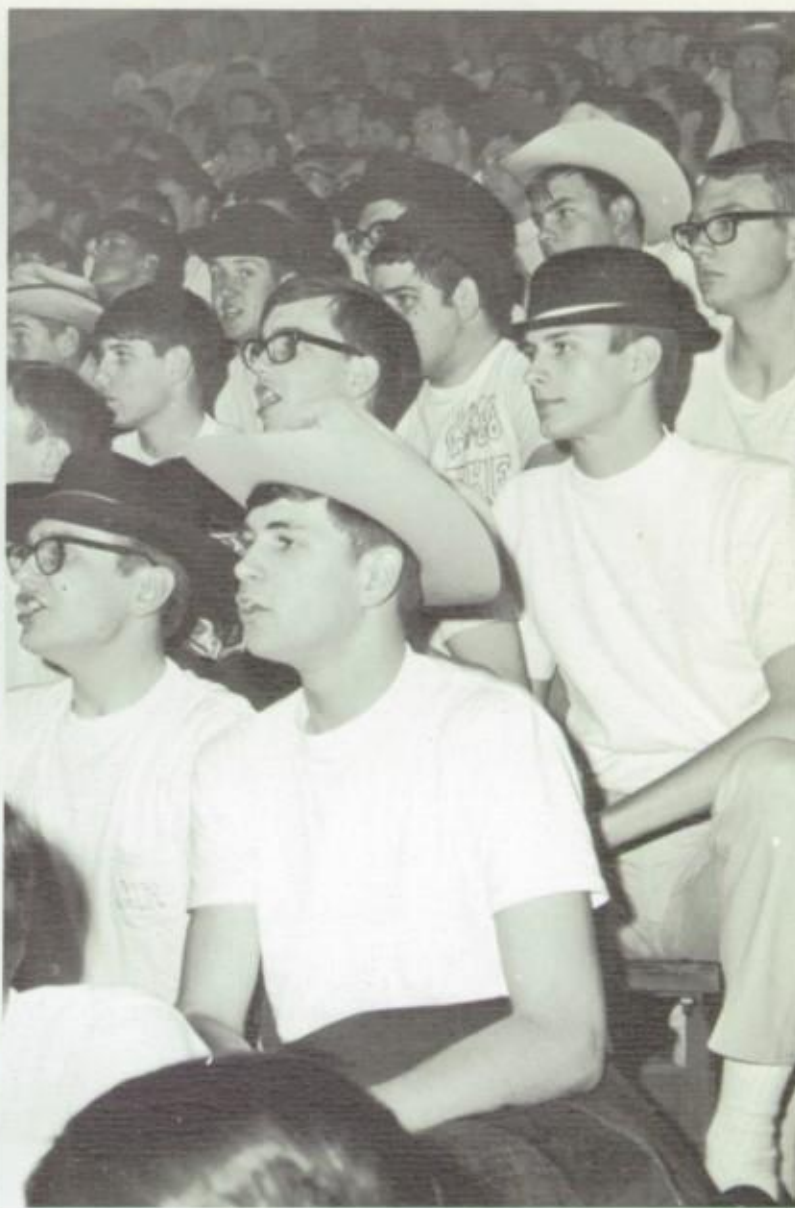

CYGNETS SAY, "Sink that ball" as a Knight cager steps up to the line.

PERSONALIZED teeshirts are Section trademarks.

PROUDLY displaying The Section's symbol, a purple and gold flag, is junior Paul Rosenberg.

IN ONE of its rare quiet moments, The Section, noted for its courtesy, awaits a crucial decision by the referee.

IT'S no holds barred for cheerleaders Barbara Baber, Paula Collins, Margeret Baxt, Nancy Steph, Suzy Quinn, Suzanne Martin, Chris Finefrock.

FAST scrimmages prepare Bruce Carlton, Mike DeGuisti, and Steve Williams for competition in the new Junior Ice Hockey League, which includes ten Northwest boys.

Student Life

Whirl of Big 'Happenings' Windup First Semester

TROPHIES, ENTRY FORMS, and programs are checked by debaters Scott Rayburn and Robert Branham before the nine hundred speakers arrive for Northwest's tri-tournament, first of its kind in school history.

Tempo in school life quickened at the mid-way mark as Knights poised for the final phase of the school year.

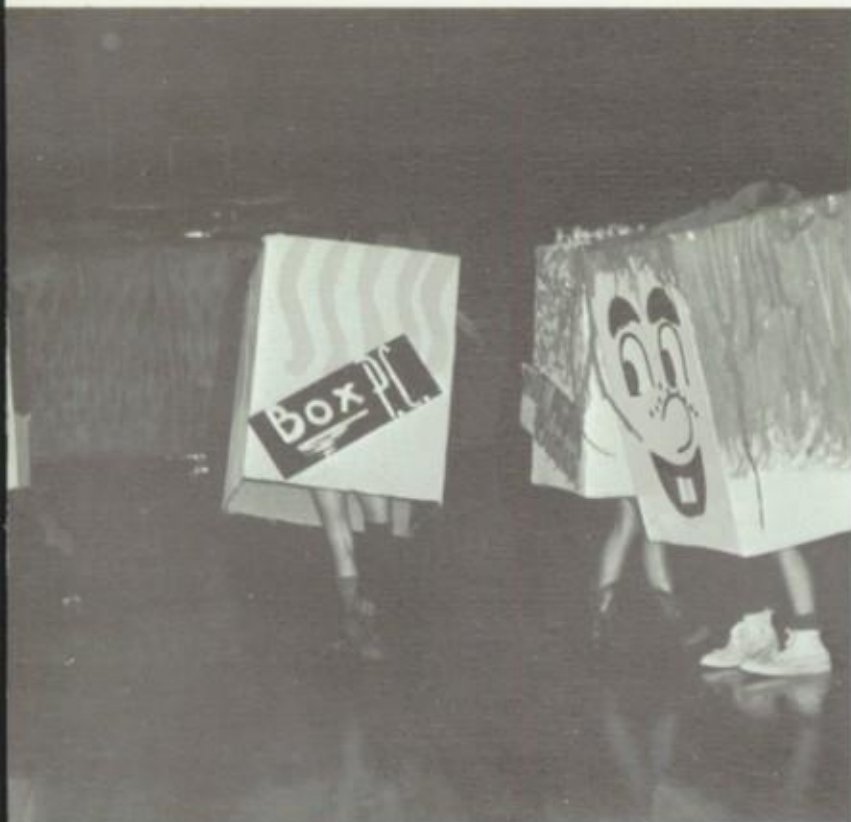

Never satisfied with the status quo, school groups continued to develop and grow. Cherished traditions were perpetuated; new precedents established.

For the first time in any City school, a tri-tournament was sponsored by the speech and debate departments. Some thirty-five Oklahoma and Texas schools sent more than nine hundred representatives to compete in Advanced, Novice, and Championship divisions of thirteen categories.

Other new events included an "idea forum" sponsored by the Flat Earth Society. Leaders from Northeast High School were invited to an open discussion about civic problems which included integration, open housing, and the merging of schools. Later, Society members participated in similar meetings at Northeast and Central High Schools.

Dance partners were chosen by computer for Courtesy Club's annual dance.

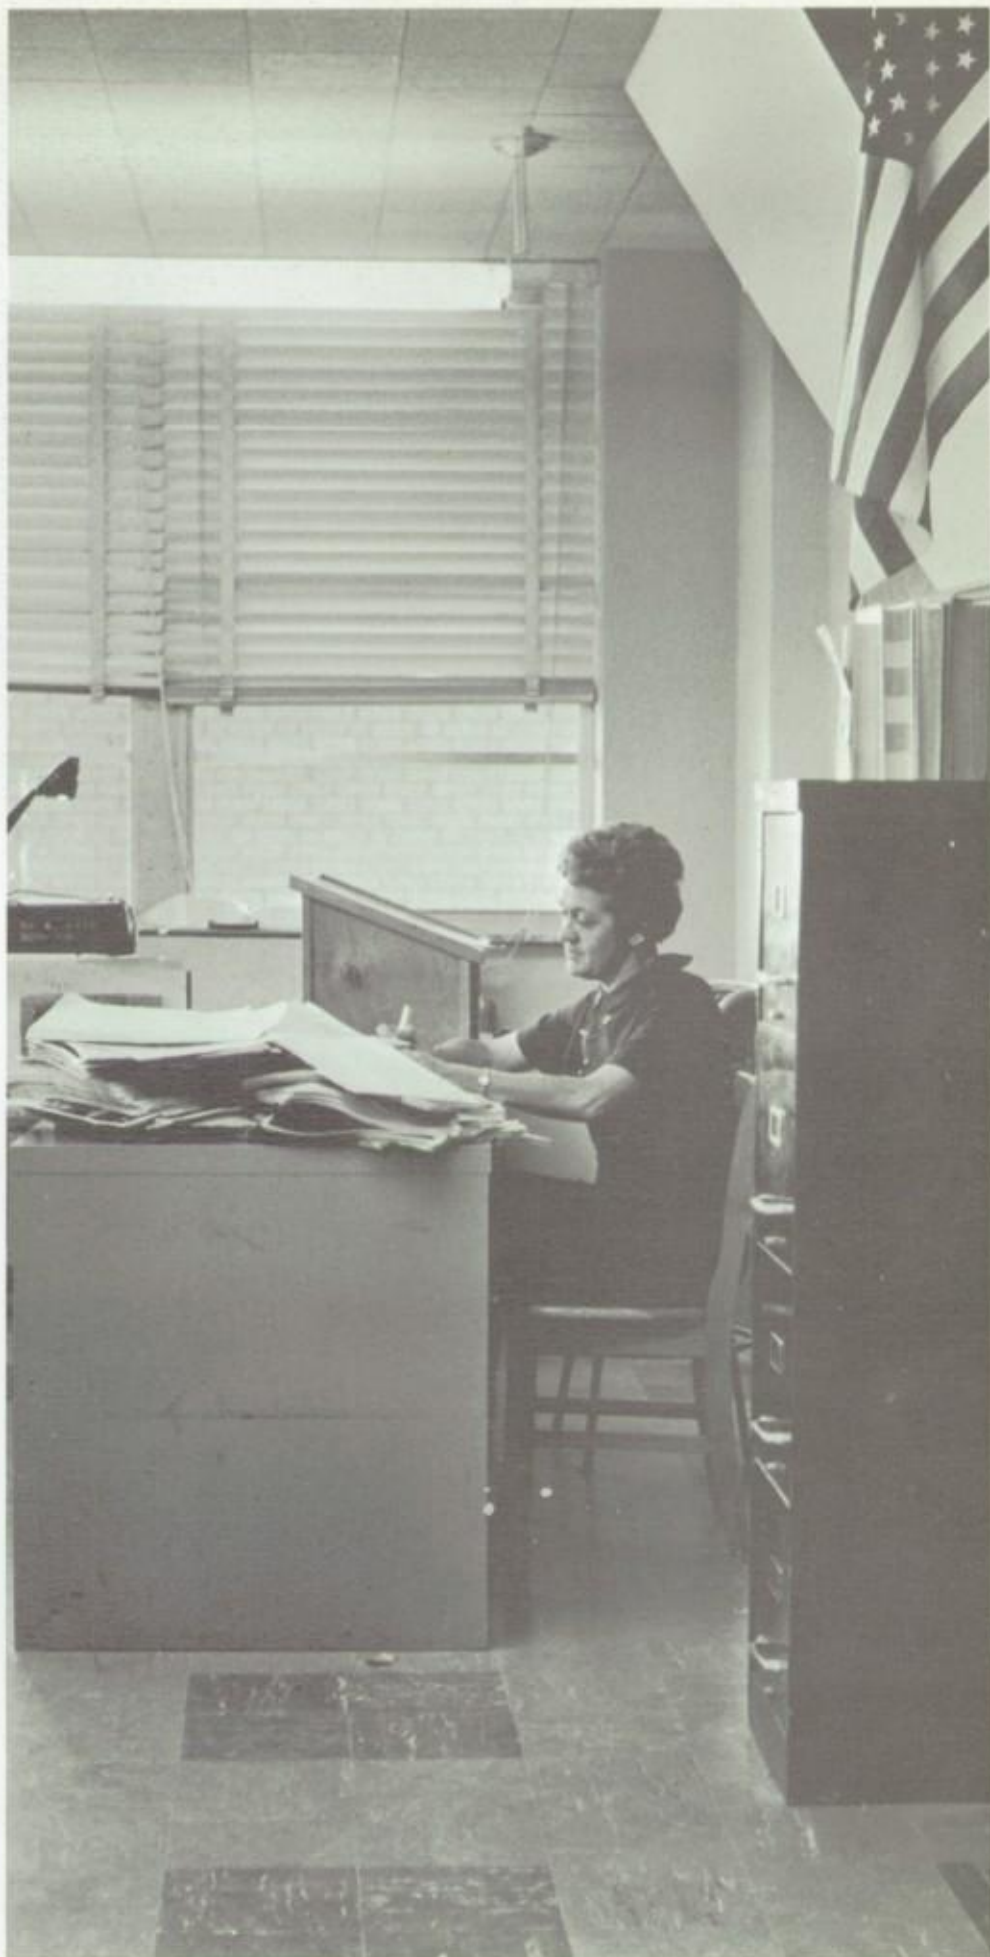

A crisis in education in Oklahoma prompted students to write editorials and letters supporting teachers in their efforts to persuade the legislature to increase appropriations for schools. Varied entertainment was featured in assemblies before first semester's final "dead week," in which all activities halted for the inevitable final exams.

VERSATILE majorettes don decorated cardboard boxes for their skit at the pep rally preceding the Putnam game.

"OH, so you're sore 'cause I loused up your evening?" John Morozuk and Doug Humphrey appear in a cutting from The Odd Couple, highlight of the Drama Assembly.

STACKS of research papers waiting to be checked before semester grades can be averaged confront Mrs. Yvonne Ball, Great Books teacher.

SENIOR boys waste no time in getting to the patio to snowball friends when the winter's first snow falls. Naturally, administrators halted the frivolity.

BOYS will be boys! A chain reaction of fun in the snow is a broken window. Mr. Charles Ledbetter, math teacher, observes the culprits.

Snow Turns Campus into Winter Wonderland

WEARY WORKERS agree their time was well spent as they complete decorations for the Valentine's Day Coronation of the Knight and Lady of Friendship.

Nautical Flavor Spices

"Students will now proceed at full flank ahead to the gymnasium for V-Day celebration."

Amused Central Sound audiences listened intently to the announcements introduced by Assistant Principal Harold Crain, retired Navy commander.

It took awhile for excitement to subside after the State Tournament in early March, but students soon settled down to daily routine and attention was directed toward spring Student Council and class elections, Dogpatch Week, the Prom, club picnics, spring sports, and end-of-school activities.

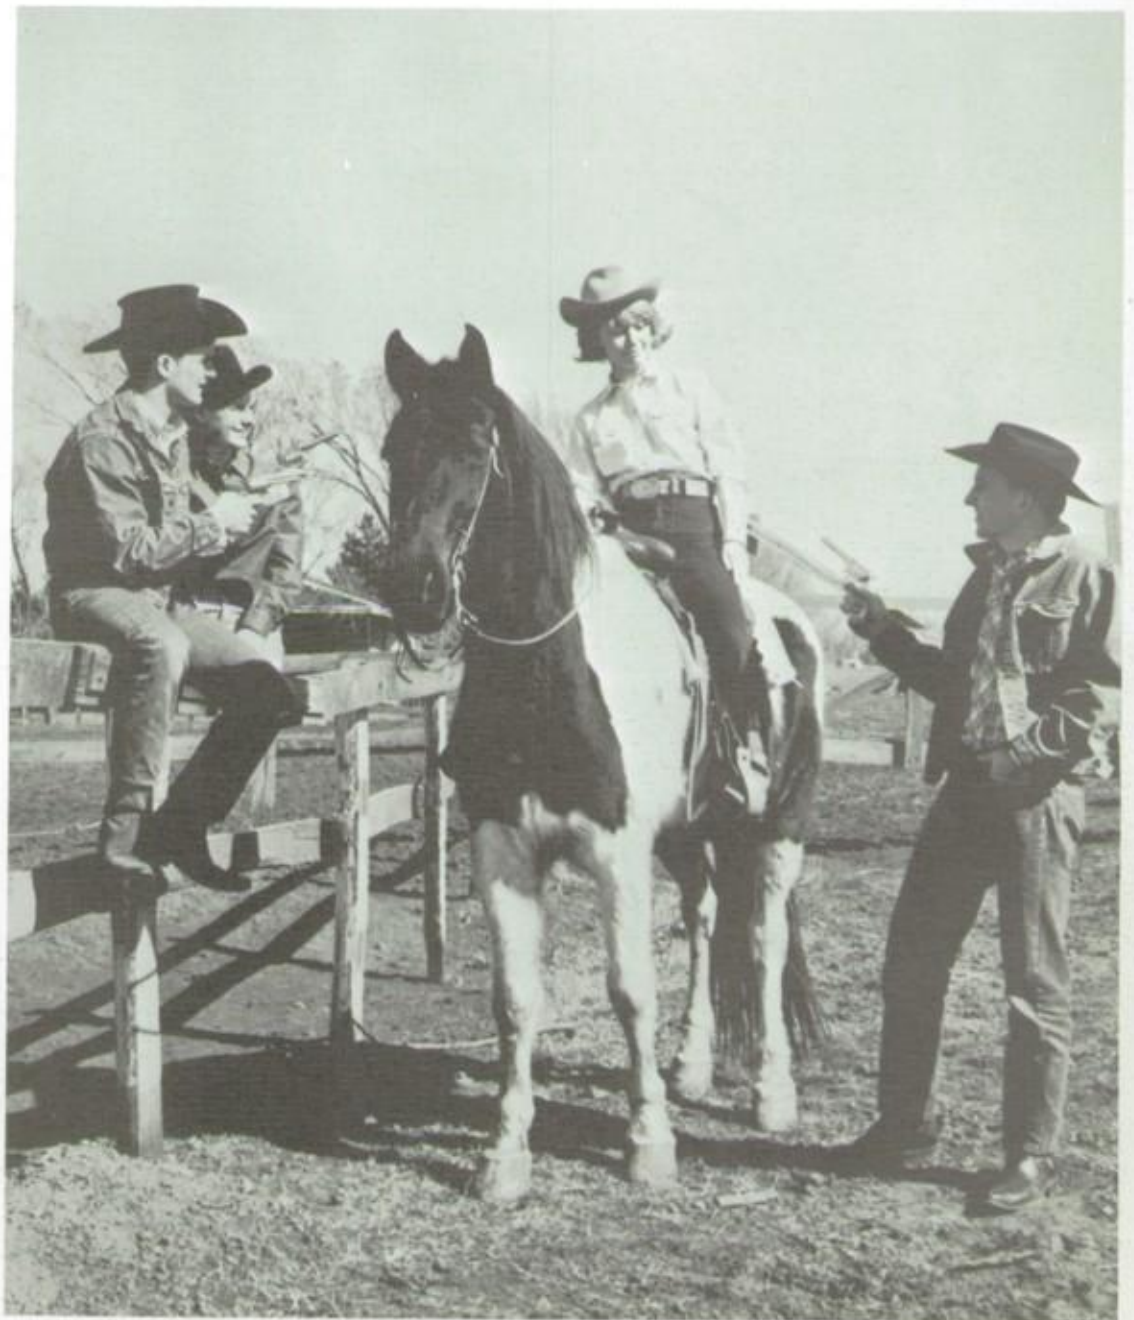

The famous light romantic comedy, "Harvey," March 16-17, was the final drama department production of the year.

Practically every spring day brought announcements advising a proud student body of new Knight achievements.

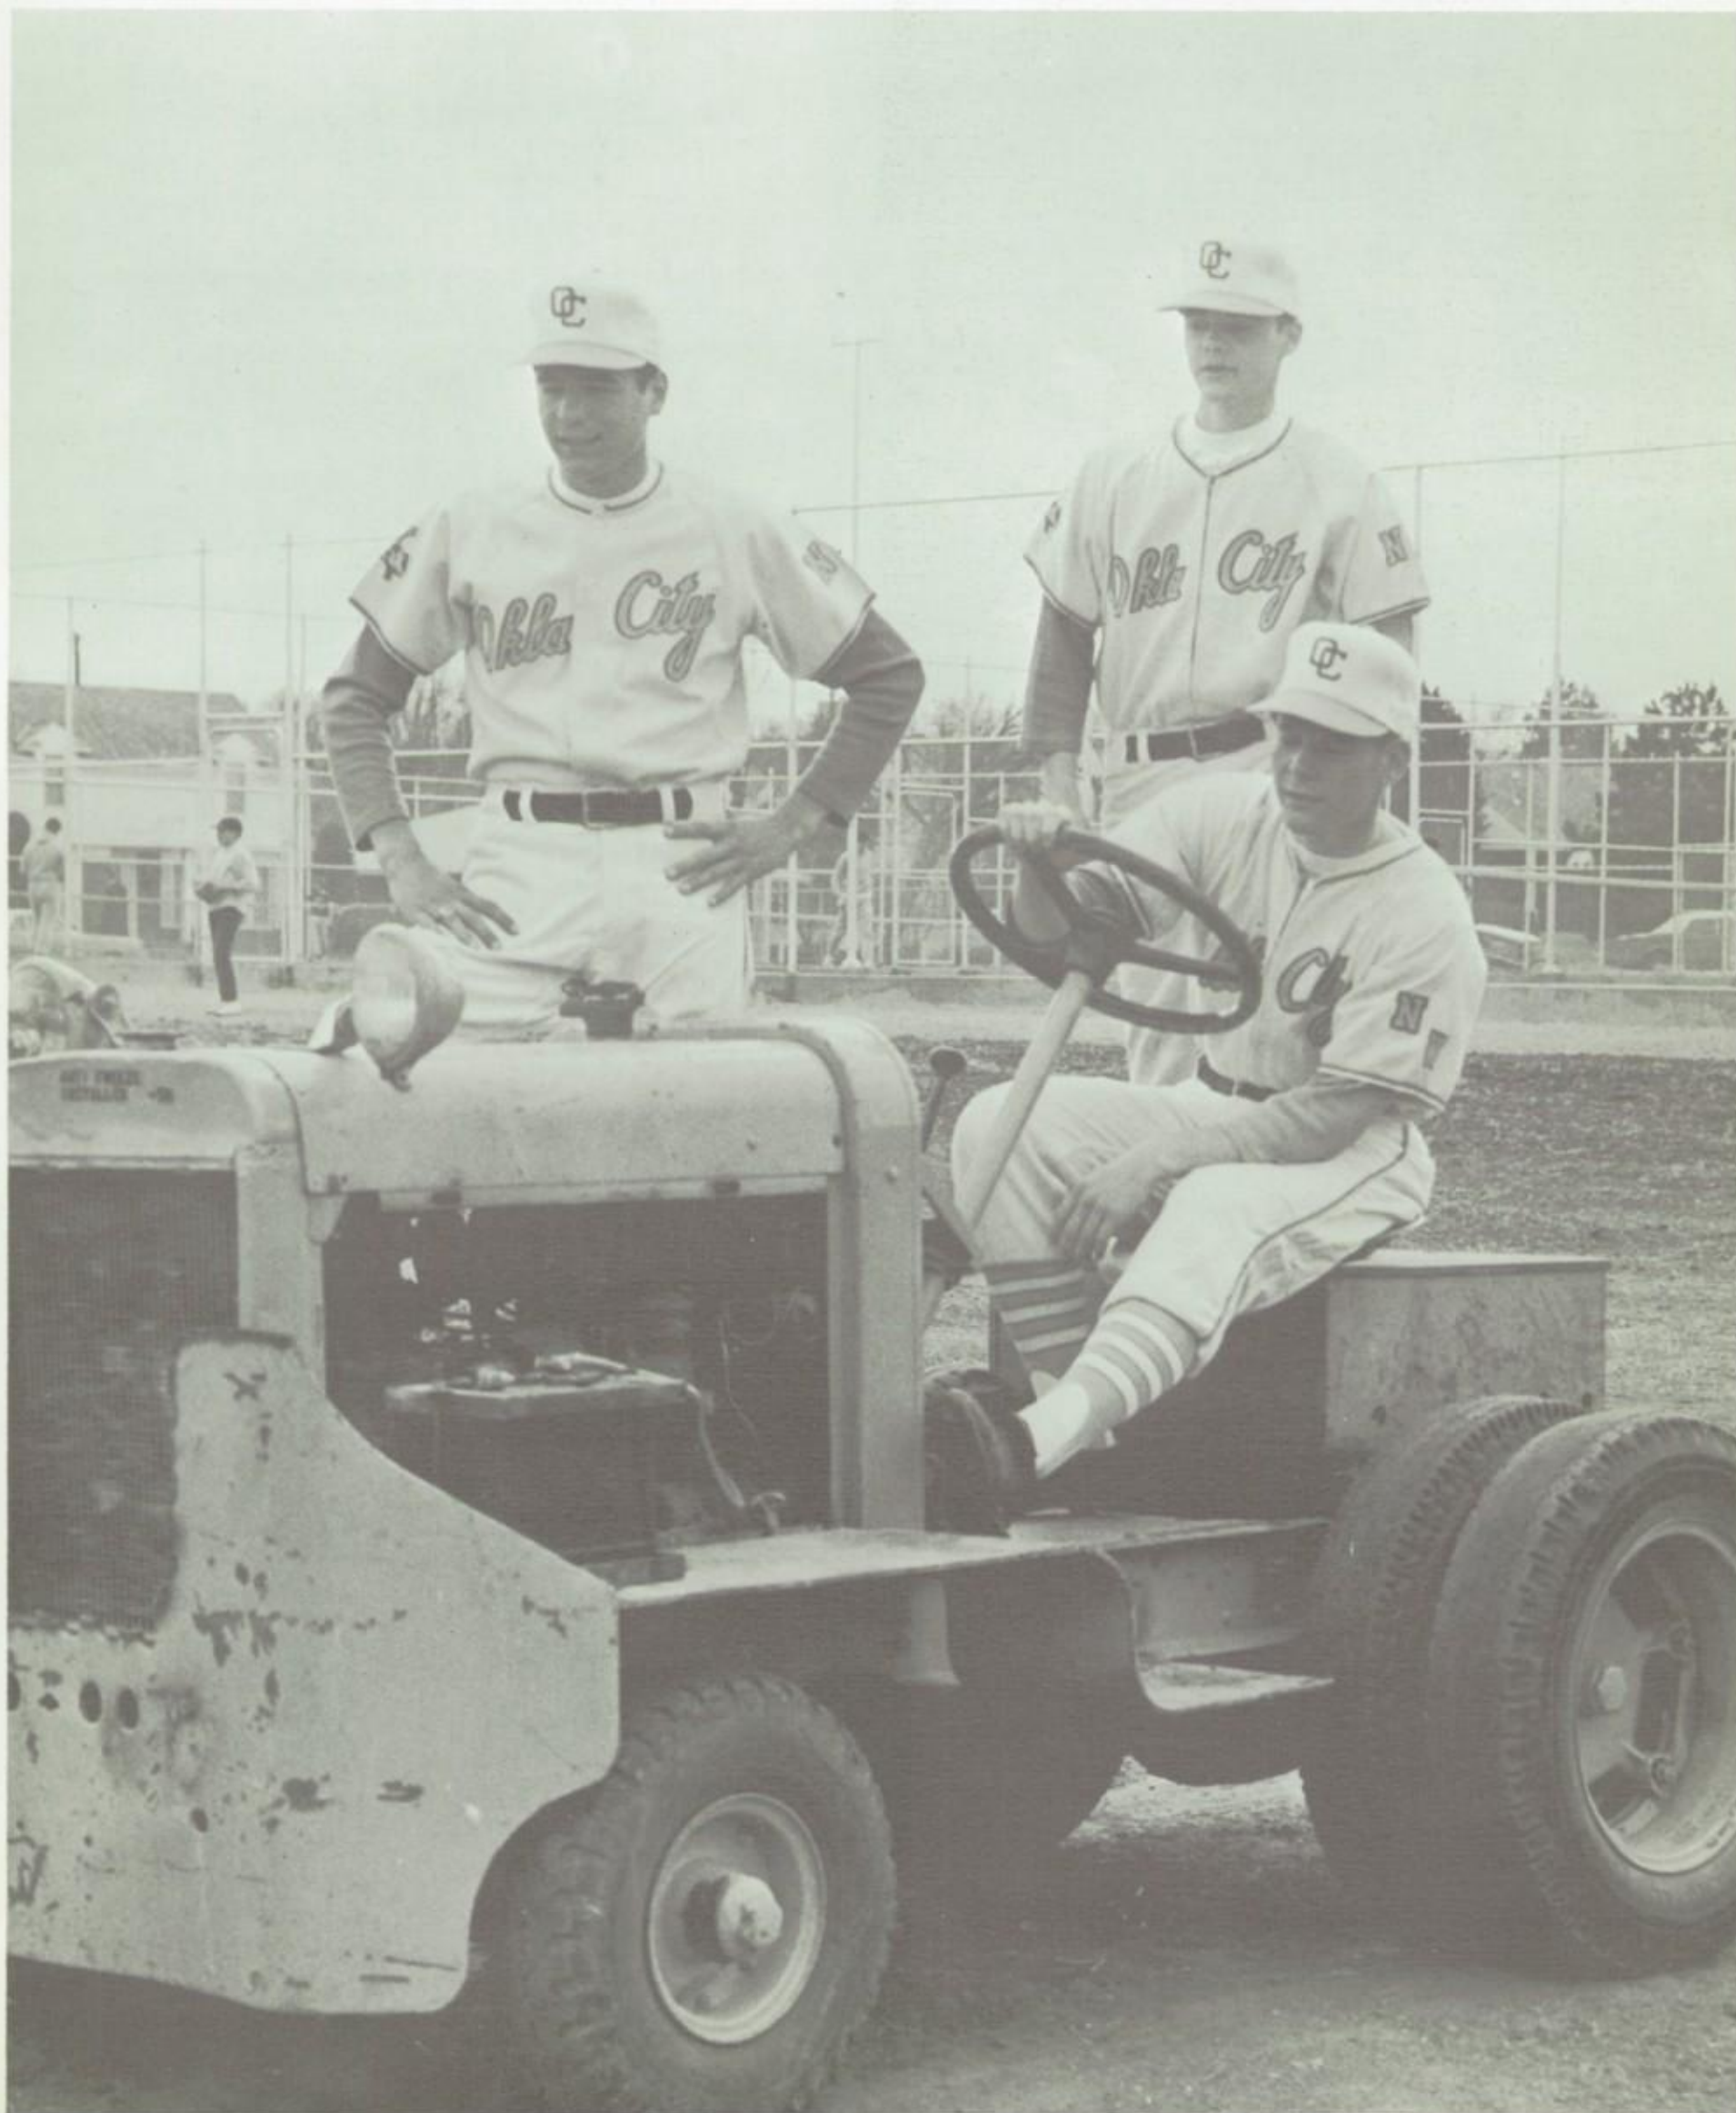

Top: "WE'RE Number-One!" is the cry of all Knights as the state basketball trophy is presented Coach Don Van Pool. Above: A JOB well done—Principal Jim Johnson accepts the championship trophy from the five starters. Right: IT'S Western Day, and all guns are trained on Susie Blanton. FRANK MCGREGOR
Knight of Round Table

Twenty seniors were nominated by the Round Table staff to compete for Round Table royalty November 8.

On the primary ballot in an all-school election candidates were narrowed to ten finalists.

An extensive campaign was culminated by a week's display of photographs and posters in the student show case by the library.

The runoff election, conducted by voting machines, took place December 8.

Administration

Leaders Link Schools With Community Life

Extended School Board meetings were required to resolve special problems which arose concerning the impending combination of four city schools. An unexpected deficit in the budget also necessitated extra sessions for Superintendent Bill Lillard and the School Board.

Statistics-wise, the city's school population soared to an all-time high. A record 76,000 students were enrolled in the 117 schools in the district. Certified teachers numbered 3,108; non-certified personnel, 1,096.

Total budget for the system was $304,800, an increase of $616,000 over last year's expenditures.

Symbolizing the ultimate in good citizenship as they devoted increasing amounts of time to considering the needs of the schools were an industrialist (Mr. Estes), a farm superintendent (Mr. Lott), banker (Mr. Rogers), housewife (Mrs. Welch), and consultant in psychology (Dr. Hill).

BANK PRESIDENT, Mr. Melvin Rogers, Ward II, opens the Spencer State Bank. He has served on the Board since 1963.

SUPERINTENDENT of Oklahoma State University's experimental farm is Mr. W. F. Lott, Board Member from Ward III. He was first elected eight years ago.

OPERATING a machine shop is one of Mr. Foster Estes' enterprises. He represents Ward II on the School Board.

A COLLECTION of tea cups from all over the world is a favorite hobby of Mrs. Warren Welch, Ward I. She decided not to seek reelection to the Board last November.

DR. VIRGIL T. HILL, School Board member-at-large, relaxes to stereo music in the comforts of his home.

PRINCIPAL Jim Johnson enlists the help of his entire family, Debbie, Pam, Mrs. Johnson, and the chihuahuas, for yard work.

DIVERSE reactions, during an interview, are registered by Principal Jim Johnson.

Key Staff Members Provide Special Services

Stressing that every facet of school life, curricular and extra-curricular, contributed significantly to "The Total Look," Principal Jim Johnson spared no effort in promoting a quality education program for Northwest.

A school-wide economy drive was initiated when he called on all school groups to curtail rising costs in activities. Dues and assessments were decreased.

Mr. Johnson expects to obtain his doctor's degree within a year. He completed his term as vice-president of the Oklahoma Secondary School Principals Association this year.

When former Assistant Principal Bob Gaut was named principal of Roosevelt Junior High, Mr. Harold Crain was selected for the administrator's position at Northwest. He was in charge of the school safety program, while Mr. Millican directed scheduling and supervised student teachers.

GUIDANCE SPECIALISTS offered individual counseling, kept complete student records, directed a comprehensive testing program, and supplied information to college-bound students.

Mr. Duane Weinert served as coordinator of the counselors and supervised IBM procedures. Mrs. Ola Mae Oakes worked closely with PTSA; Miss Berniece Wester, vocational information; Mr. Troy Milburn, educational information; Mr. Gerald Heusel, testing program; Mrs. Carolyn Wakely, home-bound study.

Faculty

Strong Organization Fosters Competence

Careful, comprehensive planning contributed in a large measure for "The Total Look" at Northwest.

Skills and efforts of the 138-member staff were main factors in setting high academic standards. Directed by three administrators, the staff consisted of six counselors, activities director, nurse, two librarians, vocational rehabilitation director, 108 classroom teachers and 16 secretaries. School personnel was completed by 24 cafeteria and 19 custodial workers.

To provide the best educational program for the 3,175 students, Northwest's enriched educational program offered 121 units of accredited work. Two new courses, Notehand and History of Art, were added, along with new equipment and other facilities.

Staff Members Hold Professional Offices

In keeping with the national trend in education, teachers at Northwest actively participated in professional organizations.

Mrs. Eve Williamson served as treasurer of the District OEA. Mrs. Yvonne Ball and Mrs. Lois Clark were members of the committee which revised the constitution for the City District of OEA.

Other teachers elected to offices in professional organizations were Mrs. Betty Allred, vice president of the state's Speech Teachers Association; Mrs. Mildred Pitts, secretary-treasurer of the Oklahoma City Vocational Teachers Association; Mrs. Clark, secretary of the Federation of the Council of Exceptional Child.

Representing Northwest's faculty at monthly meetings of District OEA was Mrs. Ramah Miller.

MR. CHARLES HALE: Auto Mechanics 1, 2; Faculty Advisory Committee.

MRS. DORIT HALL: German 2-4; Sophomore Sponsor, German Club, Honor Language.

MRS. MIRIAM HARPER: Algebra 1, 2, Geometry; Honor Math. MRS. CLOVIA HARRISON: Algebra 1, 2; Calendar and Activities. MR. Wide Interests Keep Faculty in 'the Know'

In addition to professional activities, teachers took time for travel, civic, and recreational projects.

Mrs. Mollie Mae Davidson served as District Governor of Pilot Club, a service organization composed of women leaders in the business and professional world. She presided over chapters in a five-state area.

Seven faculty members attended weekly meetings of the Oklahoma City Classroom Teachers Association. They were Mr. Richard Gaither, Miss Beth West, Mrs. Minerva Sloss, Mr. Charles Ledbetter, Mrs. Joyce Jones, Mrs. Mary Blevins, and Mr. Leonard Ogle.

Other teachers pursued hobbies and sports. Mr. Dennis Simpson spent spring vacation surfing on the Gulf with his Hi-Y boys.

PROOF that balancing Northwest's cafeteria budget is a big operation is the time spent by Manager Nettie Young.

Service Staff

Pleasant Atmosphere Creates Good Image

Pride in maintaining the building and grounds and in serving nourishing food has become traditional at Northwest.

"School keeping" required custodial crews working around the clock to keep Knightland clean and warm. Mechanical operations inside the building were ready for inspection at all times.

Cafeteria lines were a little longer because the former "staggered" lunch periods were reduced from seven to three to alleviate hall traffic and interruption of classes.

Since Northwest is the largest school plant in this area, organizational meetings and dinners were held here frequently by school groups. Although this necessitated extra work hours for the 19-member custodial and 25-member cafeteria staffs, they cooperated whole-heartedly in providing excellent service for the more than 3200 Northwest students and teachers.

AUTUMN LEAVES are pretty, but they must be cleared from the patio, Mr. Sam Teague, head custodian, tells Mr. Wayne O'Donald, Mr. Gerald Van Punneo, and Mr. Joe Garrison one afternoon the middle of November.

AN INTEREST in the old classics is stimulated by the new art history class taught by Miss Carol Porta (standing). Enjoying the reference material are Karen Goldman, Richard Cooper, and Mary Ann Bacon, fourth-year art students.

Art, Speech

New Trends Kindle Interest in the Arts

A wider range of activities and projects stimulated enthusiasm in the art and speech departments.

Because of the success of last year's children's theater, Northwest's drama department presented "Cinderella" to a capacity Saturday afternoon crowd. Just three weeks later drama classes presented a drastic contrast in theater, a modern adaptation of Antigone.

Stage crew members assembled creative settings for the year's three plays, special activities and assemblies.

Debaters pondered this year's question: Resolved: That Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures.

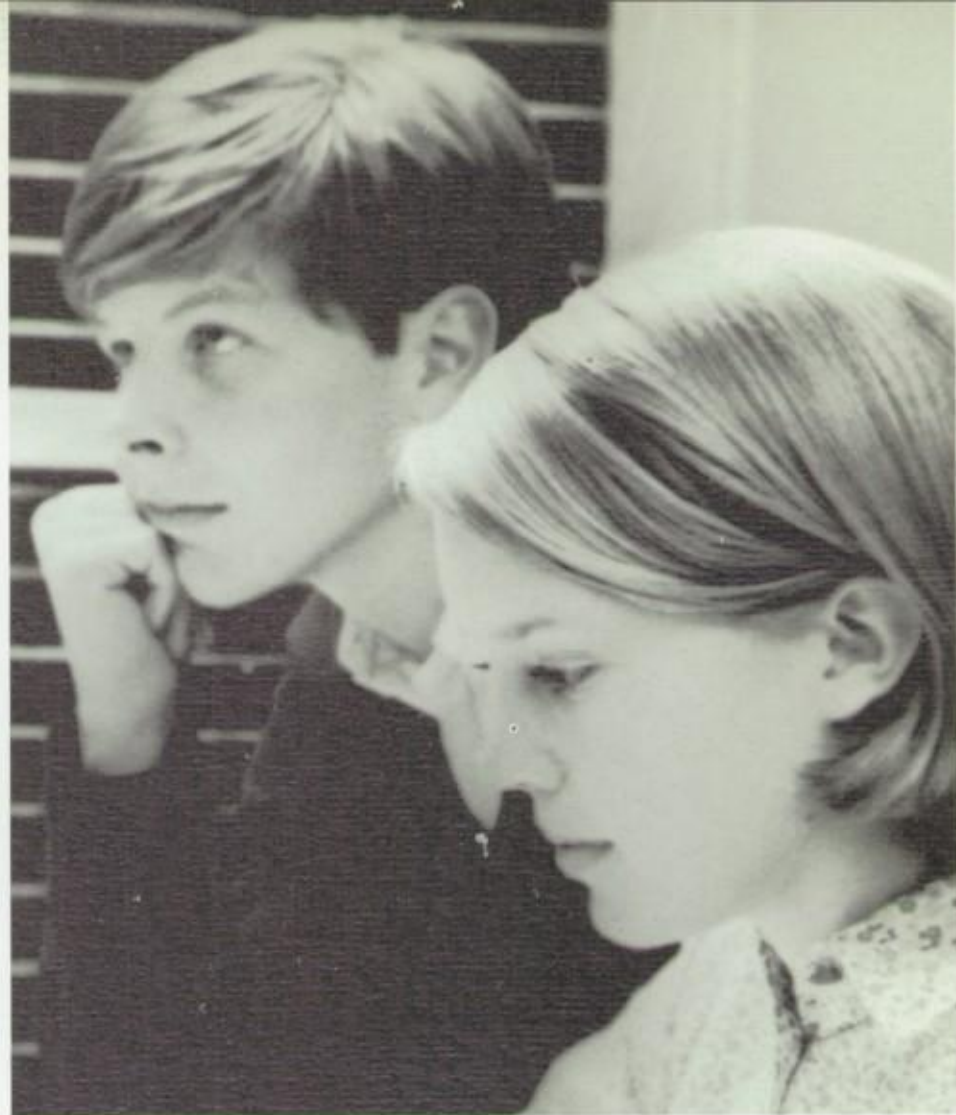

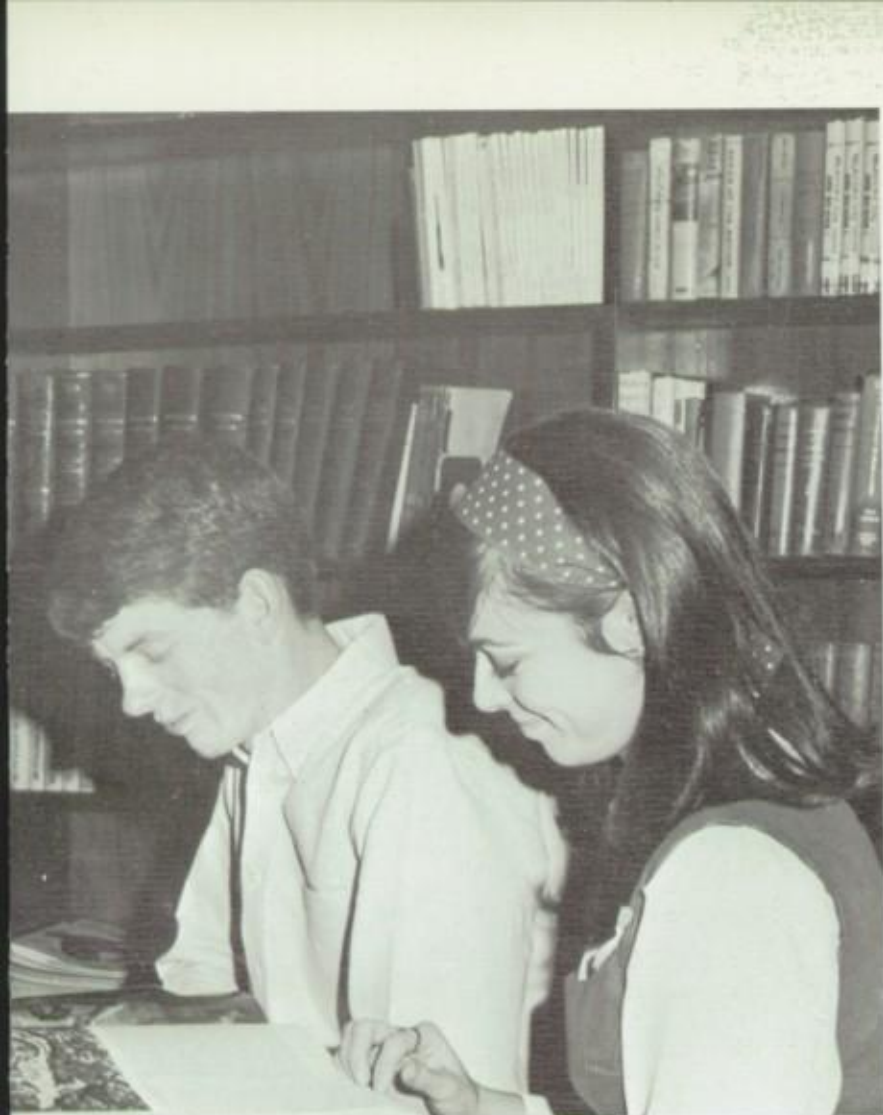

For the first time the speech department served as host to some five-hundred speakers at an invitational tournament September 16.

In a new art history class students were exposed to the old classics and masters. The commercial art classes developed styles for posters that decorated halls for all school functions.

Sculptors and painters displayed their work at the Science and Arts Foundation.

"WHAT DO YOU think of this side?" Elaine Wheeler asks Shelley Horton as they view some of their work on display at the Science and Arts Foundation.

Revitalized Program Offers Enrichment

English teachers constantly strove to encourage creative thinking in their classes. Much attention was given to the mechanics of writing and speaking to achieve skillful use of the language.

Following the prescribed freshman, sophomore and junior courses, seniors were free to choose the review of technical English, the self-expression of Creative Writing, or the world's culture in Great Books.

Humanities, an accelerated course for juniors, was designed to acquaint students with the great ideas that have come from the past.

Fourteen students' writings, which included poems, essays, and descriptive paragraphs, were published in the Oklahoma Anthology, a publication sponsored by the Oklahoma Council of Teachers of English.

Miss Charlotte Eaker represented the English department at the Oklahoma City Council.

Journalists attempted to record and portray the activities, achievements and personalities of the year; supply press releases; and achieve good public relations for the school. Staffers participated actively in the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Associations.

CREATIVE WRITING classes joined the campaign for school spirit by writing poems. The week's favorite is being displayed on their classroom bulletin board by Debi Saied and Charmin Hughes.

Novel Methods Used To Broaden Outlook

Constant changes in the political and economic struggles of the day, and the current trend in foreign travel make the social studies and language departments among the most active at Northwest.

Team and television classes in history challenged students and teachers alike in requiring expert listening and note taking.

Colorful activities lent interest to regular routine. Guest lecturers spoke to classes, and psychology and sociology classes participated in youth seminars.

The culture of the countries was stressed in language classes. In laboratories students had an opportunity to compare their own pronunciation with the taped voices of native speakers.

Before the Enid football game, Madame Marjorie Kozak's and Mr. Leonard Marcotte's French classes conducted game chants in the halls, while Frau Dorit Hall's German students made posters featuring folk heroes.

Plans were finalized for 14 German students and 12 French students to accompany Frau Hall and Mr. Marcotte to six-week language study institutes in Austria and France during the summer months.

New Courses Added To Update Programs

Concerned with the stronger demands of colleges for stepped-up programs on the secondary level, the 16-member mathematics faculty completed detailed courses of study for each level.

Elementary Functions was offered for the first time this year. Algebra III, which was introduced last year, proved successful and was continued this year.

Teachers in the department served as hosts for the state mathematics meetings during the OEA convention in October.

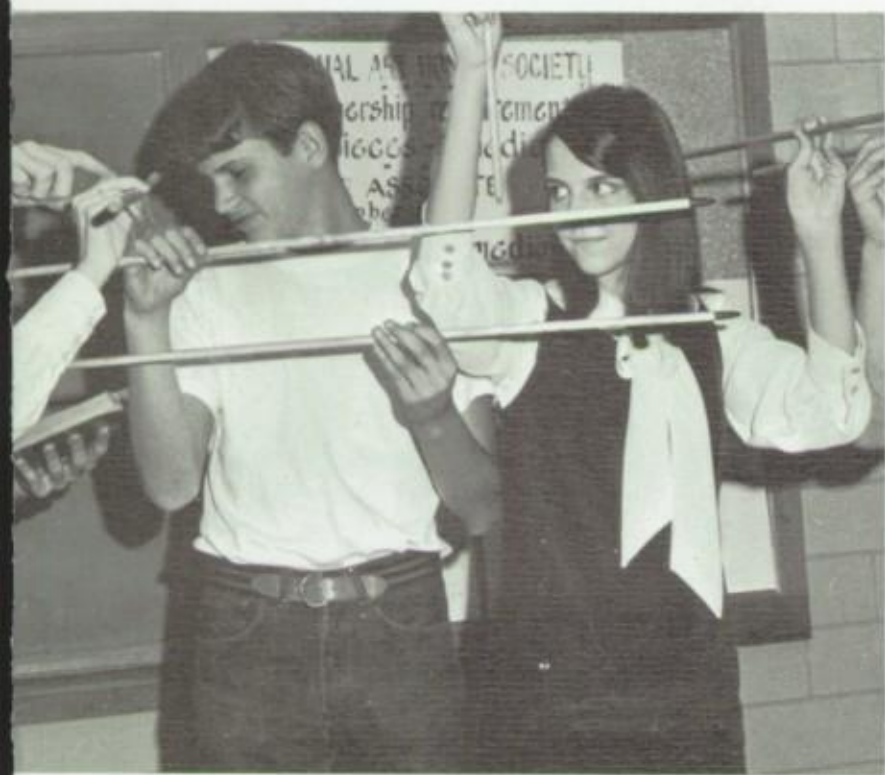

For the sixth consecutive year, the mathematics faculty boasted 100% membership in the Oklahoma City, State, and National Councils of Teachers of Mathematics.

Through urgent flames of bunsen burners, curious solutions, liquids and gases, science students sought to comprehend the mysteries of science. Courses offered in earth science, biology, chemistry, physics, electronics, and science seminar provided students opportunities to pry deeply into the questions of the universe.

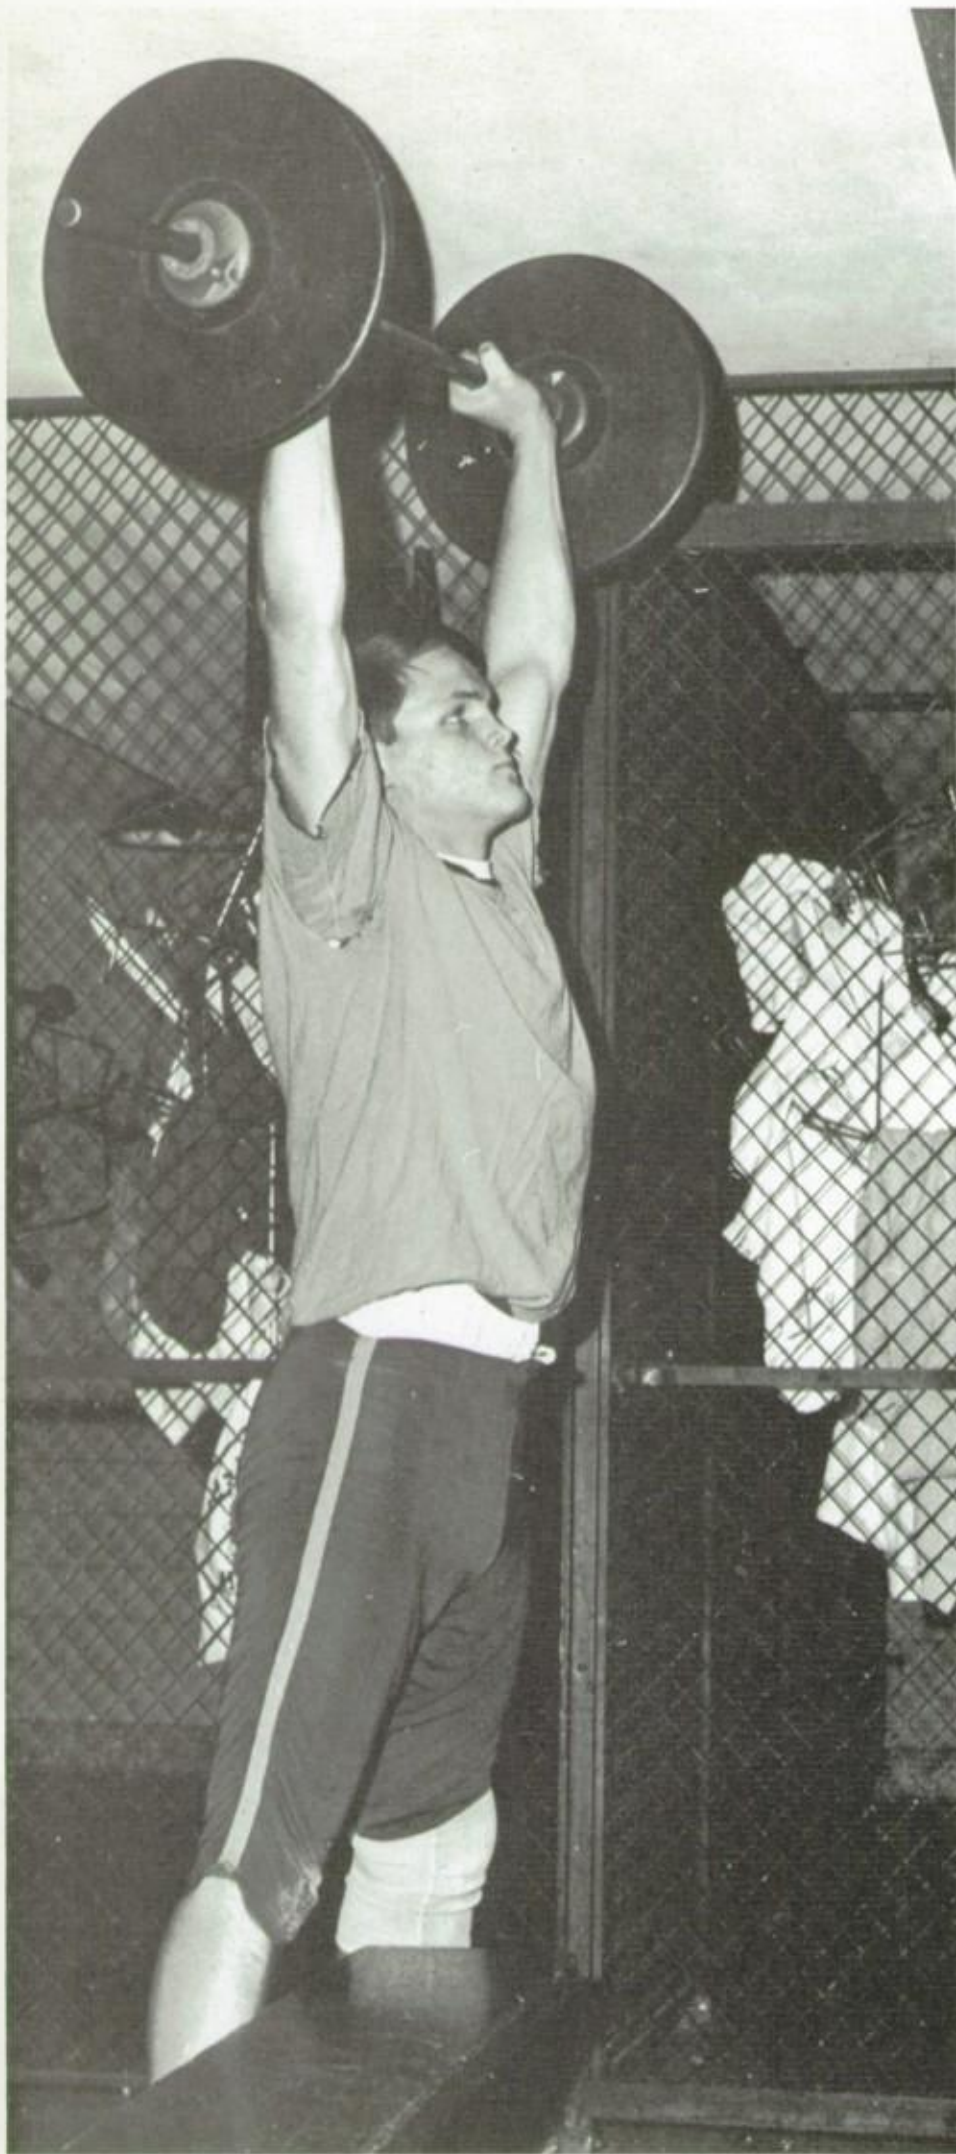

Science students took advantage of facilities outside school, often taking tours of local installations having scientific interest. The annual Science Fair stimulated out-of-class experimentation and research.

"THERE'S no double standard here," Linda Moore insists, as she and Tom Rueb repair her car in her Auto Mechanics class. Linda is the first girl at Northwest to enroll.

Phys. Ed, Industrial Arts

Talents, Skills Blend in Rewarding Classes

"We feel we meet the standards set by the National Physical Fitness Council with our program at Northwest for both boys and girls," said Physical Education instructor Ken Grissom.

As part of a city wide program supervised by the school system's physical education director, physical fitness tests were given in each class.

Participation in football, soccer, basketball, softball, calisthenics, weightlifting, tumbling and wrestling was provided for all students in physical education.

Students enrolled in Vocational Education and Industrial Arts courses had many opportunities to get "on the job training" in a program of mechanical drawing, woodwork, printing, photography, auto mechanics, and architectural drawing.

These courses demanded imagination in all perspectives, whether it was creating or building. This year a girl was enrolled for the first time in the Auto Mechanics class.

Twenty-two students attended trade classes for one half of every day at the new Vocational Technical Education Center. Seventeen Trade and Industrial Arts and four technical education subjects were offered at the school at 4901 S. Bryant.

PUZZLED by a problem, sophomore Charles Edwards consults his Architectural Drawing instructor, Mr. Fred Holloway, for a solution to the technicality.

"OOPS! I goofed again," moans Susie Powers, as she tries vainly to find her mistake on the calculating machine tape in her business education class.

"THIS means 'I flunked notehand'," Mrs. Wanda Loman tells her new notehand class the only one of its kind in the City schools.

A BARREL full of fun ... Lynne Gaines, senior, takes her turn supervising in the child care nursery where she directs one of the pupils.

Business, Education, Homemaking

Courses Are Marked for 'Immediate-Use'

All business education and homemaking subjects were, without exception, "immediate-use subjects" for both personal and vocational use.

The 1317 students enrolled in business education classes including the skill classes (shorthand, typewriting, filing, business-machine operation) developed skills preparatory for entry into the complex business world.

Added to the curriculum this year was notehand, which students put to use immediately to take more complete class notes and to write up information and lectures presented in classes.

Students earned while they learned and also received class credit for on-the-job training in the Co-operative Office Training Program.

Over 600 girls and seven boys were enrolled in homemaking courses this year.

Senior Beth McCully was the second girl in school history to rate among the top ten in the state in the Betty Crocker Homemaker contest. Pam Murphy won first in the nation for her design of a place setting in the Lennox china competition.

Serving as correspondent to Co-ed magazine for the department was Sharlin Stephens, who reported class projects, such as holiday decorations.

"MAKE SURE it's even," pleads Kathy Mackey as Helen Leuszler helps her finish her Easter suit in an advanced clothing class.

BEST PART of cooking classes, agree Pat Prickett, Beverly Miller, and Debbie Fullerton, is eating the goodies, like tasty blueberry muffins.

A STEADY HAND is required by Linda Arnold to practice successfully the beauty skills learned in cosmetology class.

Driver's Education, Cosmetology

Electronic Equipment Joins Teaching Staff

Technology finally broke the educational barrier at Northwest when the Drivocator System was installed in Drivers Education.

"This system," explained Instructor Leonard Ogle, "uses color motion pictures, filmstrips, and audio tapes intermittently to present classroom instructional programs to as many as 40 students at a time."

This computer-type teaching was used by more than 700 students this year who also kept three school cars in motion.

Students who completed the two-year, three hour a day cosmetology course were eligible to register with the state cosmetology board which authorizes examinations for licenses.

Mrs. Mildred Pitts, instructor, served on the Rules Committee which set the regulations for the State Vocational Cosmetology Contest at Western Heights High School April 15.

"HURRY UP! I have to go to class," says Lynda Sylvester as Pat Roach adds the final curls to her hairdo.

"I THINK I just ran into a tree," says junior Debbie Baker as she uses the new Drivocator System under the watchful eye of Instructor Leonard Ogle.

Busy Students Follow A Crowded Calendar

OPPORTUNITIES were afforded students in DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION to learn marketing, sales, and services, a combination providing preparation for the responsibilities of employment.

Under the direction of new sponsor, Mr. Bob Dunlap, members of the department presented an all-school style and talent show December 15 in which juniors and seniors modeled clothes from local shops.

Kathy Fain, senior, narrated the show which featured the theme "Night Before Christmas." The production was dedicated to Dolores Strickland, who died December 6 following an automobile accident. A junior member of DE, Dolores was scheduled to model in the show.

The annual February Employer-Employee banquet at Penn Square's Val Gene's was highlighted by the crowning of the DE queen.

Chris Meek, state DE vice president, served on the planning committees for National DECA Week.

Student Council

Solons Fight Apathy, Endorse Involvement

"Inform, interest, and involve—these key words in John Stacy's successful campaign platform for Student Council president were adopted by the Council for this year's motto.

"If students are thoroughly informed," said John, "they'll automatically be interested and involved."

To implement this new slogan, Student Council representatives were asked to play a larger role in student relations. Each representative was assigned to one of fourteen committees, which planned mixers, assemblies and intramural contests, conducted elections, made spirit posters, worked in the student store, on Cupid Express, and Echoes of the Knights.

Top on the agenda of Council business was the revision of the school Point System, whereby leaders in the forty-nine clubs and organizations at Northwest receive points for activities and are limited to certain numbers. This system provides more opportunity for widespread leadership and avoids the overloading of a few students. The Merit and Demerit system for Council members was also overhauled.

Eighteen delegates from area schools visited Northwest on Inter-City Student Council Visitation Day.

NW Unit Tops State Sixth Straight Year

For the sixth consecutive year, Northwest's PTSA unit claimed the state's largest membership, 3,249. Climaxing the drive, directed by Mrs. Leo Thompson, membership chairman, was a mixer for student members.

This year only one, instead of the usual two, Open House was held October 10. Parents followed students' schedules for a briefing on course work.

An estimated 500 people were involved in the planning of the Career Day Conference. Around 100 consultants presented two forty-minute sessions for interested students.

The January meeting featured guest panelists talking about "Revolt '68". Areas of discussion included lack of communication between teenagers and adult.

Because of the successful response to "Bedivere's Bid-ales" in 1967, it was decided to make it an annual event. The benefit festival in April was followed by a mixer in the school patio.

"DO you feel that rebel teenagers resent restrictions?" Many such questions are considered by Mrs. John Bayless, moderator, Mrs. Charline Burton, speech teacher, and Mark Nobles, student, on the weekly TV program, PTSA Pointers.

Groups Endorse Scholarship, Ideals, Imagination

REMNANTS of a summer in Mexico are shown to Betsy Alaupovic at an Honor Language Club meeting by senior Laura Townsend.

Top scholars and leaders were selected for one of Northwest's highest honors, membership in the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The top ten per cent of the senior class was initiated into the Society on October 14, and five per cent more were inducted during the middle of March. Included in this initiation ceremony were the top five per cent of the junior class.

Fourteen members of the National Honor Society were named semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

Requirement for initiation into the HONOR LANGUAGE CLUB was five semesters of B-plus average in any one language. Sixty-four linguistic scholars were inducted March 21 in the school Social Center.

Although neither one of these honor clubs is a service organization, they both established tutoring programs and Honor Language sponsored projects to help the American Field Service program.

Laura Townsend spent the summer with a family in Mexico as a representative of Junior Delegates.

Honor Societies Tap Top School Talent

Formerly Honor Math, MU ALPHA THETA fulfilled requirements for the International Honor Society in its second year of affiliation with the nation's other 900 chapters.

Although the national grade standard for admission is a B average, Northwest's chapter continued to require a 3.75 for entrance, a 3.5 to remain a member.

Initiation ceremonies were conducted for twenty new members in October; ten were inducted in March.

NATIONAL ART HONOR SOCIETY members were encouraged to explore new medias in art by visits to local art exhibits.

Applicants for membership in the club this year had to submit eight pieces of art work in three medias.

Thirty-eight members met on alternate Wednesdays to view and discuss their work.

Four art students; Dee Dee Staley, Pat Wadley, Carolyn Mitchell and Gloria Ramsey were featured on a Channel 13 TV special, "Art at Northwest."

"WHY don't you try some furniture polish?" asks Shelley Horton of Cindy Longley, Suzy Wheeler, and Elaine Wheeler, officers of Honor Art Society.

Quill and Scroll, Hi-Notes

Notable Scribes Earn High Press Positions

Long hours of writing, taking pictures, revising layouts, and writing headlines paid off when QUILL and SCROLL opened its doors to new members.

To be eligible for membership in the international honor society for high school journalists, a student must rank in the upper third of his class scholastically, must have done outstanding work on one of Northwest's publications, and be at least of junior standing.

Individual Quill and Scroll members achieved honors this year. Leon Meyers was elected state president of Future Journalists of America at the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association convention in October.

Leon served as parliamentarian of the City Press group (OCIPA), while Linda Tate was secretary. Linda and Anne Funderburk were stringers for the Oklahoma City Times; Debbie Frye supplied press releases to The Oklahoma Journal.

Members of SYMPHONY HI-NOTES, affiliated with the city organization for teenage music lovers, worked for the Symphony Subscription Drives and ushered at Symphony concerts.

Two Culture Groups Broaden, Enrich Outlook by

INTEREST and excellence in math pays off for '64 grad, Jack Scudder (seated), practice teacher in Math Analysis. Jim Thomas takes an expert's advice.

Topics ranging from the Pythagorean theorem to toponymy were covered in programs for MATH ANALYSIS CLUB members.

Since most club members were planning a career in engineering or a profession demanding a strong background in math, calculus and analytics were thoroughly explored.

Guest speakers from local industrial firms were invited to club meetings.

Applicants for club membership must have completed six semesters of mathematics with a B-plus average and submitted a favorable recommendation from a teacher in the department.

Small and large groups of GREAT BOOKS CLUB members could be spotted at most of the City's cultural activities. They attended the symphony, many of the local theatrical productions, and formed a theater party for the movie, "Camelot."

At least one social-cultural activity per month was scheduled.

Club sponsors, Mrs. Yvonne Ball and Mrs. Evelyn Williamson, were hostesses for the club's annual Christmas Open House for members and alumni. Nearly 300 registered for this year's event.

Classical League Practices 'Doing as Romans Do'

To encourage interest in the culture and language of Ancient Greece and Rome, the JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE sponsored a variety of activities.

Although Northwest did not send a delegation to the state JCL convention in the spring, senior Ed Warren served as vice president of the annual meeting.

Disagreeing with a decision to assess extra dues from all state chapters, Northwest's JCL members voted to withdraw from the state organization.

Boys in the club formed a football team and completed their season with a perfect record. They posted wins over Band boys and the Putnam City JCL.

Rounding out the year's activities, club members socialized at a fall picnic and annual Roman banquet.

Language Buffs Take Annual Mexican Trek

In its third year, the SPANISH CLUB, Hispano-Americano, launched several new projects.

A Spanish Fiesta was held at Christmas time at El Charitos. Following the dinner members went to the home of the president, Steve Smith, where they broke a pinata to find traditional Christmas candy.

To earn money for this event members sold caramel apples and held bake sales.

Kathy Taylor and Laura Townsend spent part of last summer in Mexico City on an exchange program. They were guests of Mexican families.

During the spring break, many of the members, accompanied by Mr. J. Culbert and Mrs. N. Doyle, traveled to Mexico. Combined with other City Spanish Club groups, they journeyed by bus, stopping along the way to visit the pyramids and attend a bullfight.

To add flavor to the meetings, scheduled alternate Friday afternoons, members were required to speak only Spanish.

Travel Opportunities Lure NW Linguists

German club meetings featured films and discussions by Frau Dorit Hall, sponsor, of her summer abroad and of plans for several club members to accompany her to Austria this coming summer for a language institute.

The group drove to Langston University to be guests of the GERMAN CLUB for a Christmas party. Mrs. Elizabeth Kendall, former Northwest German teacher now teaching at Langston, was their hostess.

In January, club members attended a showing of the famous German classic, Foxtrot, at the University of Oklahoma.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB members joined other city school DE groups for projects and programs throughout the year.

Chris Meek served as vice president of the state DECA club. He attended the national convention in Chicago where he was one of five speakers who told convention delegates about the activities and programs their City clubs featured during National DECA Club Week in November.

School technicians developed skill in specialties and increased their scientific knowledge in the Science, Radio, and Electronics clubs.

The ELECTRONICS CLUB, consisting of eleven members, met every other Monday afternoon for meetings and Tuesday night for laboratory experiments. Some of the boys participated in an extra theory class where they studied the code of electronics. They received their technician's license upon successful completion of the course.

RADIO CLUB acquired a new transmitter which doubled the power and value of the station, the only one of its kind in a city school. Interest was shown by radio hams around the city through their donation of microphones and station accessories.

To foster increased interest in the school and City Science Fair, the SCIENCE CLUB offered $100 to be divided among the students requesting aid to finance Fair projects. Members went on field trips, listened to guest speakers and pursued their interest in science.

Career Plans Inspire Active Participants

"Intense interest in the engineering section of Career Day prompted us to organize this club last year," explained Mr. Fred Holloway, sponsor of the ENGINEERING CLUB, now in its second year.

During the year, club members visited engineering laboratories on several college campuses. Local engineering firms which offer scholarship opportunities sent representatives to club meetings to explain their program and to discuss trends in engineering.

Mr. Holloway stressed that interested girls would be urged to participate next year.

Each of Northwest's 100 advisories was represented in the two monthly meetings of the HIGH SCHOOL RED CROSS.

With proceeds from the two doughnut sales held during the year, enrollment cards for all students were secured and a contribution was made to the International Children's Fund.

Competent Delegates Submit Reform Bills

Combining service with personal growth and recreation, TRI-HI-Y and HI-Y clubs, under the direction of the YMCA, furthered their Christian goals and understandings.

Forty-five members chartered a bus for the trip to the annual State Convention at Lake Murray in November. Hi-Y boys worked one week end in the spring in helping to ready Camp Classen, a YMCA boys' camp, for summer opening.

More bills were submitted by the school delegation to the Youth in Government Legislature than had ever been presented by Northwest before.

Joni Mythen's bill was accepted by the pre-legislative session in Stillwater in February. The bill proposed that drivers fifty-five years of age or more be required to take a driver's test every two years.

Following the initial session in Stillwater, the State Youth Legislature was held in April at the Capitol Building. Six school representatives attended.

During the spring break Sponsor Dennis Simpson took a group of Hi-Y boys to Galveston, Texas, where they took lessons in surfing from Mr. Simpson.

CONTRIBUTIONS from community families, such as that of Mrs. J. D. Clinch, helped Ronnie Vann and John Foust to fill Hi-Y's Christmas baskets to the needy.

Hair Stylists Master New Fashion Modes

Furthering skills in hair-dressing, styling and manicures are major goals of members of Northwest's newest club, VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America).

Forty-two students presently enrolled in the four-semester cosmetology course taught by Mrs. Mildred Pitts have received a charter for a Northwest chapter of the national organization.

Girls kept busy providing cosmetology services for faculty members, students, and patrons in the school community.

Beginning and advanced students worked on styles for a hair styling contest at Western Heights high school which was held January 22.

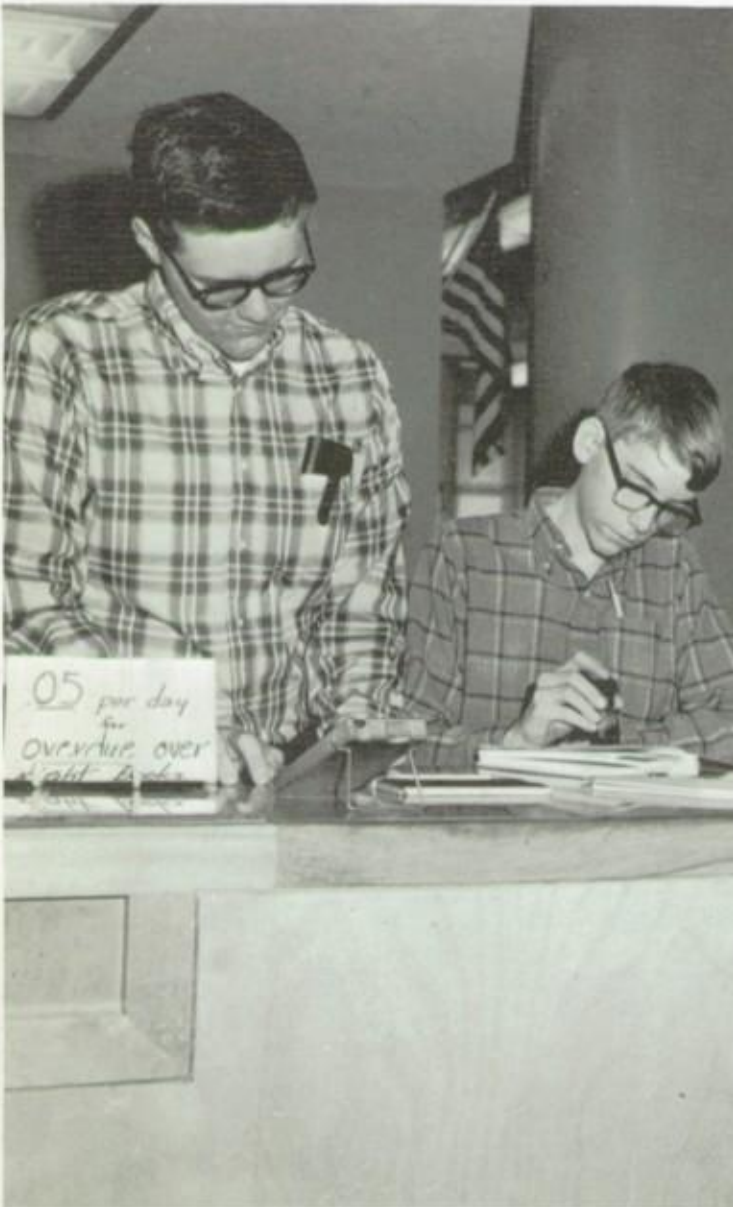

First year girls may feature any hair design they wish, but second year students are required to create "Spring Trend," the latest in hair fashion.

Judges will choose among these girls to find the four who will represent Northwest at the National VICA convention held June 23-26 in Oklahoma City.

New Clubs Promote Skills, Idea Forums

Two of Northwest's newest clubs to receive charters this year were FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA and FLAT EARTH SOCIETY.

FBLA fostered activities to further skills and offer worthwhile experiences for students planning a career in the business world. The school Cooperative Office Education class was an integral part of the club's program.

A Saturday bake sale and a Christmas breakfast were scheduled. Girls worked at the Business Opportunities booth during the State Fair.

"Absolutely the most interesting group in school to work with" was Sponsor Janie Creekmore's description of the FLAT EARTH SOCIETY. Devoted to open forum and civic interest, all members were declared "presidents," to fulfill their purpose of forming an egalitarian society.

Girls from advanced modern dance were added to the membership of GIRLS 'O' CLUB this year. They worked at Concession stands at basketball games and wrestling matches to finance their annual spring trip to Western Hills Lodge.

THE POISE and timing required in executing lifts are shown by Terri Manning and varsity wrestler Jim May, for a Girls' "O" Club demonstration.

Knightland Hostesses Are Gracious Group

FULFILLING their purpose of service to the school, COURTESY CLUB members served as hostesses for Freshman Orientation, PTSA Open House, Career Day, and OEA meetings.

Uniting again with Key Club, Courtesy Club worked on community projects and combined for social events. The two groups joined efforts on the United Appeal Drive and P.T.S.A. events. The clubs also entertained guests at the Courtesy Club-Key Club picnic.

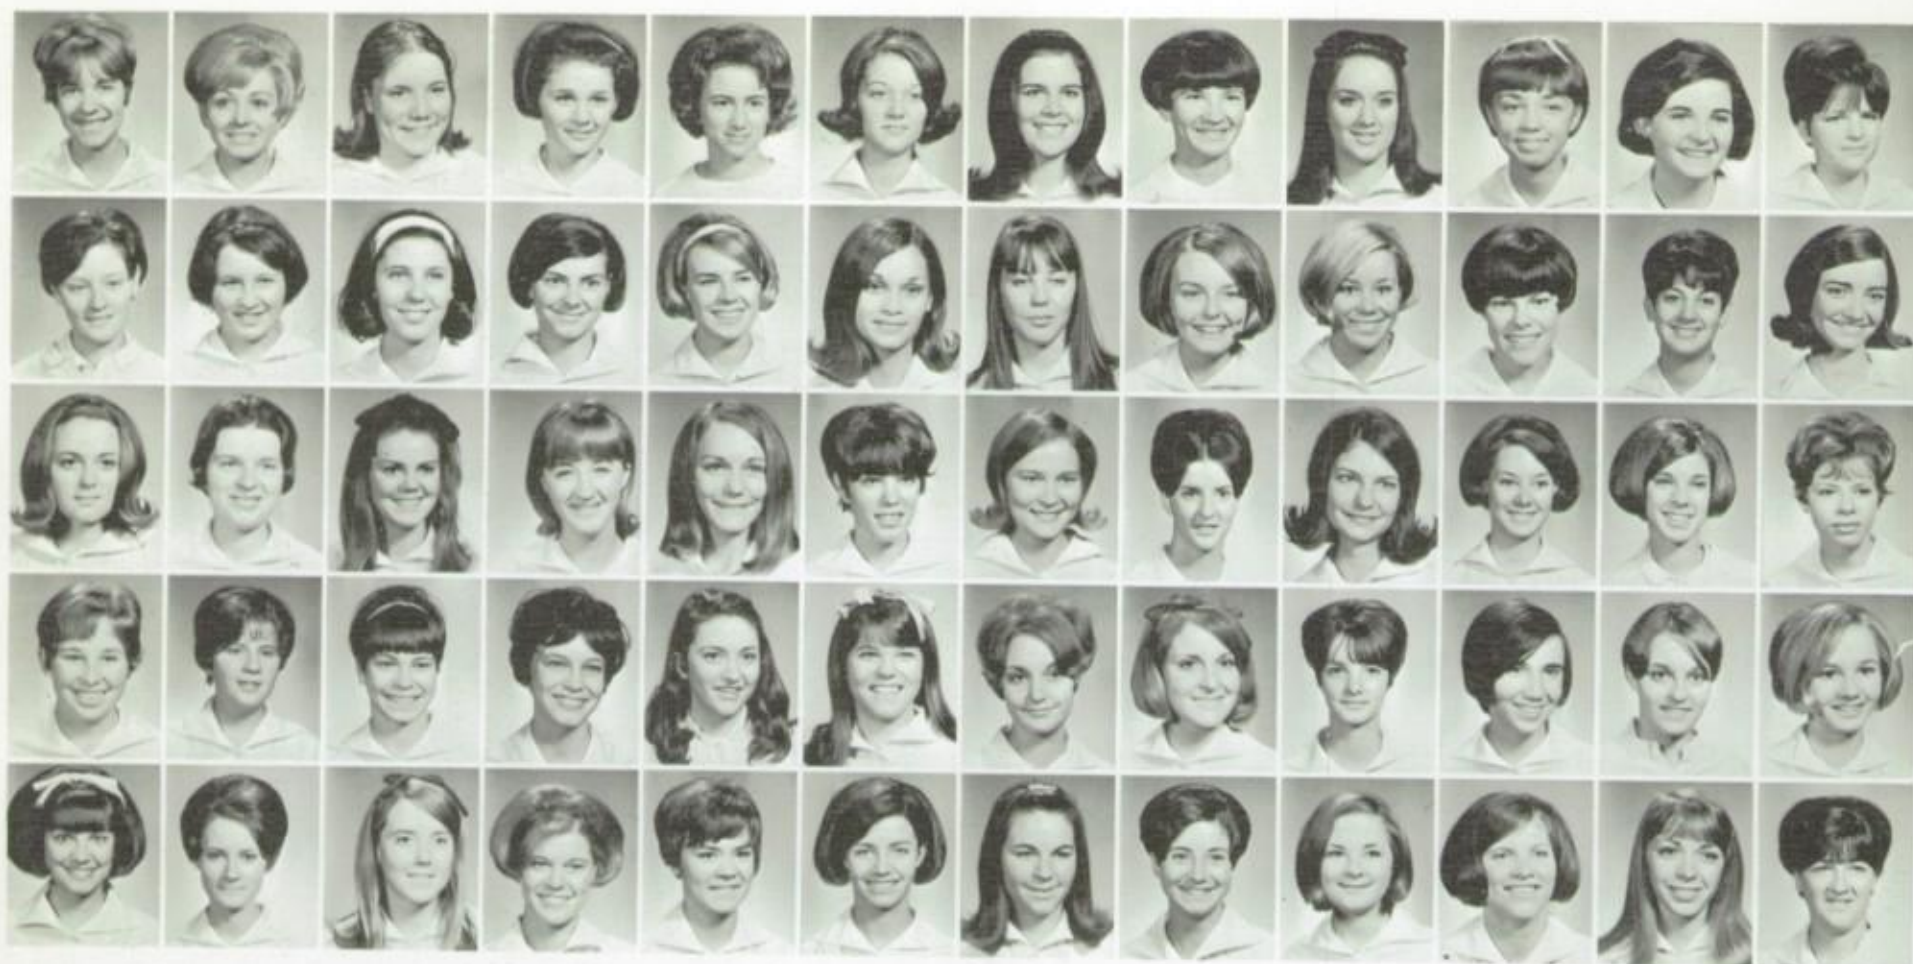

Courtesy Club girls ushered for the Blazer hockey games, rodeos, spring concerts, senior assembly, and other civic events in order to finance projects.

A style show, featuring club members as models, highlighted the traditional Mother and Daughter Tea in December. A Computer Dance, January 10, replaced the usual Masquerade Ball.

Supervising all activities were Mrs. Mollie Mae Davidson, head sponsor, Mrs. Lois Clark, Mrs. Jean Krows, Mrs. Marcia Smith, and Mrs. Nancy Bradshaw.

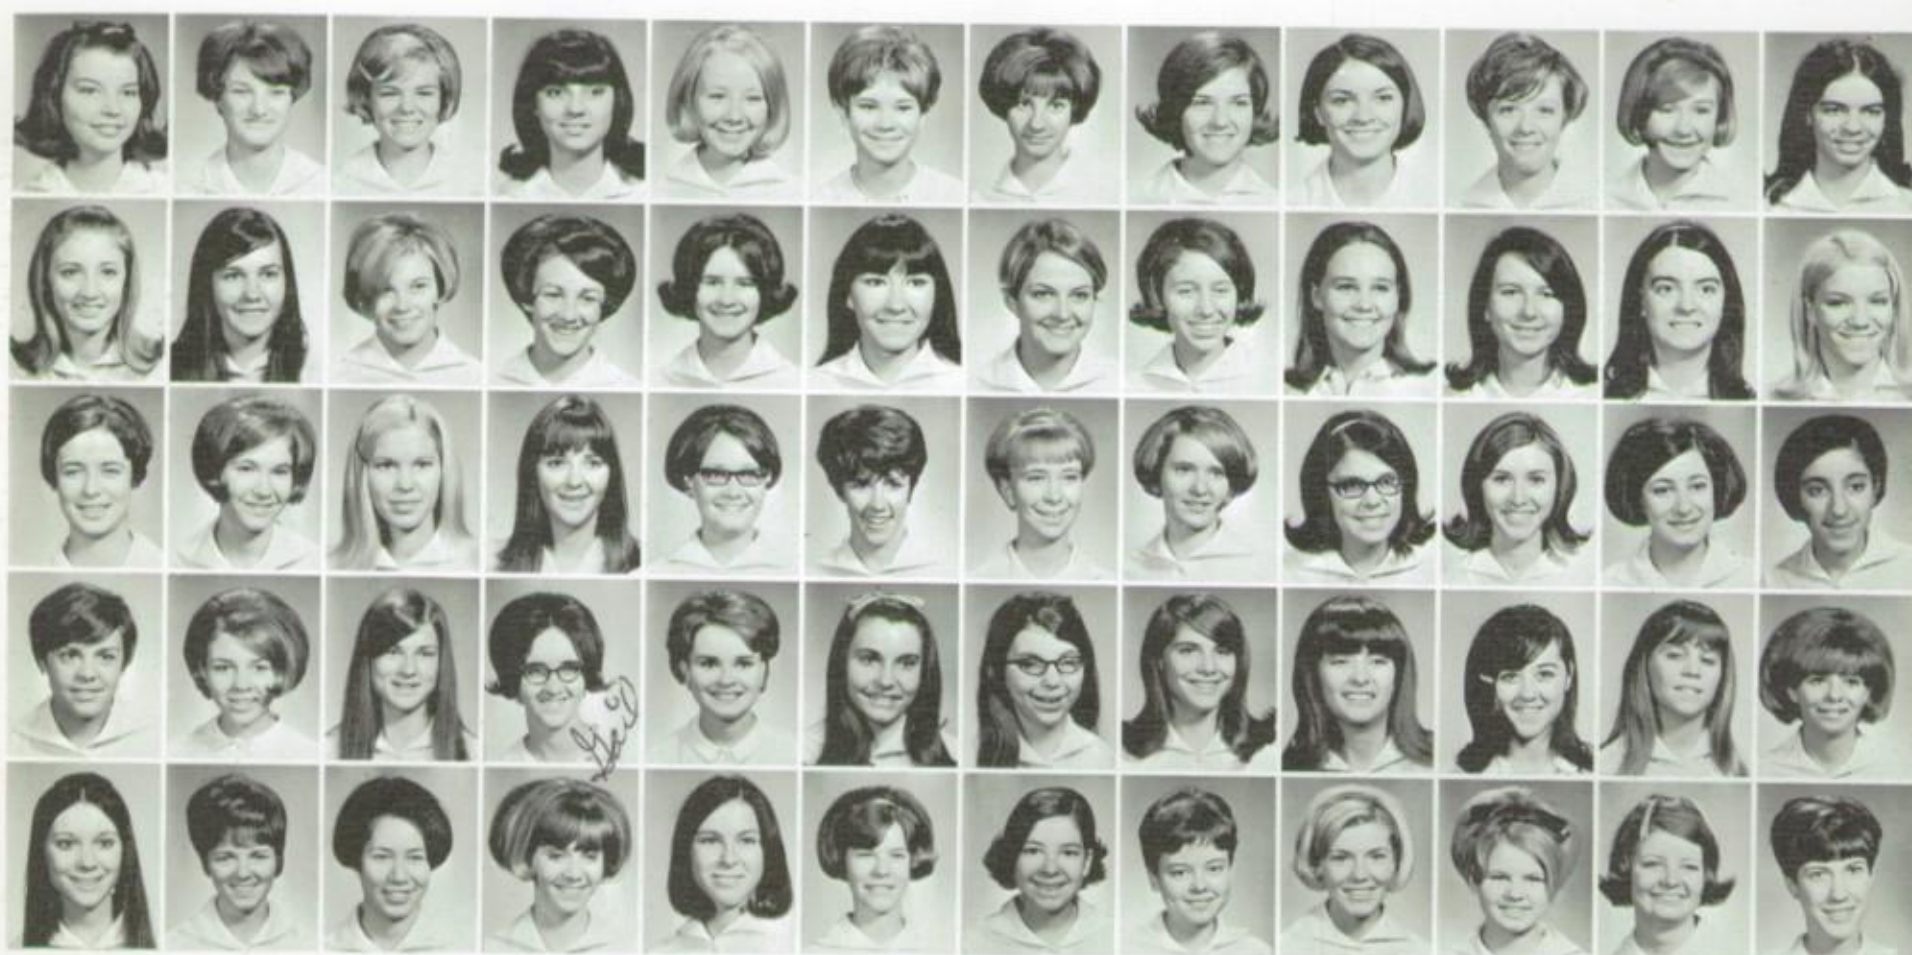

ALWAYS welcoming an excuse for a party are Courtesy Club officers, preparing to greet their new members. They are Karen Goldman, president; Cara Roblyer, treasurer; Fay Kennedy, vice president; Dalta Eads, secretary; Diane Thompson, asst. secretary; and Rosalyn Broadfoot, asst. treasurer.

"Oklahoma City should take note of this outstanding group (Cry-Slurs) and its director," said Ronald Shirley, coordinator of the Buccaneer Choral Festival in Corpus Christi, Texas, last spring.

This was just one of the rave notices received following a Cry-Slur appearance.

For a decade the elite chorus has dominated top honors in competition throughout the Southwest.

More than 105 hours of practice preceded the Pop Concert November 9. Snappy new uniforms added interest to the production.

In December vocalists appeared on three TV shows, climaxed by a 30-minute special featured on Channel 9 December 20. It was entitled "Cry-Slurs on Holiday."

All school choruses combined to present the annual school Christmas program.

An unprecedented honor was accorded Cry-Slurs when they were invited to sing in the Mormon Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, Utah, during a 10-day concert tour in June.

Mr. Bill Pitt served as business manager of the celebrated singers.

"THIS IS the worst part of the pancake supper," agree unlucky Cry-Slurs Susie Phillips and David Crumby, who draw KP duty following the annual benefit.

"YOU'RE FLAT! Raise the pitch!" Director John Platt, noted perfectionist, improves his choirs by stressing precision.

Catchy New Rhythms Appeal to Musicians

"A new look; a new sound." This was the slogan for this year's band.

Toe-tapping rhythms like "Georgy Girl" and "What Now, My Love" replaced the timeworn standards. Responsible for this revolution in the band and orchestra was Mr. John Pennington, new director.

For the first time Northwest was represented in regional marching contests and local parades. Bandsmen participated in the halftime show at OU's Band Day.

New white shaker marching hats were purchased in November to make possible more elaborate marching formations and to dress up the uniforms.

Even the annual Band and Orchestra Winter Concert featured something new. Two guest artists, both juniors, performed with school musicians. Ben Davis played a piano solo; Jim Amsdell followed along with the electric guitar, to the concert theme, "Dixieland."

Still another first—majorettes took first place in both Kilgore, Texas, and National Baton Twirling Association contests. The six girls competed with teams from throughout the Southwest in Kilgore.

Among the best kept secrets at Northwest this year were the plans for the Coronet Basketball Banquet. The 500 pep club girls resorted to all kinds of espionage to ensure that the theme and special entertainment were a surprise to the basketball boys.

A motif of "Round the World by Knight" spoofed Mike Todd's extravaganza, the movie, "Round the World in 80 Days." Old fashioned air balloons and baskets decorated with pictures of basketball players filled Val Gene's Top of the Mall banquet room.

Coach Don Van Pool presented his players with letters preceding the dance. The Jades provided music.

Linda Schell and Karen Goldman headed nine committees. Decorations were planned by Rosalyn Broadfoot, Kaye Tigert, Susan Burns, Dalta Eads, Laura Melton, and Lynn Self.

Among the fund raising projects for the banquet were candy sales, a garage sale, and a Saturday session where one hundred Coronets addressed envelopes for the Tuberculosis Association before Christmas.

Club sponsors were Mrs. Nellie Ecton (head sponsor), Mrs. Mollie Mae Davidson, Mrs. Linda Moore, Mrs. Charline Burton, and Mrs. Elizabeth Burdette.

Club Guests Ramble on 'Midnight Special'

Traveling via "The Midnight Special," Cygnets and their gridiron guests entered Val Gene's Top of the Mall at "Knight's Crossing" for their dinner dance.

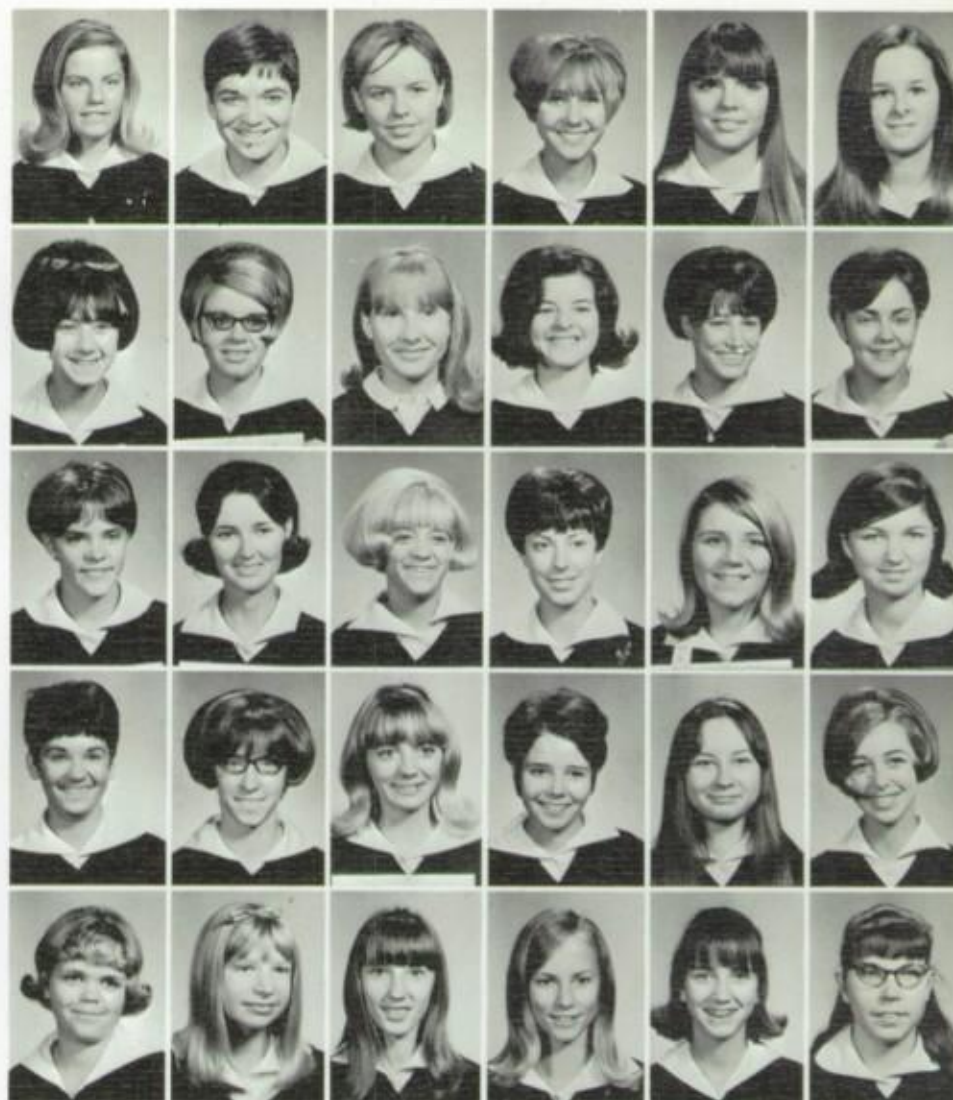

Special railroad tracks with appropriate signs were installed for the occasion. Miniature trains with caricatures of players and coaches on the windows were featured along the walls.

Programs, in the form of train tickets, contained original verses by Sue Basore, Glenda Collins and their program committee. Football games and players were satirized in rhyme.

The first week of school Cygnets honored their 165 new members with an ice cream social on the school patio.

In addition to supporting all Knight teams, Cygnets participated in service projects, ushered at the Fairgrounds Arena and the Civic Center Music Hall. They cooperated with other pep clubs in presenting pep assembly skits, and filled two buses for the trip to the Shawnee football game.

Sponsors were Mrs. Evelyn Williamson (head), Mrs. Yvonne Ball, Mrs. Alice Chesher, Mrs. Clovia Harrison, and Mrs. Helen Willingham.

Court Jesters

Girls Polish, Perfect Cheering Techniques

Court Jesters was organized by the cheerleaders to promote better understanding between pep clubs and cheerleaders. Through extended practice, girls gained a thorough understanding of the school yells.

They were schooled in techniques of crowd control, jumps, and personal grace by the seven cheerleaders who won first place for the eighth straight year at the August cheerleading clinic at OU and first place for the seventh year in a row in state competition.

This year the club was opened to all girls interested in promoting school spirit. Members made spirit signs and game tags.

Three girls and an alternate were chosen as cheerleaders every two months for each B and C squad team. Class representatives were picked from each of the four classes.

Each year the group presents a Spirit Award to the student who did the most during the year to promote sportsmanship and uphold school spirit.

HOW to teach new routines to Court Jesters every Monday afternoon in the girls' gym concerns officers Nancy Steph, Paula Collins, Suzi Quinn, Barbara Baber, (standing) Suzanne Martin, Chris Finefrock, Margaret Baxt.

Council Coordinates All Spirit Projects

Coordinating the efforts of the pep clubs in establishing and maintaining school spirit and good sportsmanship was the purpose of the Pep Council.

Membership consisted of voting delegates: pep club presidents, their head sponsors, and spirit chairman of Student Council; non-voting members: 'O' Club president, head cheerleader, head majorette, representatives from each sport, and a representative from each pep club.

After consideration, it was decided that Northwest fans and pep clubs should sit on the east instead of the west side of Taft Stadium at all home football games. Additional space was afforded by this change.

Pep Council committee members planned the seating arrangement at homecoming and worked out details for formations.

Responsibility for checking the format for pep rallies and assemblies was delegated to the Council. Following these events there was careful evaluation and recommendations for changes by members.

New cheerleading uniforms and proposed cheers were screened and approved by the council.

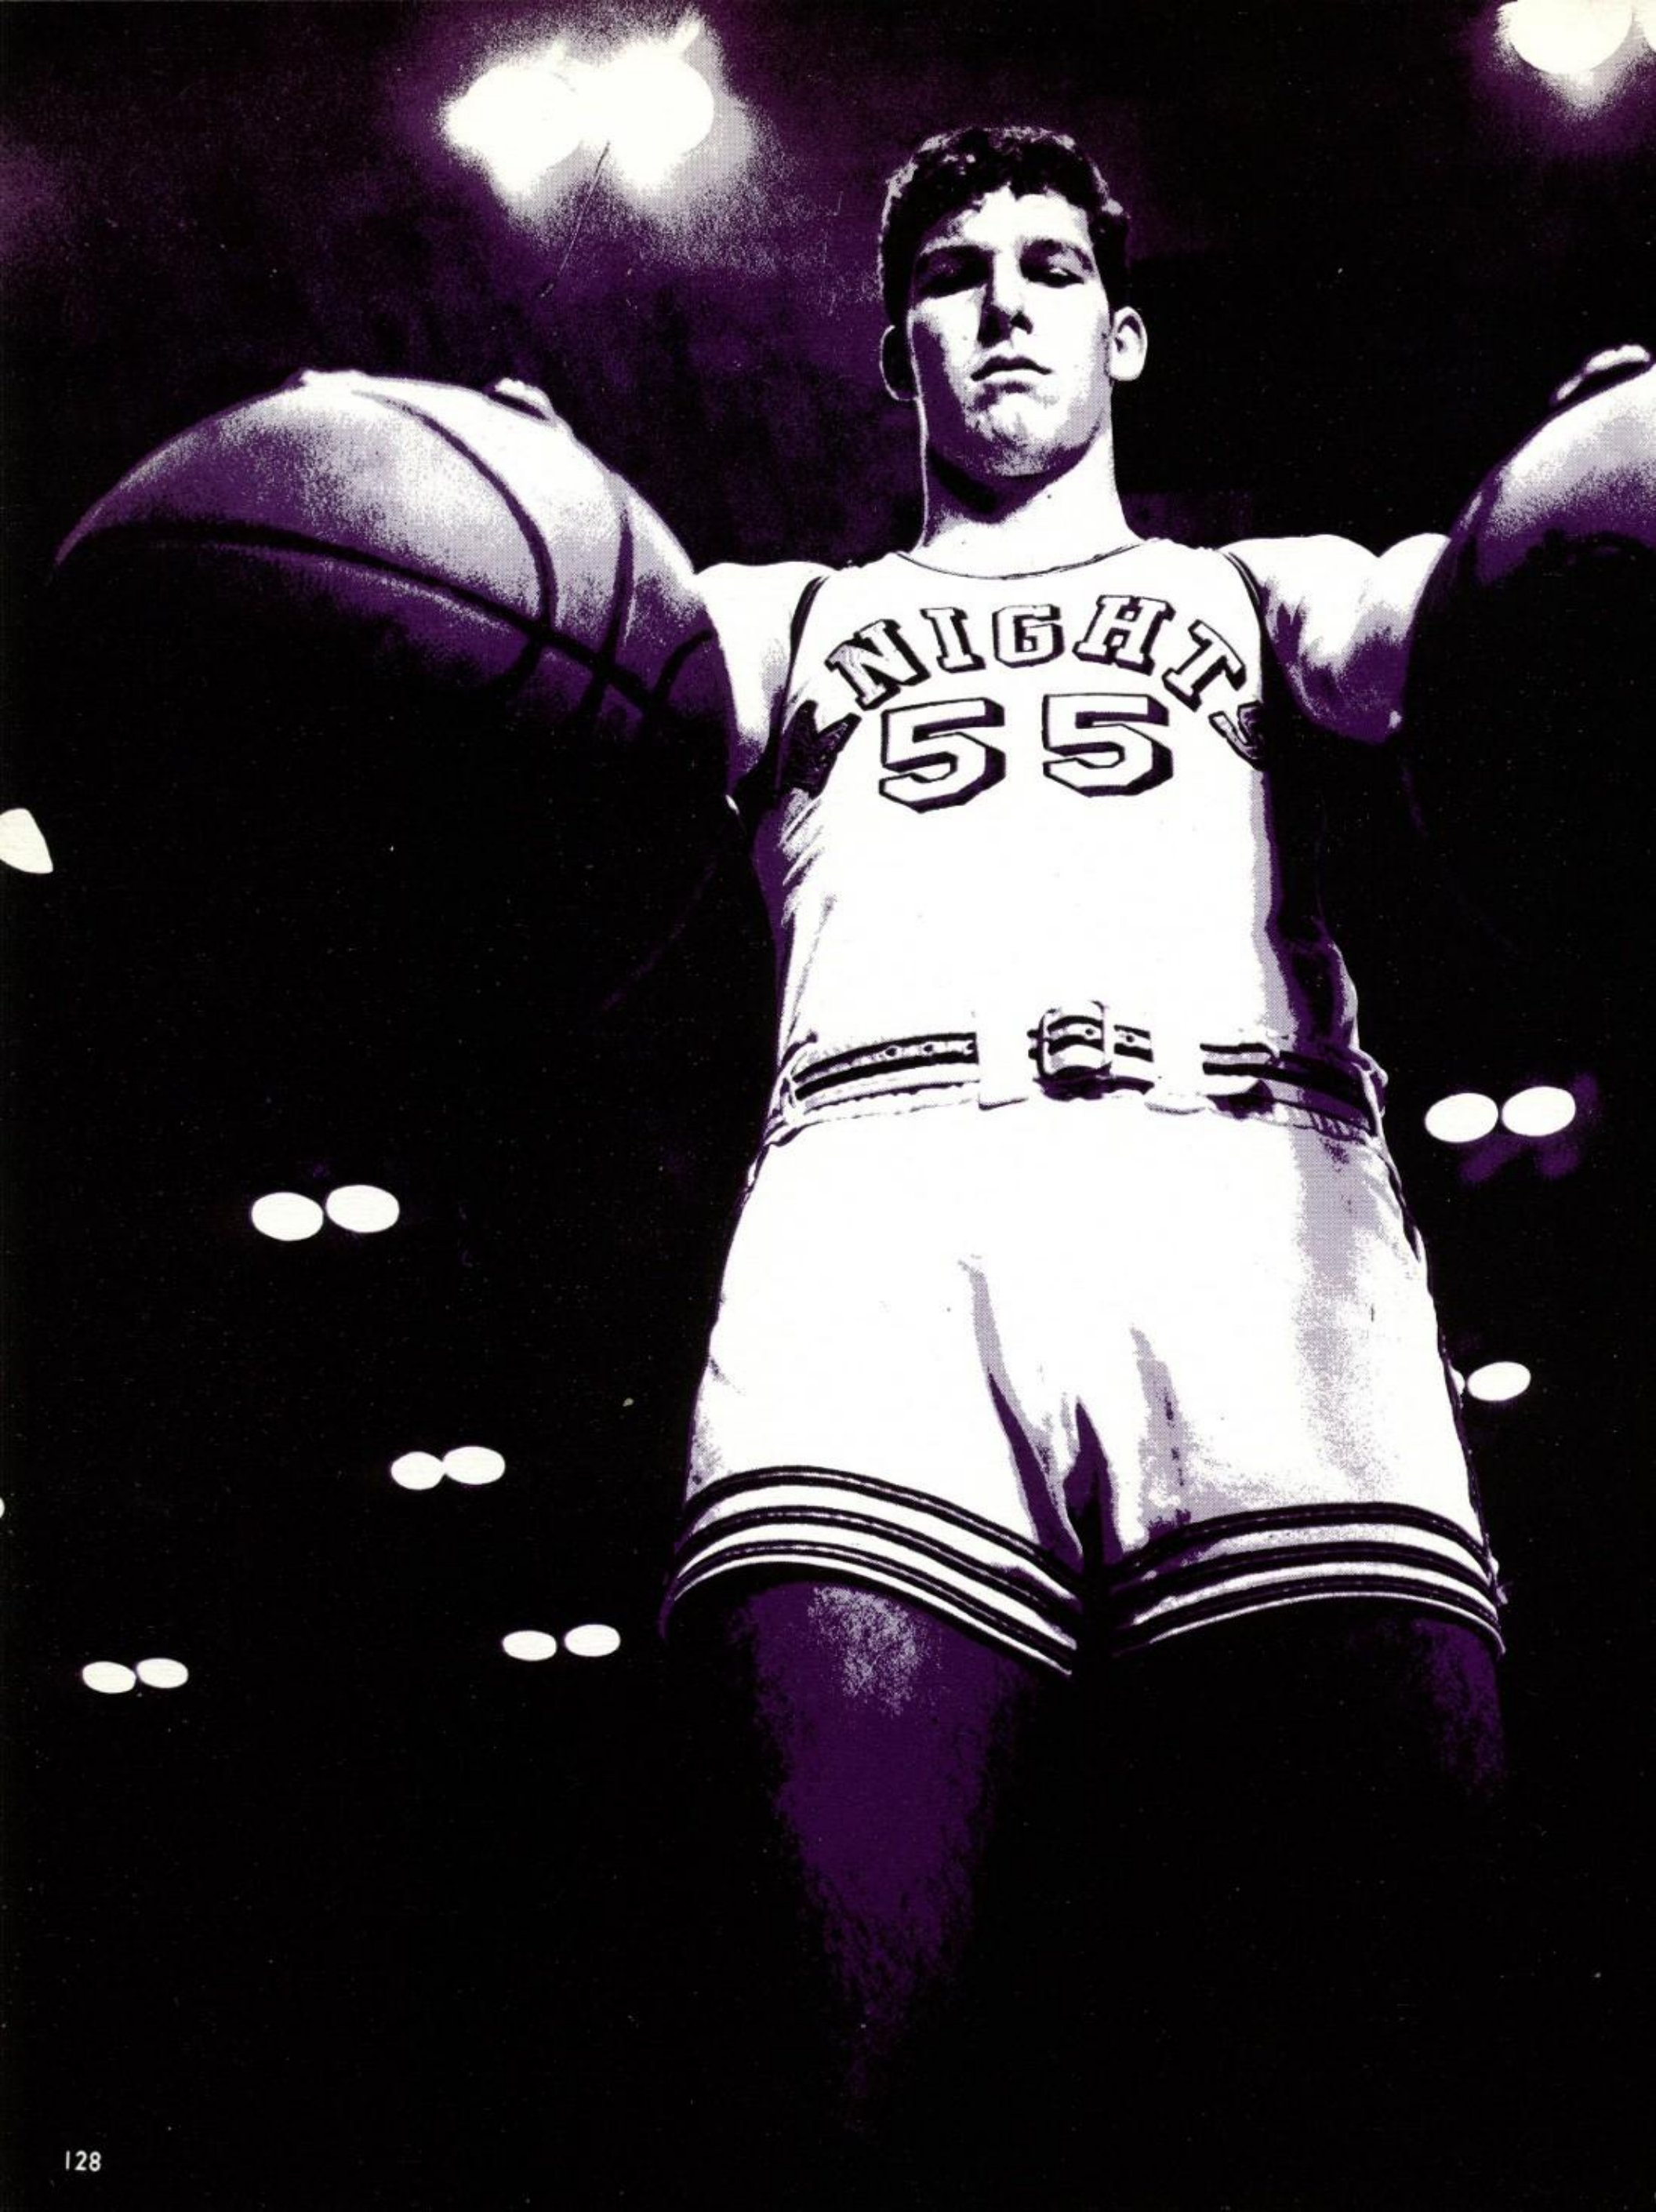

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE members Kay Tigert and Katie Sheehan, representing Pep Council's Executive Board, check the activities calendar regularly in the Student Activities office before posting the date of an upcoming pep rally.

'Year of Happenings'

A banner year for "O" Clubbers was marked by a record number of activities and projects sponsored by members, boys who lettered in at least one sport.

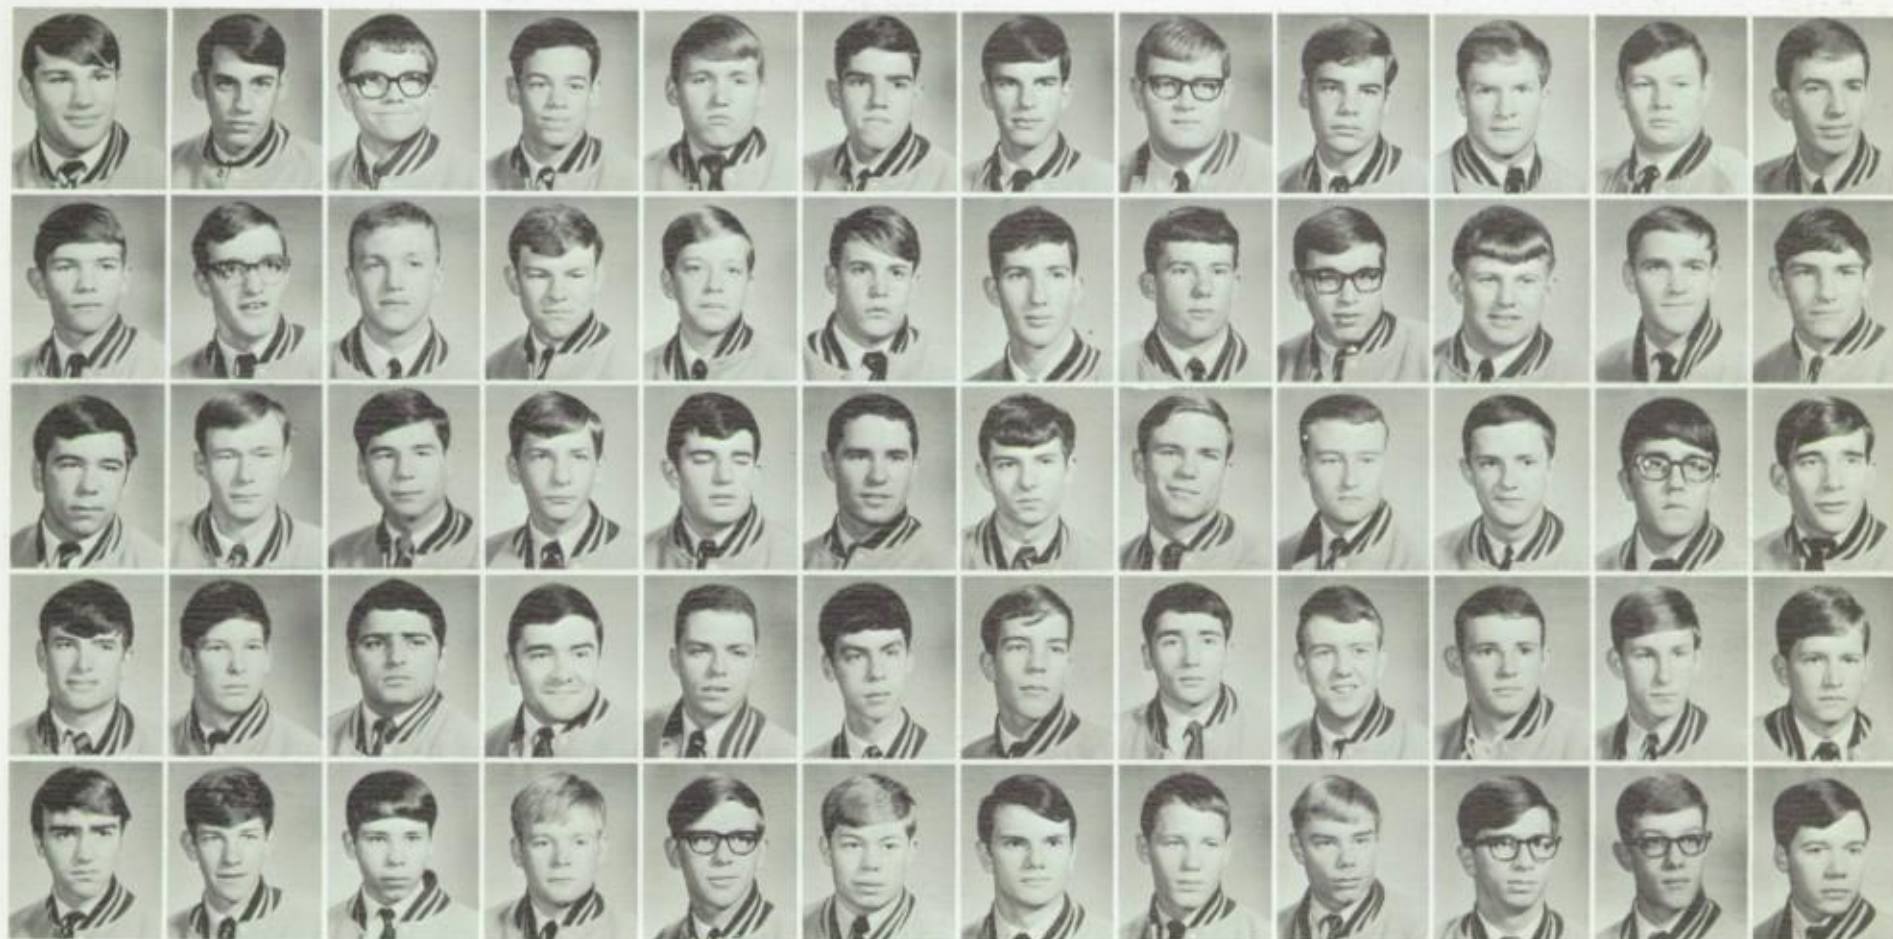

For the first time the "O" Club sold advertising and published the 28-page football program. Some of the proceeds were used to buy a new whirlpool for the athletic department.

A surprise gift was presented the school at the club capers in May. The traditional spring dance and end-of-school trip completed the year's activities.

Serving as officers were Phil Hudson, president; Tom Brady, vice president; Jim Whytlaw, secretary; and Bill Gallop, sgt.-at-arms. Sponsor was Mr. Dean Choate, head football coach.

Powerful Grid Squad

SPORTING the second best season in school history, Knight gridmen, under the direction of second-year Coach Dean Choate, posted an 8-2 record and third place in the Mid-State Conference.

The dynamic squad scored 247 points in contrast with 73 points by its opponents and was ranked fourth in class AAA by the Daily Oklahoman sports staff.

In the first game of the year, Butch Held raced 81 yards with an intercepted pass for a touchdown as Northwest shut out Lawton Eisenhower 20-0. It was the first grid clash between the two schools.

The following week, quarterback Paul Rosenberg scored two touchdowns on runs of 32 and 4 yards, and Paul Slocombe, a transfer from Wales, kicked a 36

as Northwest suffered its first loss of the season before a standing-room-only crowd on the winner's home field.

Disregarding the forward pass, Northwest used a crunching ground attack to subdue the John Marshall Bears, 28-6. Harper and freshman Steve Harris tallied twice each and Slocombe booted through four extra-points. Harris was the leading rusher with 121 yards on 19 carries.

Exploding for two quick touchdowns on three consecutive plays late in the third quarter, Northwest romped to a 28-0 win over U.S. Grant. The game saw Slocombe miss his first extra-point after establishing a new school record with eleven straight conversions. Slocombe also kicked a 22 yard field goal in the second stanza to stake the Knights to a 9-0 halftime lead.

Enid traveled to Taft Stadium for the Knights' homecoming and was defeated by Northwest for the first time in five years by the score of 20-12. Harris scored twice on runs of 2 and 8 yards, Mark Grimes rambled 25 yards with an intercepted pass for six points, and Mark Keim' caught a Rosenberg pass for a touchdown as Northwest wiped out any hopes the Plainsmen had of winning their fourth straight AAA state championship.

DESPITE the effort of John Marshall's Gary Shuffield (64) and Bob Wightman, Knight's Aubrey Harper scores behind the blocking of Marc Funk (70) and John Carter. Quarterback Paul Rosenberg (10) checks the scoreboard.

Spark Rugged Action

Northwest's defense got star billing when Shawnee was blanked 21-0. It was the Wolves' first shut-out since 1963. Harris, Grimes, and Rosenberg tallied once each, and kicking specialist Slocombe came through with three extra-point boots.

The Knights' defense held the Wolves to 56 yards total offense, gained their seventh victory of the year, and set up the crucial battle with the number-one ranked Putnam City Pirates the following week.

With quarterback Rick Worley passing for 222 yards, Putnam City defeated the Knights 13-7, ending any hopes of a conference championship. Northwest's defense held the Pirates to a minus 22 yards rushing while losing their second game of the year.

While Midwest City was defeating Putnam City 19-7 for the Mid-State Conference championship, the Knights ran past Douglass 44-14.

Senior halfback Phil Hudson scored four touchdowns on two punt returns and two pass receptions in the final game of the year for Northwest.

Johnny Carter scored the first touchdown, running three yards with a Trojan fumble as the purple-and-gold posted its eighth and final win of the year. This year's record was topped only by the state championship team in 1959, which went undefeated.

TOUCHDOWN BOUND is Paul Rosenberg on a 32-yard jaunt with Capitol Hill's Joe Rowden in futile pursuit. The Knights defeated the Redskins 16-0.

Junior Varsity and C-Squad teams fulfilled a full schedule as the B-Squadders marked a 7-4 season, and the C-Squadders posted a 5-2 record.

Under Coach Fred Holloway, the B-team won decisive victories over Edmond, Harding, and John Marshall. Highlight of the season was a narrow victory over Putnam City. The previously unbeaten Pirates were stopped for the first time this year by the rugged Knight defense.

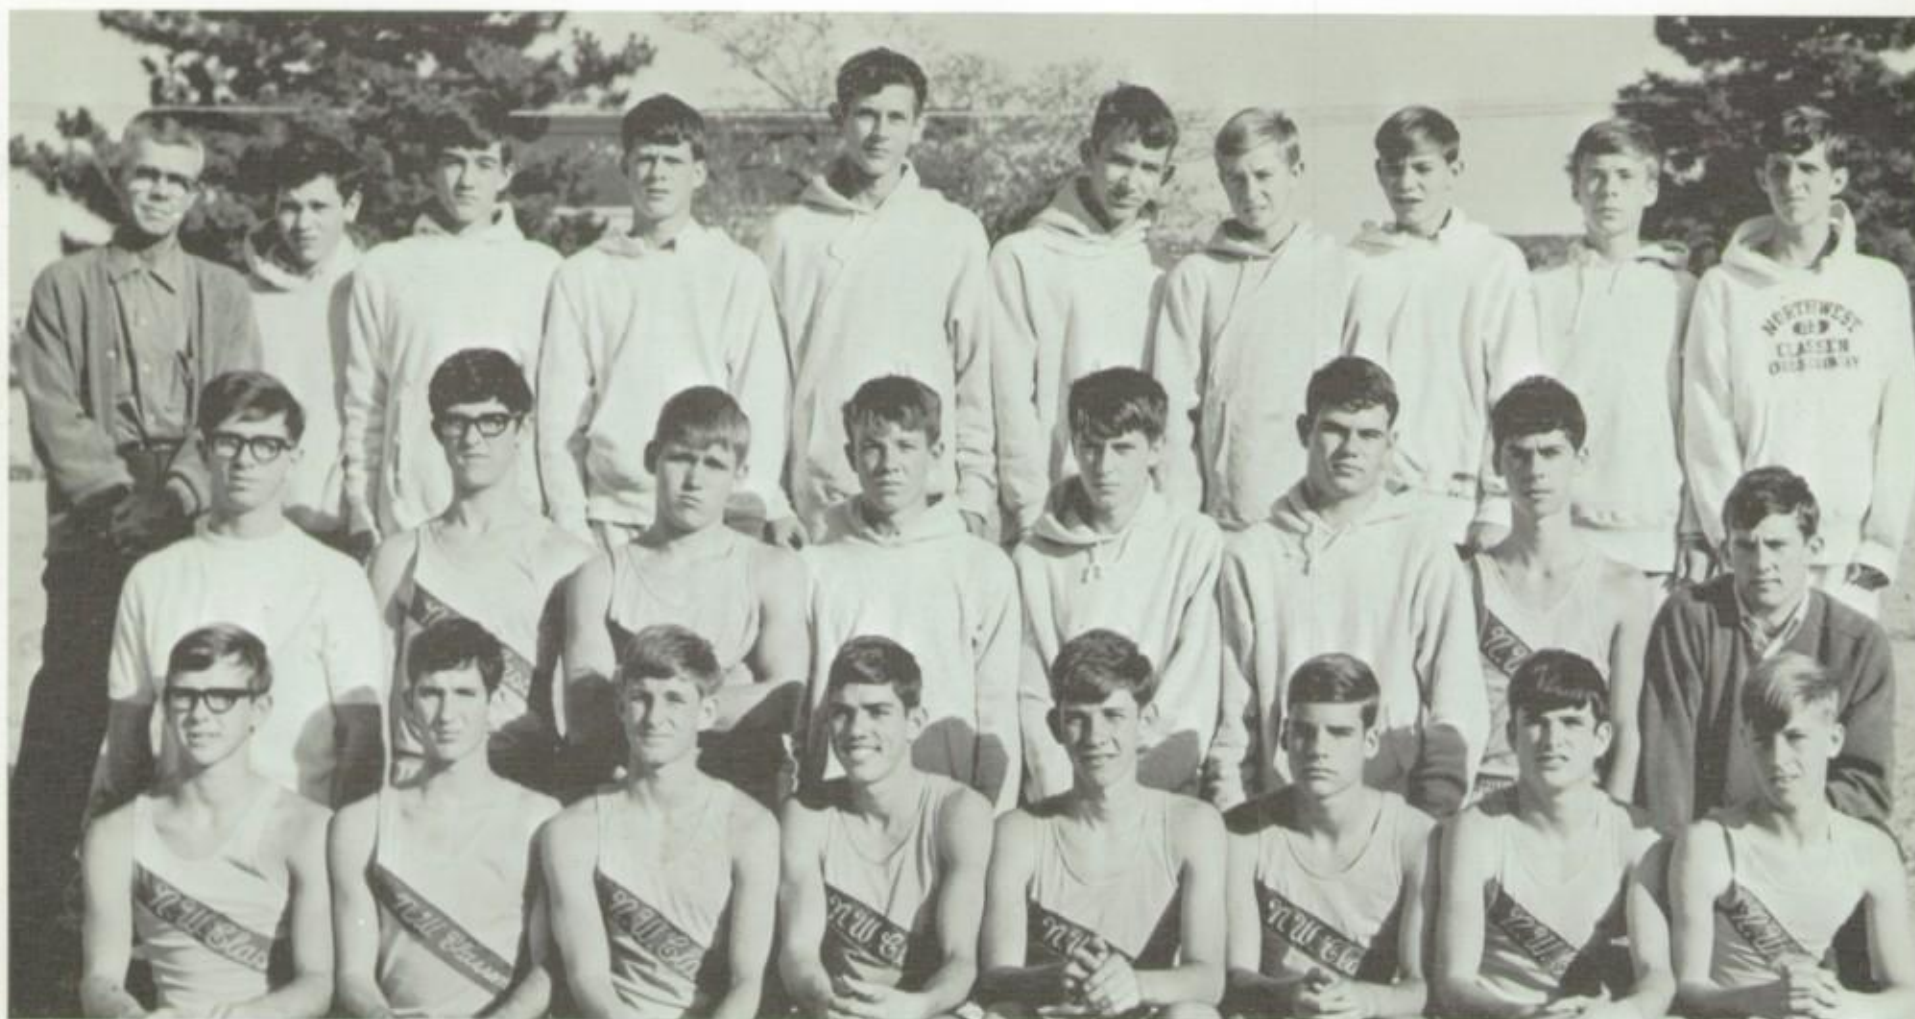

Sparking the Junior Varsity on offense were Randy Bailey, David Capshaw, and Bill Clark; bolstering the line were Doug Hall, Bill Johnson, and Mike Simmons. Defensive leaders were Kent Blair and C. E. Laird.

Coached by Tom Erwin and John Goss, the C-Squad registered wins over Capitol Hill, Grant, Harding, Kennedy, and Southeast, while losing to Jarman and John Marshall.

Kreg Blair and Jerry Puckett provided the offensive punch. Anchoring the line were Jim Cooley and David Littlefield. Standouts on defense were Kent Loeffler and Dale Vaughn.

Knight Power Fuels Cagers to State Title

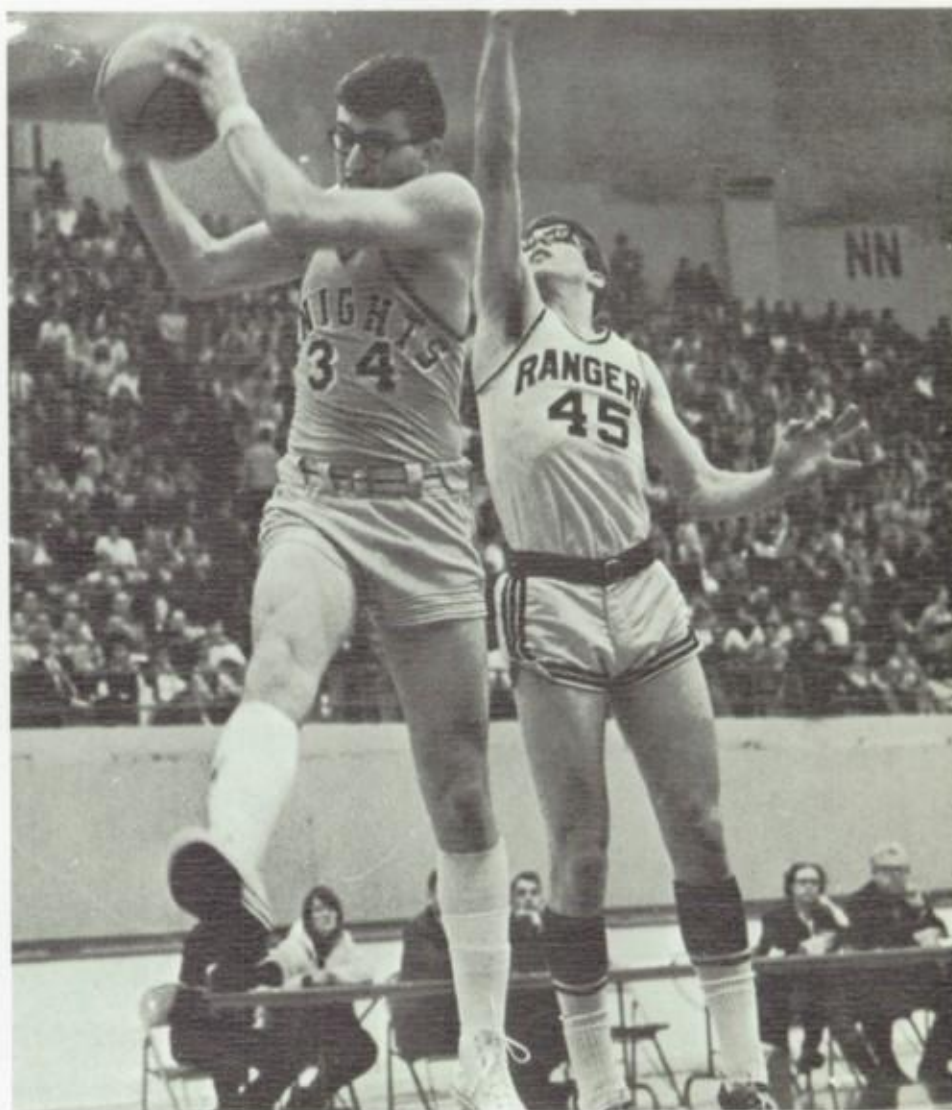

"Magnificent Performance!" "Team Effort Topples Hale" "Mighty Northwest Displays Best Efforts of Season"—These headlines were flashed across Sunday morning's newspapers March 3 announcing the Knights' third state basketball championship in five years.

All five starters scored in double figures as the Knights defeated Tulsa McLain 77-67 in the first round of the State Tournament. Steve Mitchell led the way with 18 points and 11 rebounds.

For the seventh straight time Northwest routed Midwest City 60-43 to advance to the finals against Tulsa Hale, surprise 85-71 conqueror of Douglass.

Never before had so many people seen the squad play as 8,500 people crowded into the State Fairgrounds Arena to see the purple-and-gold win the top schoolboy trophy in Oklahoma with a 58-47 romp past the Rangers. Mitchell tallied 16; Mike Rogers and Phil Bailey contributed 15 and 12, respectively, to lead the Knights.

Winning 23 of 26 games, Knight cagers placed second in the Mid-State Conference for the fourth time in five seasons.

PHIL BAILEY hauls down a rebound against the Rangers' Roger Robertson.

School Records Set

Coach Don Van Pool, beginning his eleventh campaign as head mentor at Northwest, watched his charges lace U.S. Grant 81-49 in winning their first conference game of the year.

Breaking the school scoring record of 94 points, the Knights pulverized Northeast 97-60 and then routed the host Redskins 73-55 before lancing Enid in the finals 52-42 to win the Capitol Hill Basketball Tournament. Mitchell and Tim Eaker were both named to the All-Tournament team.

Douglass shook off a cold first period and surged to a 70-61 triumph over the Knights, the first loss for the cagers.

After this disappointing loss, basketballers effected a quick comeback by outscoring Shawnee 61-46, John Marshall 52-33 and Enid 68-56.

Rick Worley's shot with one millisecond left in the game gave Putnam City a hard-earned 55-53 win, knocking the Knights into third place in the conference behind Douglass and the Pirates, January 16.

Northwest used a 54-14 advantage on the boards the following Thursday to whip the smaller Ft. Cobb Longhorns, 71-59, in the first round of the Tulsa Memorial "Tournament of Champions" Basketball Tournament.

The 6'9" Mitchell hit 32 points, a career high, and hauled down a school record of 27 rebounds in pacing the team to a 70-62 victory over New Lima, last year's Class B Champions. The loss was the first in 24 games for the Falcons.

Wins over Midwest City 45-37, U.S. Grant 57-45 and the Bombers again 60-45 enabled the Knights to increase their record to 13-2 and second place in the conference.

Led by Bruce Deloney and Marvin Rich, Douglass soundly defeated the b-ballers, 67-52, and all but wiped out any chances the losers had of winning the conference crown for Northwest, while the Trojans had faltered only once.

Seniors Rogers and Bailey hit 20 and 19, respectively, to lead the cage crew to a 74-49 triumph over Shawnee.

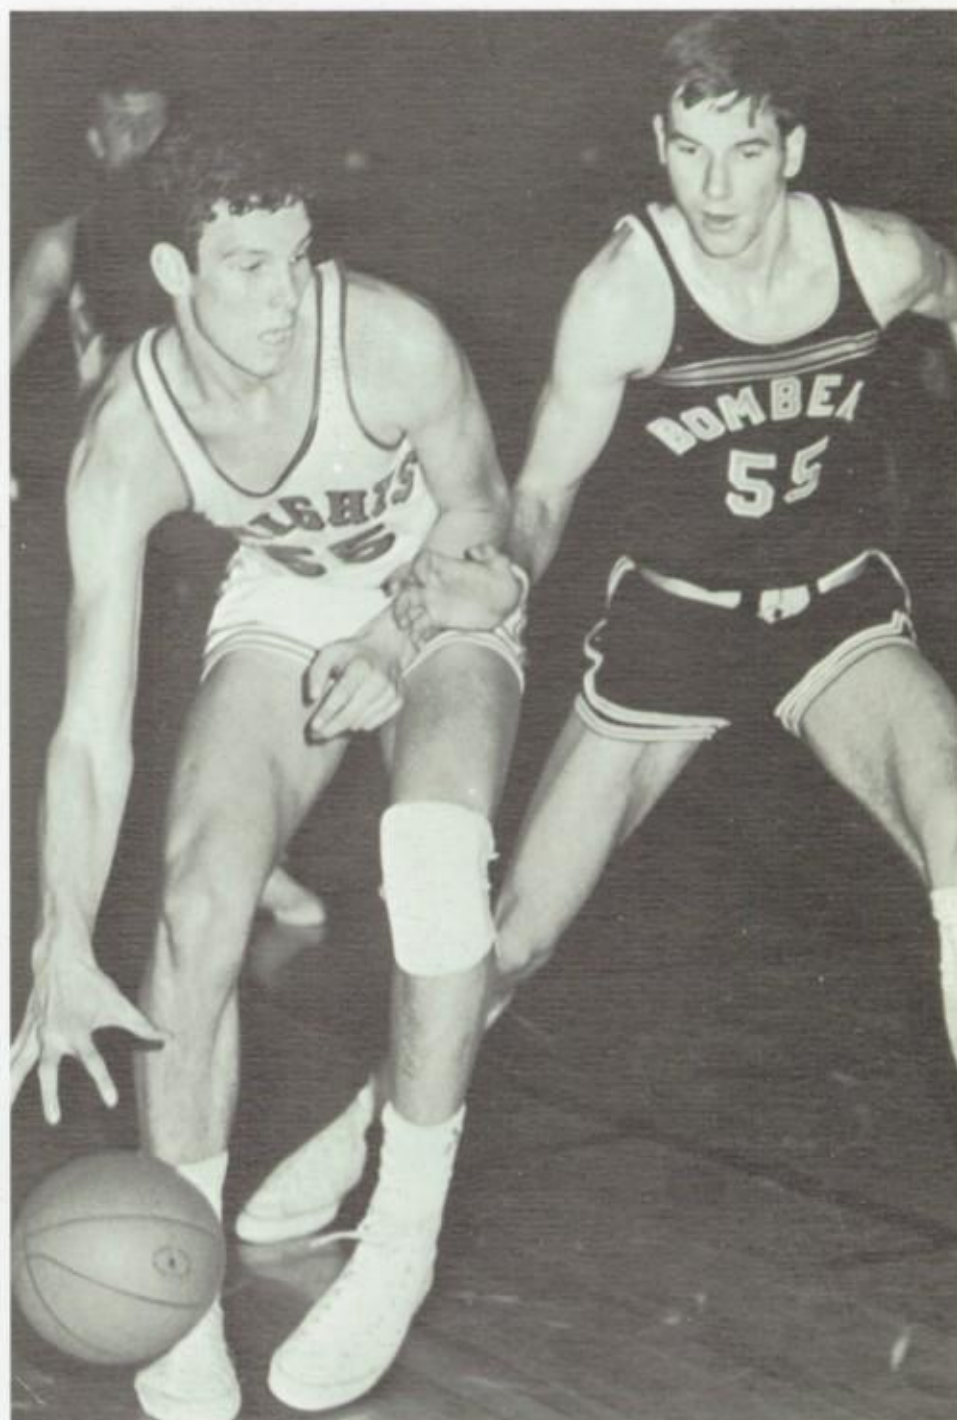

Revenge was the inspiration as the purple-and-gold sank Putnam City 64-45 and avenged four straight defeats at the hands of the Pirates. Mitchell led the way with 23 points.

Eleven players broke into the scoring column as the Knights rode past John Marshall 61-38, February 13.

Earning a trip to the State Basketball Tournament was the reward for blasting the Boomer Conference Champions Duncan 59-33, in a special one-game play-off with the loser forced to go to regionals.

For the third time this year and the fourteenth in the past fifteen meetings, Northwest defeated Enid 68-55, February 17, and clinched second place in the Mid-State conference. Phil Spaulding paved the way with a career high of 24 points.

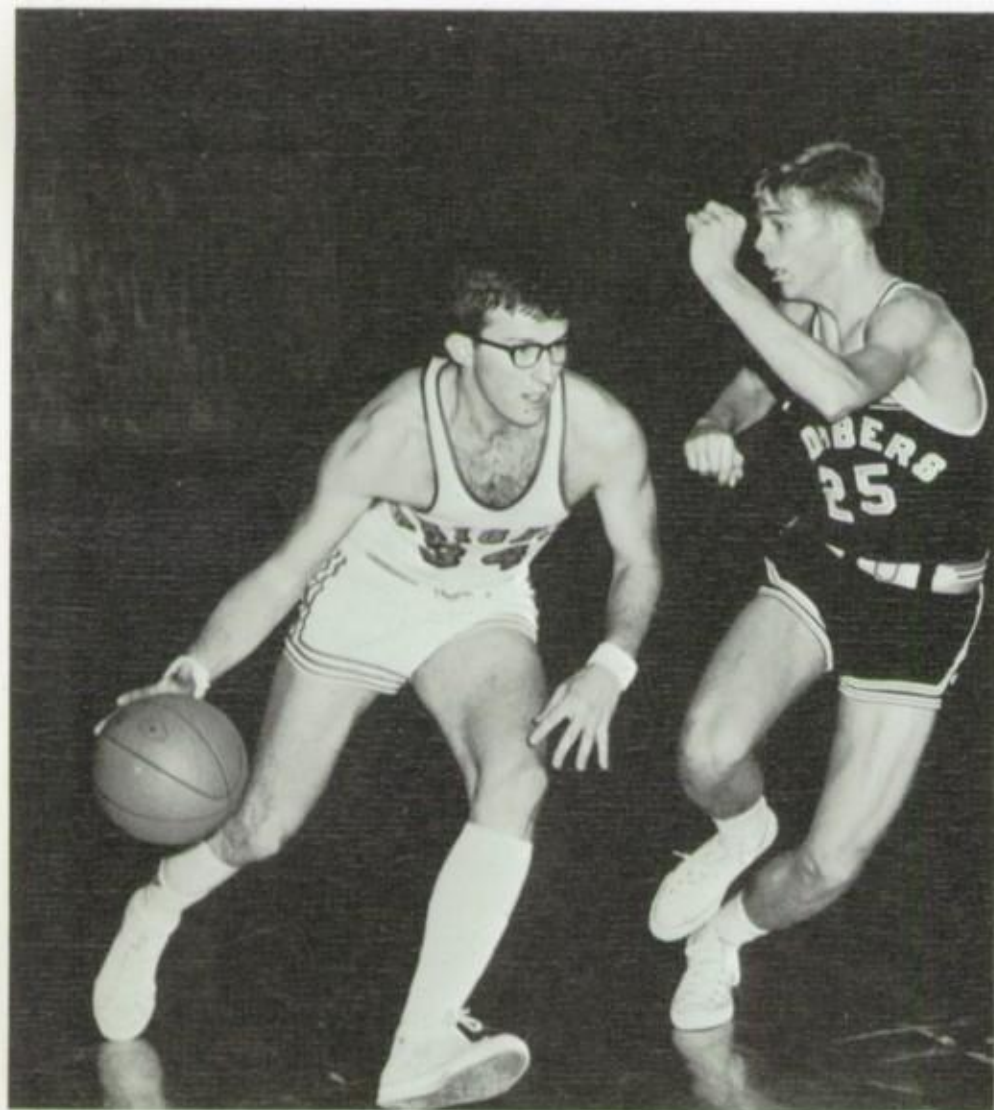

Scoring 22 points to Capitol Hill's 8 in the second quarter, the cagers cracked the Hill 58-45 to finish conference play with a 13-3 record.

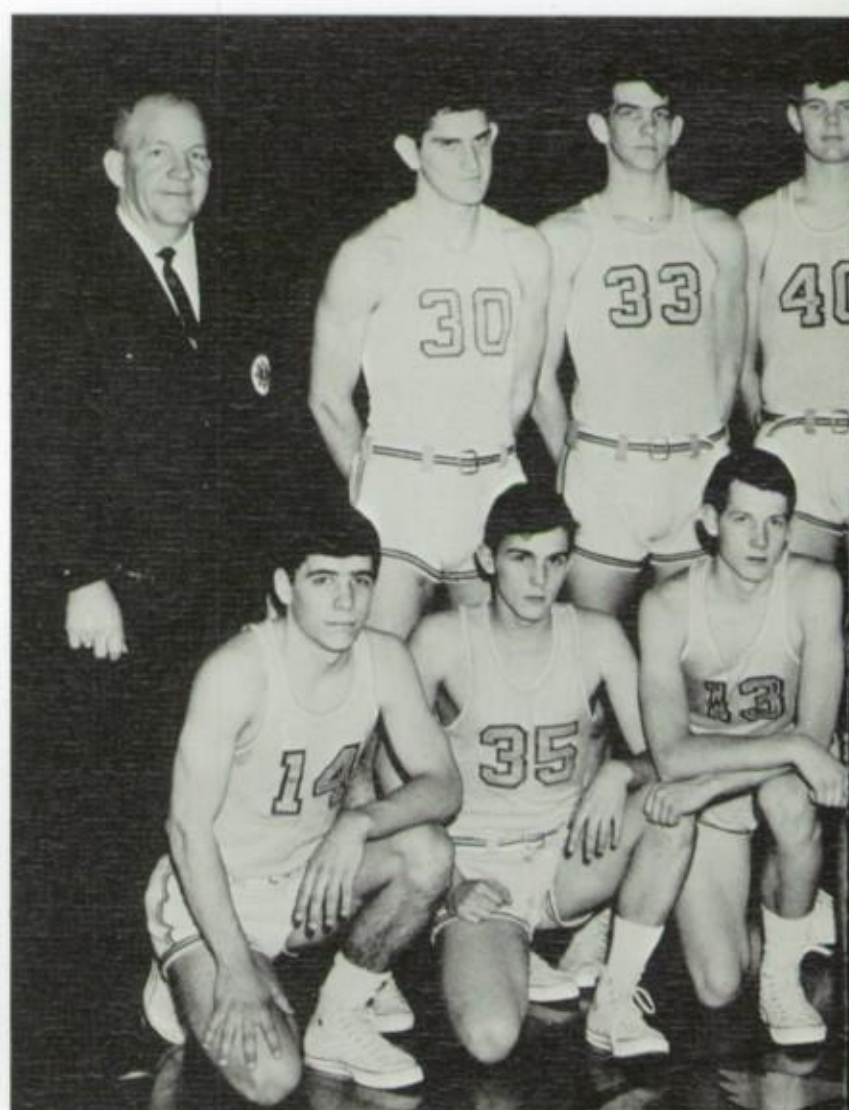

EYEING a path to the basket is 6'9" center Steve Mitchell despite the guarding of Midwest City's 6'7" Larry Tribble. The Knights trounced the Bombers 60-43.

DISCUSSING the one-on-one situation is Coach Don Van Pool during a time out against Shawnee.

Leading the Junior Varsity attack were Juniors Ben Byers and Craig Dawkins, and Sophomores Ron Raunborg and Bruce Scott. Raunborg led all scorers with a 16-point per game average, while Byers averaged 12 tallies.

Coach Tom Erwin's C-squad finished its season with a 9-6 won-loss record. David Littlefield, Tony Robinson, and Jerry Waugh provided the scoring punch for the Little Knights.

Highlights of the season for the C-squad, composed of freshmen, were a victory over the Capitol Hill sophomores, and a second place finish in the Southeast Sophomore Tournament.

Flu Fells Tankers Before Critical Contests

Hampered by the flu bug before crucial meets, the defending Mid-State and City champions managed only second place finishes in City and Mid-State Conference swim meets.

Perhaps the highlight of the season was the Mid-State meet performance of diver Jim Whytlaw, who defeated Putnam City's All-American Mark Anderson and claimed Northwest's only individual gold medal in conference competition.

Gold medals were also awarded the Knights' 400-yard freestyle relay team, consisting of Marty Schnetzler, Dan Brummitt, Stan Wilsey and Jim Walkup. This foursome broke the existing Mid-State record by nine seconds.

Other medal winners in Mid-State competition were Bob Schneider, third, 100-yard breaststroke; Schnetzler, second, 200-yard freestyle; Dan Funk, third, diving; and the 200-yard medley relay, second place.

City winners for Northwest were Whytlaw in diving and the 400-yard freestyle relay. Sophomore John Bell replaced ailing Schnetzler on the relay team.

Second places were earned by Wilsey, 100-yard freestyle; Bob Trosper, diving; Schneider, breast stroke; and the 200-yard medley relay, consisting of Brummitt, Walkup, Schneider, and Donald Tidholm.

LOOKING for the end of the pool, Bob Schneider's final effort earns him and his Knight teammates second place in the City meet.

A HIGH LEAP gives Jim Walkup the extra push that enables him and his teammates to break the 400-yard freestyle relay record by nine seconds at the Mid-State meet.

PRACTICE on his inward dive in the pike position helps prepare Bob Trosper for the State Swim Meet.

Whytlaw Reaches Peak Performance in Meet

STRUGGLE for the lead between Dan Brummitt and team captain Stan Wilsey proves Wilsey the winner by a hair.

Above: With a fast start and a gasp of air, Don Tidholm takes the lead in the 200-yard medley relay in the City Swim Meet. Below: "Whew!" is the only thing diving champ Jim Whytlaw can say as he catches his breath.

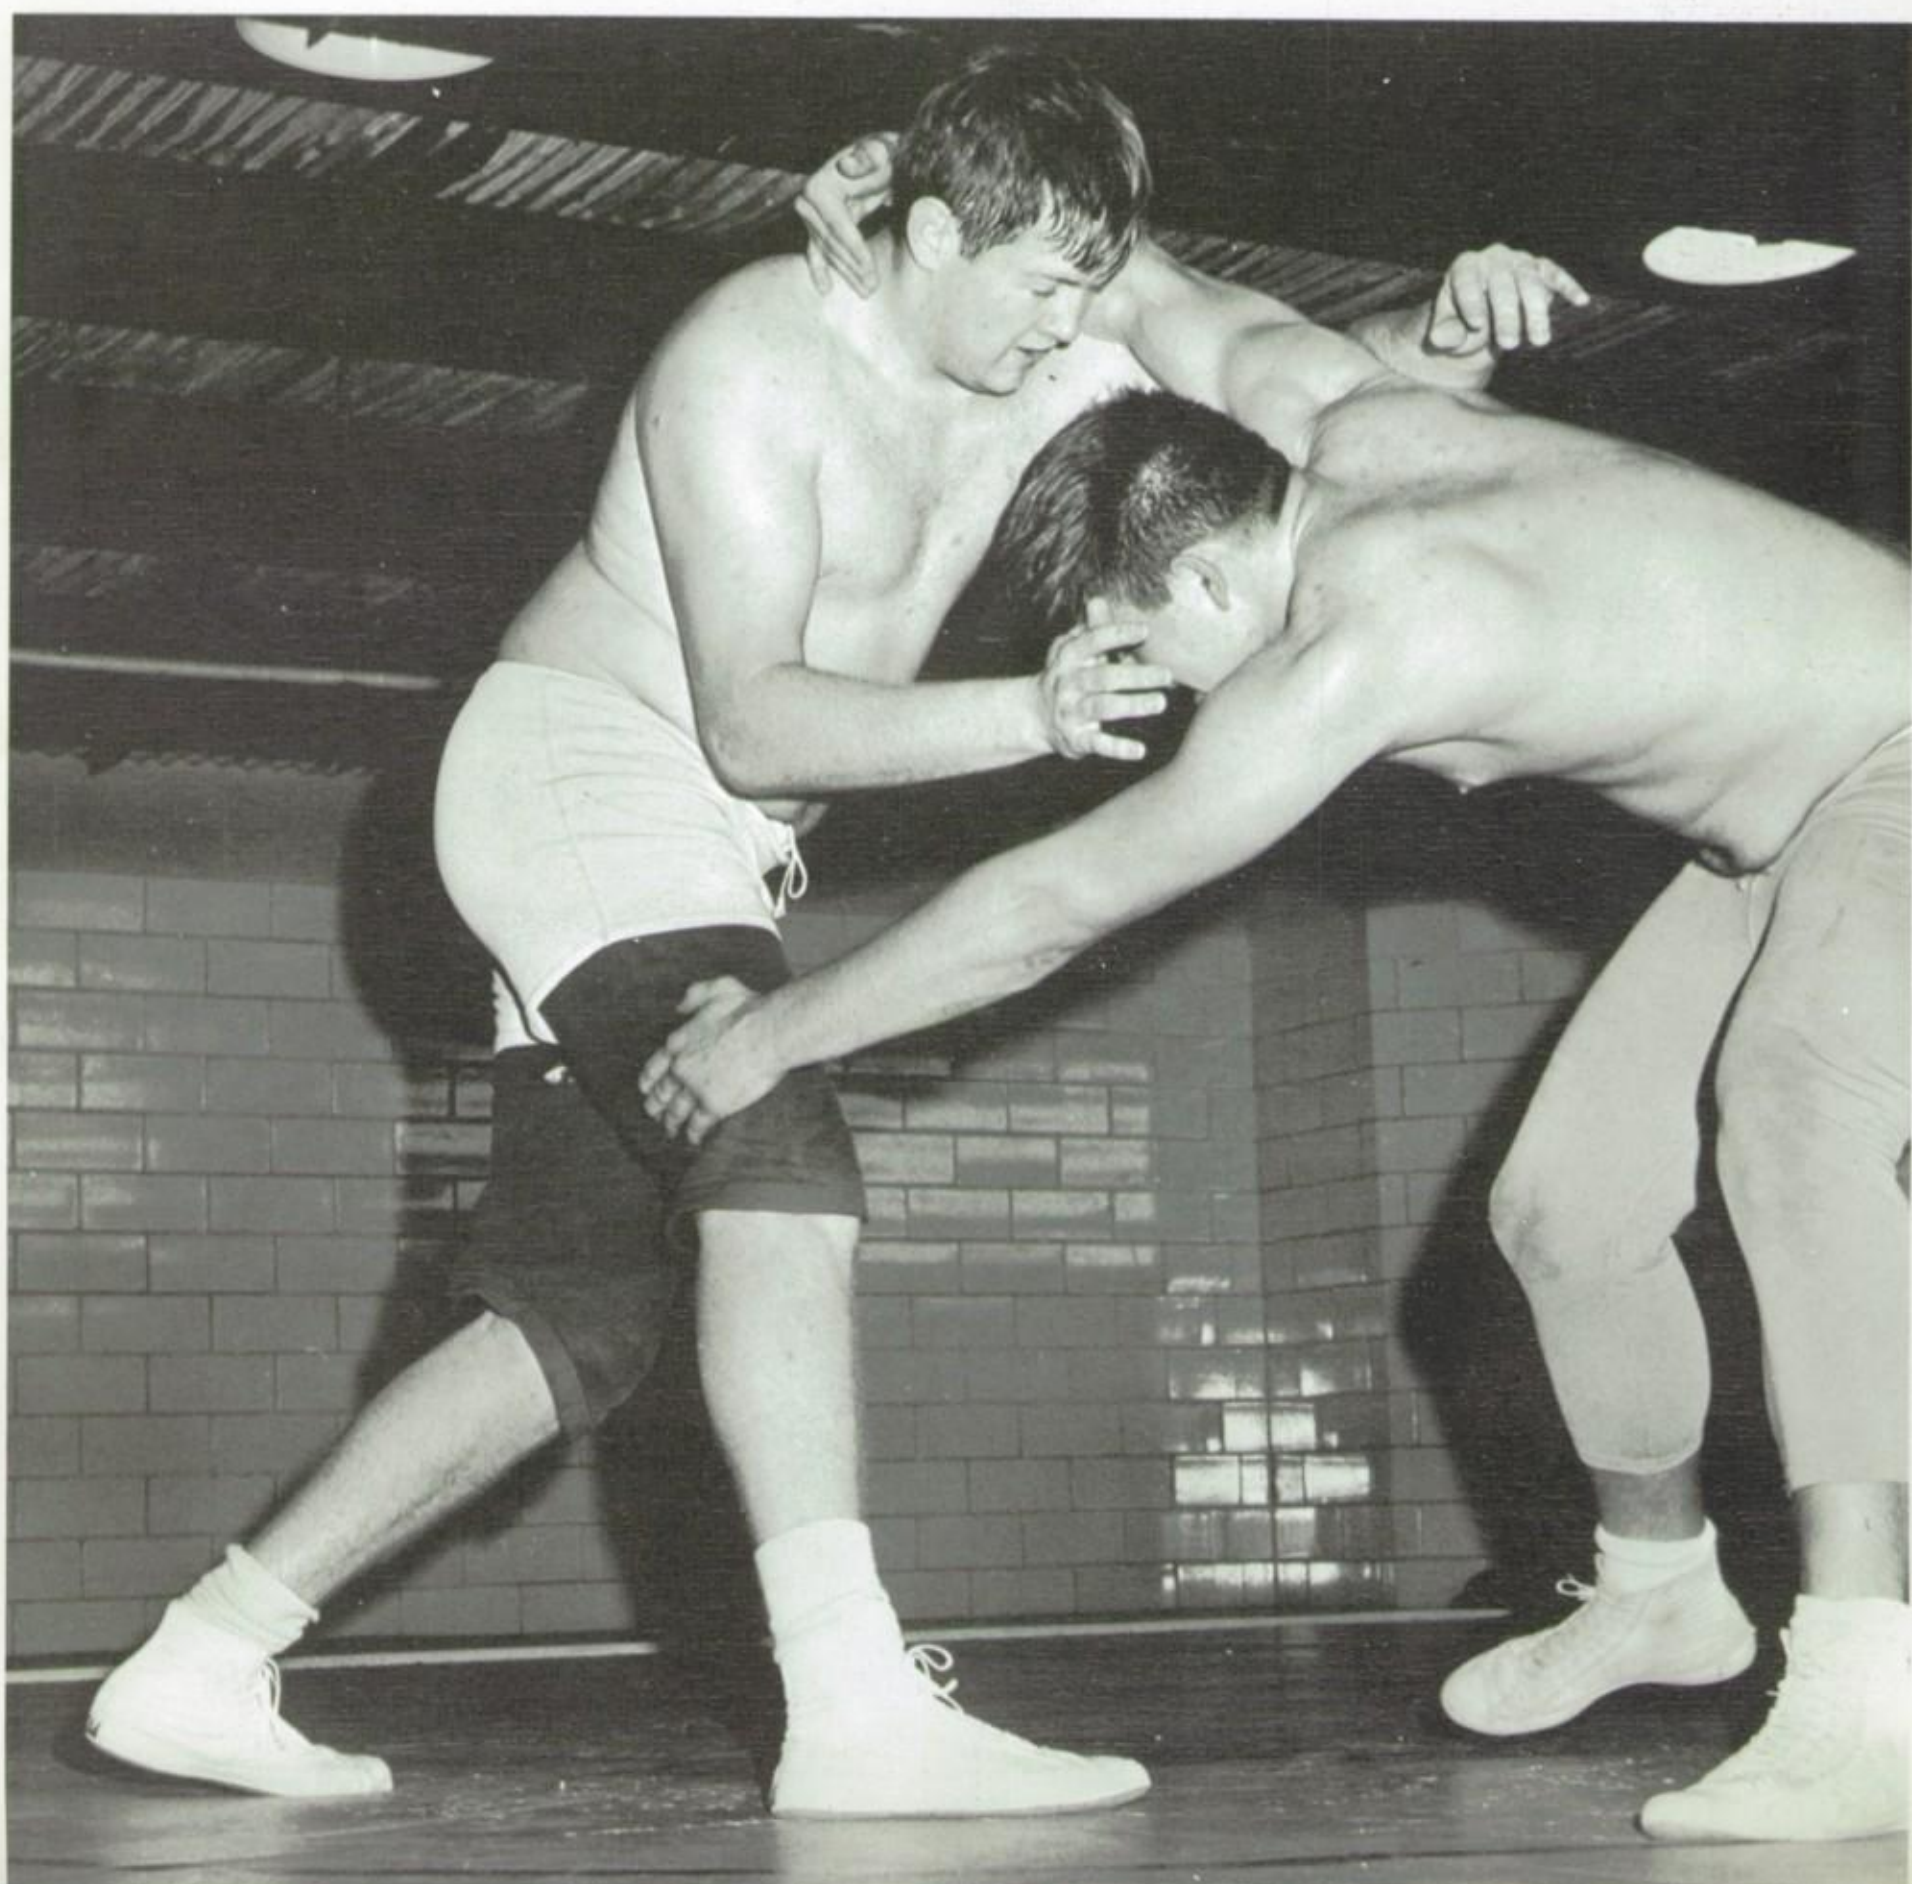

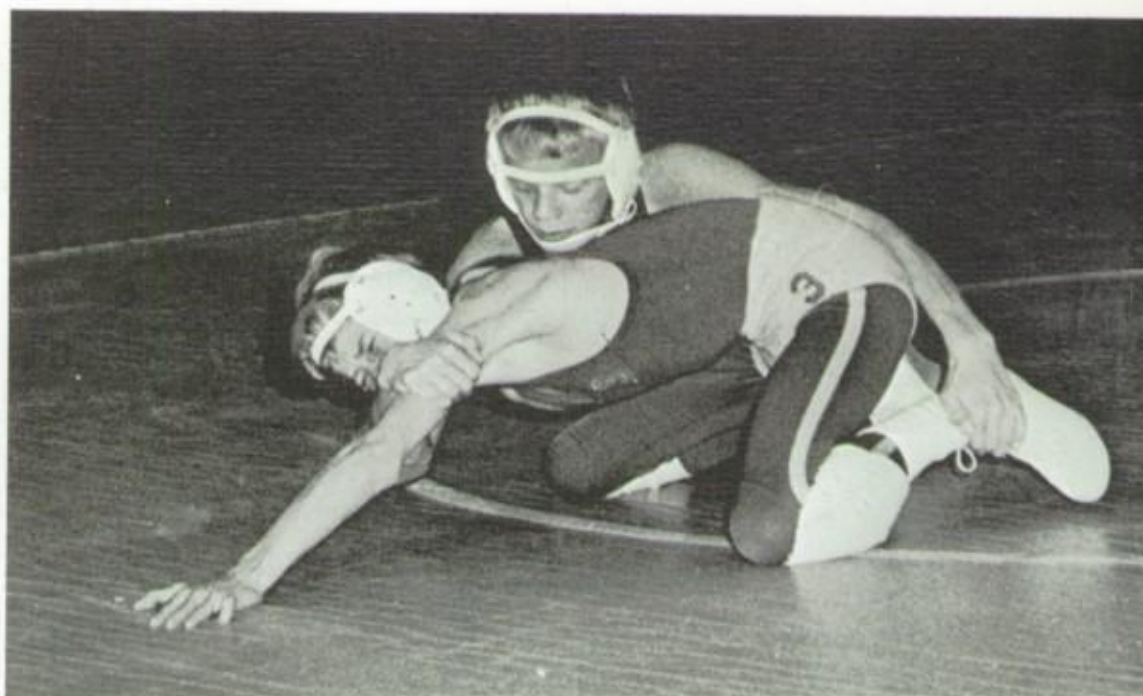

TOES almost touching the ceiling, Dan Funk comes down in straight form to win third place in the City Meet.

Wrestling

New Training Program Features Gymnastics

Emphasis in the wrestling program this year was placed on a new conditioning system of gymnastics and on the new junior high and elementary schools' wrestling programs. Four team festivals were featured in the schedule for the first time this year.

In their thirteenth season Knight matmen posted a 5-5-1 record, rated fourth in the All-City Tournament and fifth in the Mid-State Tournament.

Top scorers for the season were Tom Brady, Jim May, and Tom Gibson. Brady scored 98 points, pinned 19 men, won two decisions, tied one match and dropped only three to his opponents.

May scored 55 points and posted a 16-7 record, while 53 points, 13 wins and 9 losses were credited to Gibson.

Mark McGinley was cited as being the most improved wrestler with a 15-8 record as well as a third place berth in both All-City and Regionals.

Two new weight divisions at 98 and 177 pounds were filled by David Held and Bill Gallop. Substituting occasionally for Held was freshman Dennis Box.

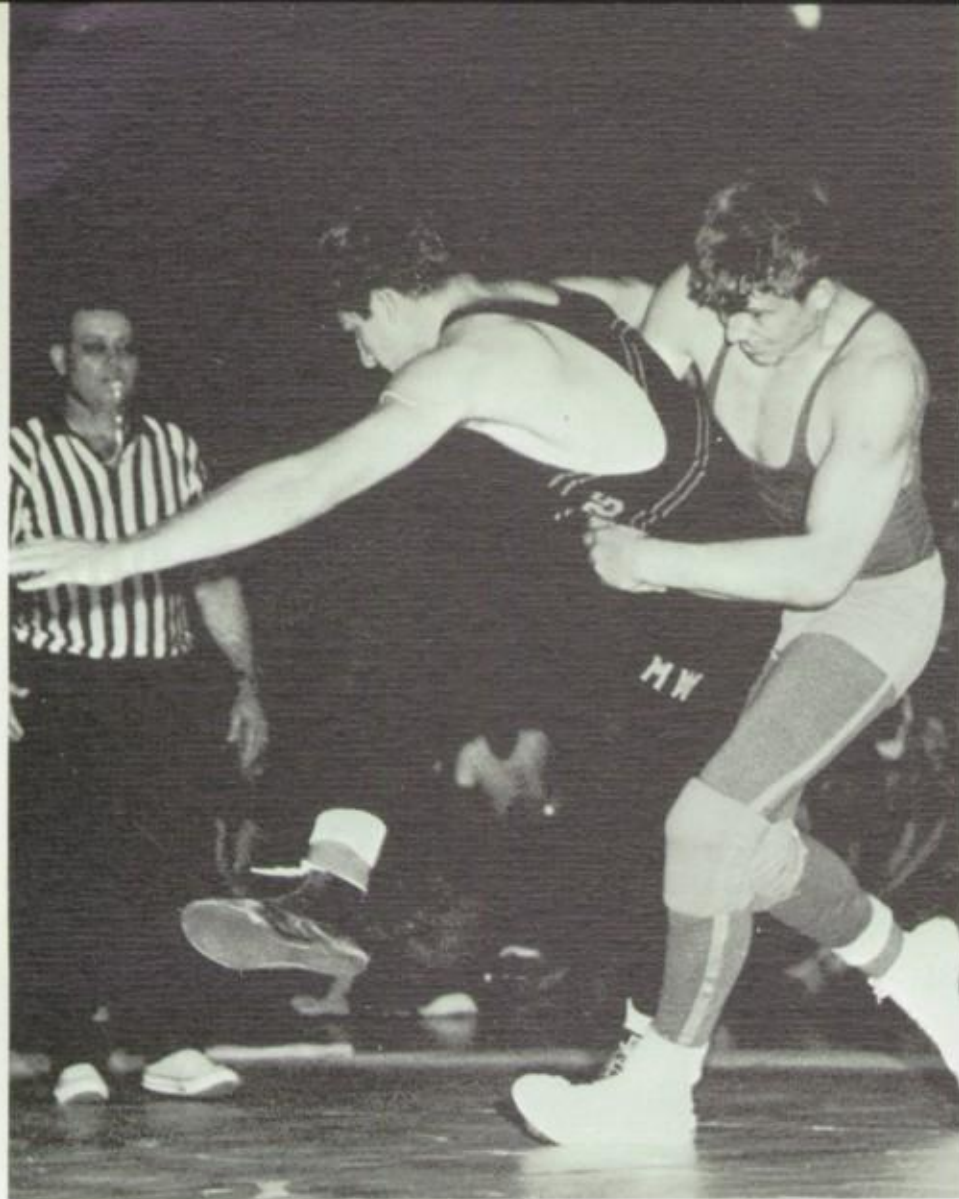

Eleven seniors, including six starters, finished their wrestling career at Northwest.

COACH Leonard Marcotte and a gloomy bench of wrestlers watch their team fall to Classen 21-19 in the final dual meet of the wrestling season.

GRUELING practice matches, like this one with Tom Gibson, help Jim May to the 130 pound All-City title.

ATTEMPTING to block a stand-up by David Wade of Midwest City is senior Bill Gallop, who wrestles at the new 177 pound weight division.

Trio of Brady, May, Gibson Tops Scorers

TEAM SPIRIT runs high as junior Mark McGinley pins his Capitol Hill opponent in one of five falls for the Knights in their 37-9 victory.

A DETERMINED Bill Gallop goes for a take down against Dewayne Horton in the heavyweight division of intramurals.

RIGHT ON target is Kevin Duncan as he smashes his way to the finals of the ping-pong tournament.

DAILY PRACTICE helps seniors Dan Loving and Pete Ukena improve their techniques for the tennis intramurals.

CHAMPIONS of intramural football are Harrison's Gorillas, led by Rick Harrison (top). BOTTOM ROW: Mike Goddard, Dan Husky, Jim May,

Dave Clark, David Swain, Frank McGregor. TOP ROW: Jim Ray, Doug Lane, Tommy Baker, Mark Kent, Dave Runyan, Phil Bailey.

Intramurals

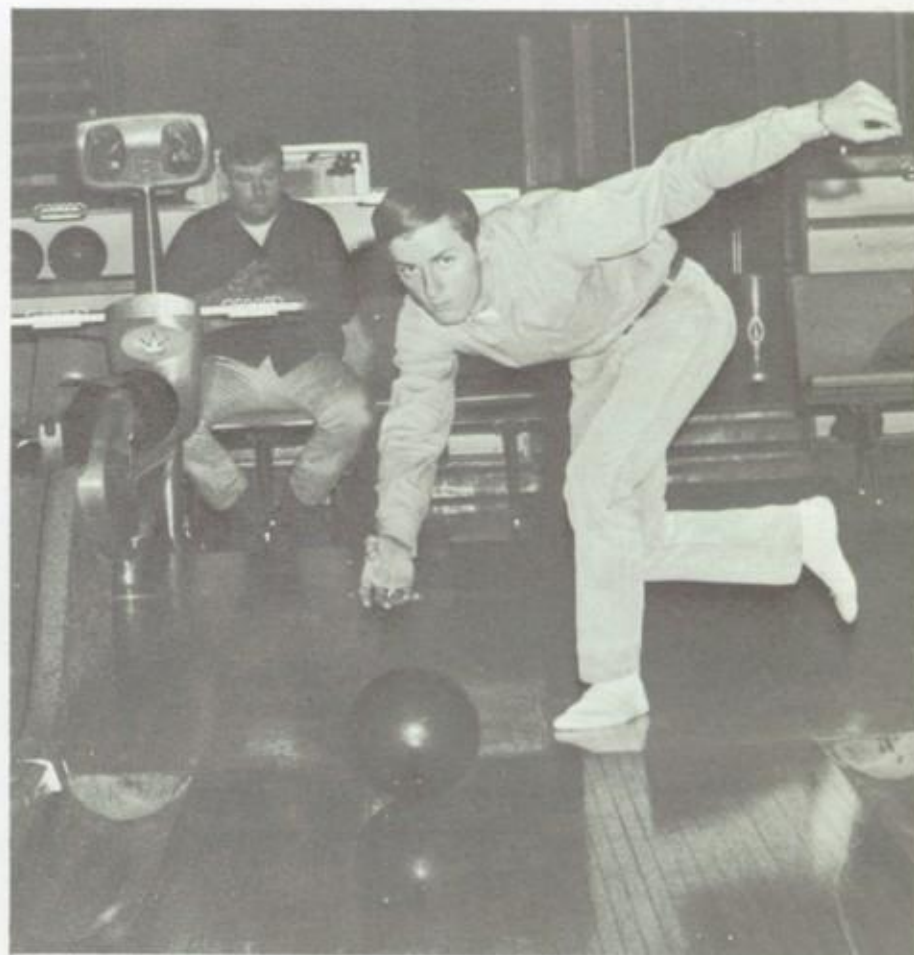

Class Athletes Pick Bizarre Team Names

To keep in step with the varied interests of the students and to provide an opportunity for non-varsity athletes to participate in athletic events, the intramural committee of Student Council offered an extensive program. Committee chairman for the first semester was Jim Whytlaw.

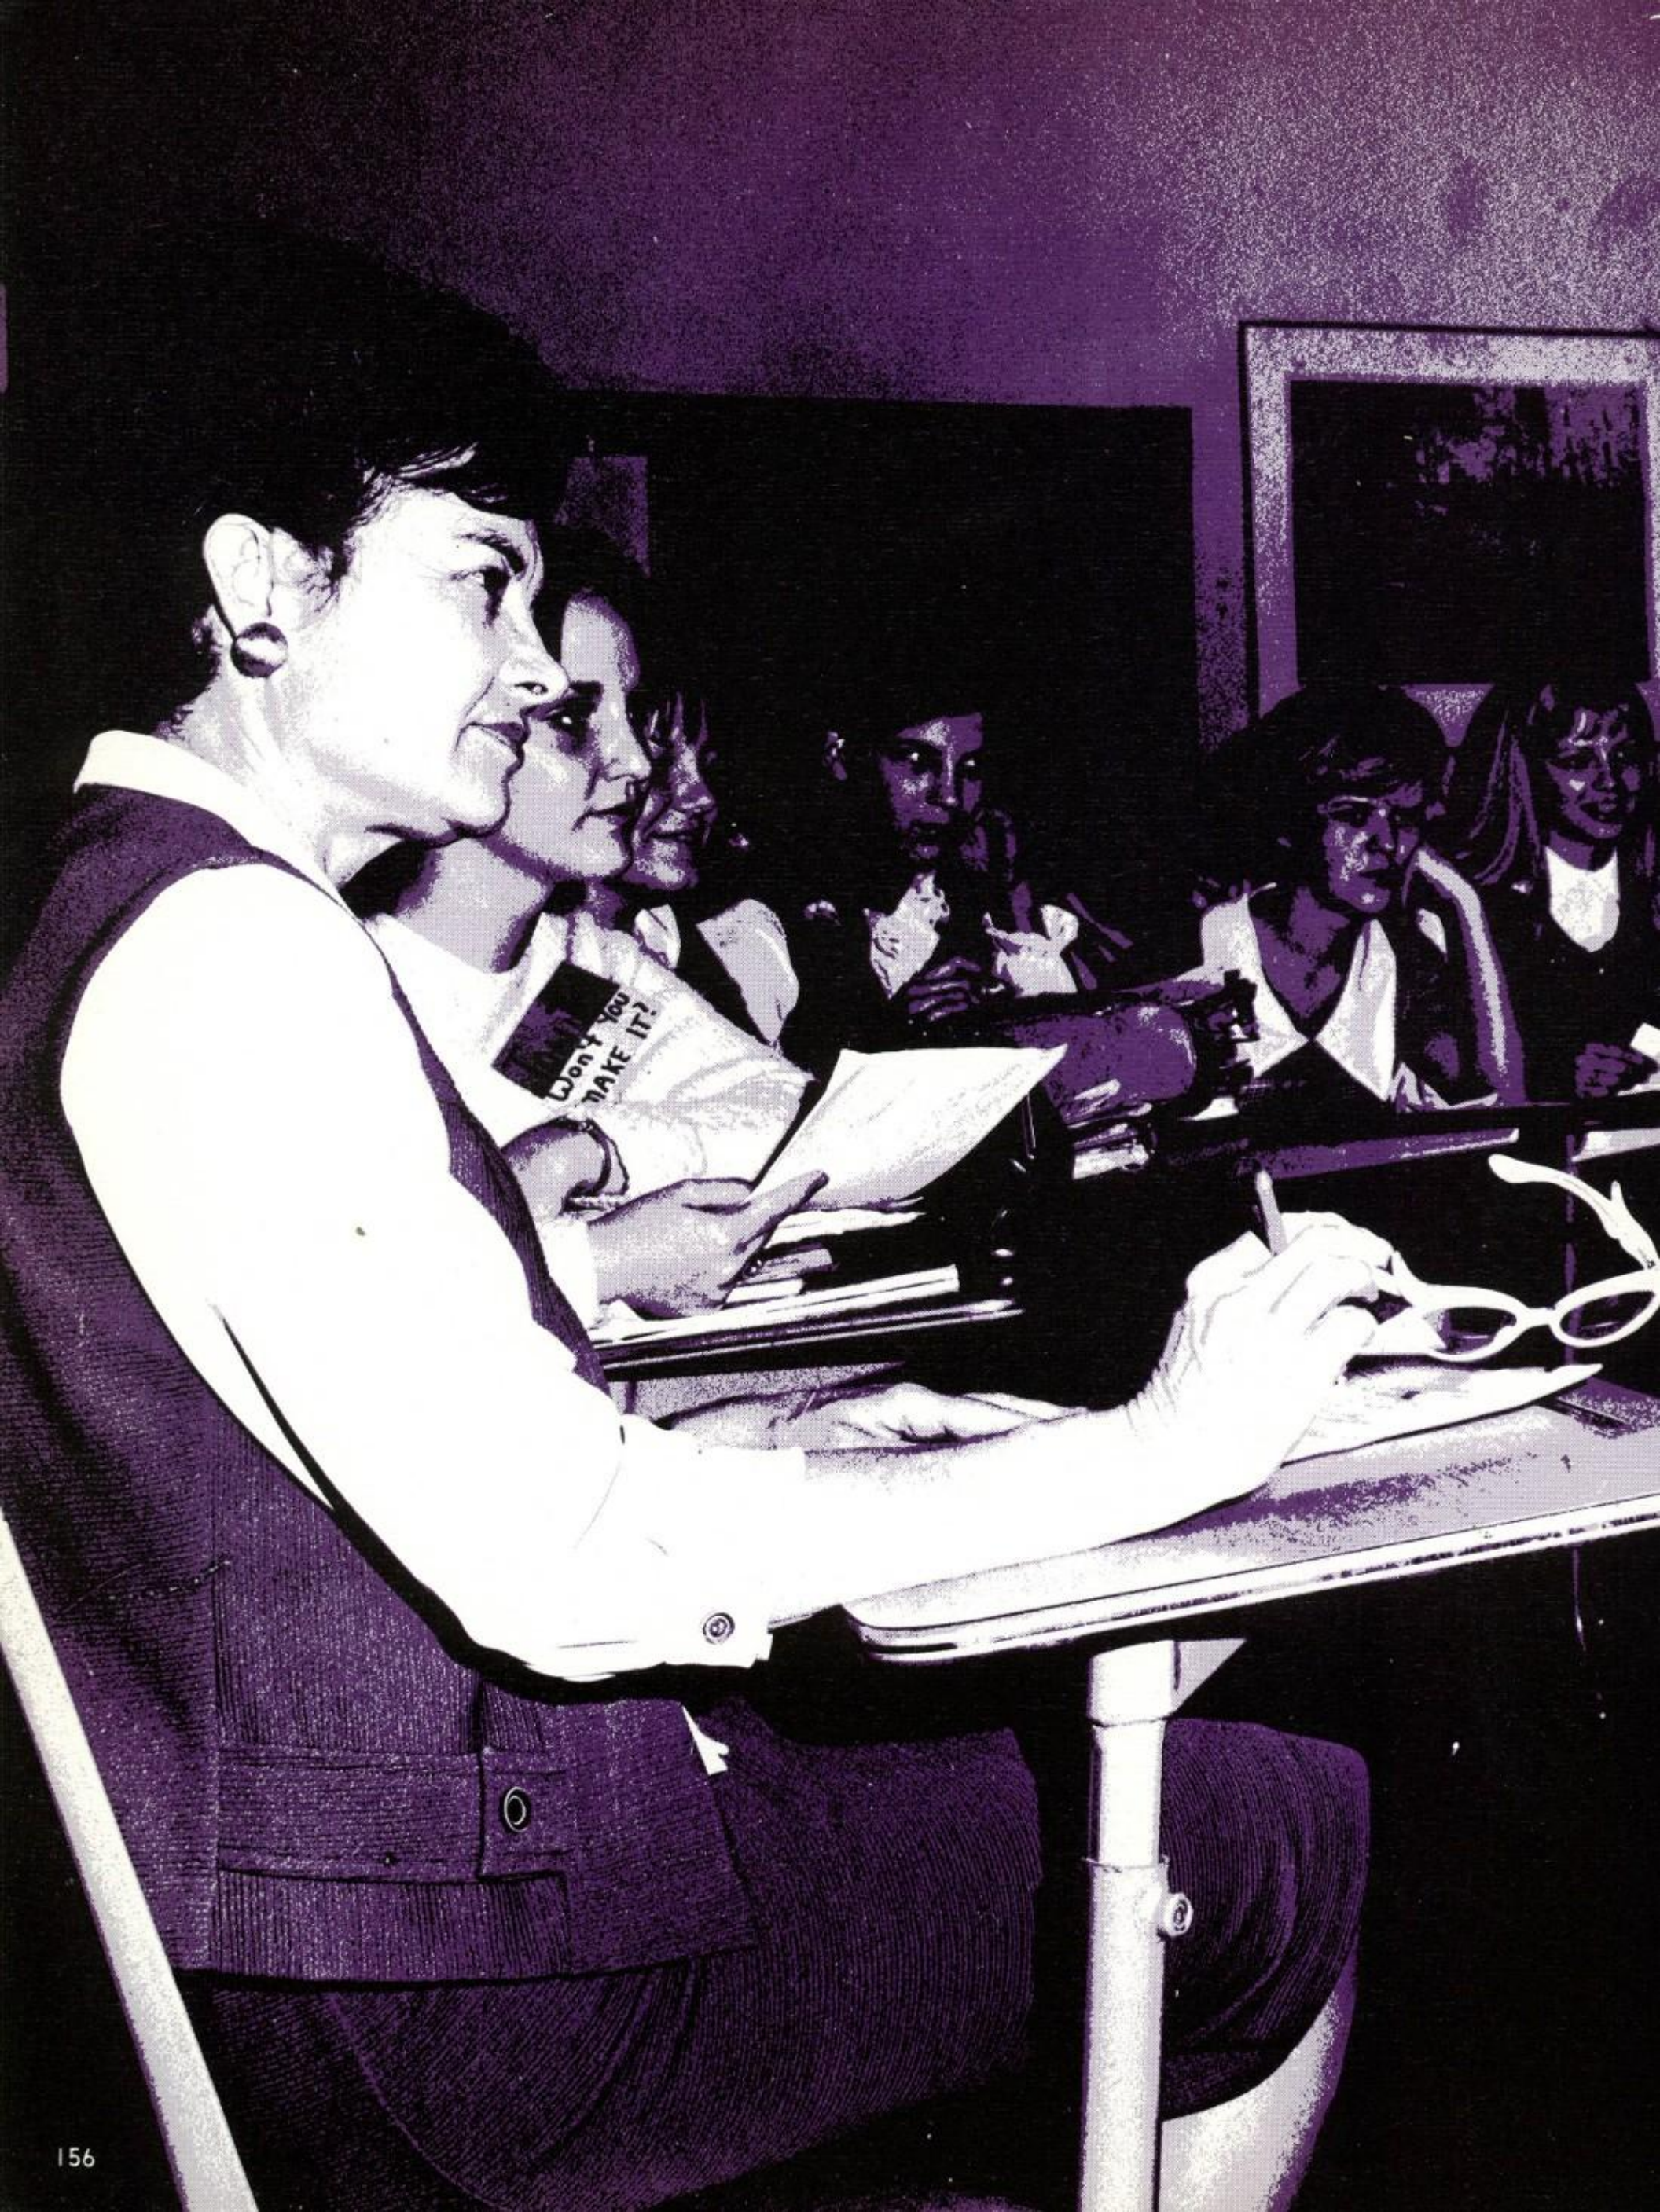

Competition began in September with football, followed by basketball, wrestling, and bowling. Harrison's Gorillas, captained by Rick "Rocket" Harrison, won first place in the football intramurals.

The Wolffmen captured the basketball title in overtime, nipping the Jolly Giants 30-29. Team members were Mike Buchanan, Steve Campbell, Terry Clark, Terry Harris, Floyd Poag, Skip Smith, and Tom Wolff.

Tentative plans for the second semester included ping-pong, softball, volleyball, tennis, and track. A recap of spring sports will be included in the summer supplement of the Round Table.

DEAD-EYE Mike Lovegrove aims for the strike which won him the intramural bowling title. This is the second year Lovegrove has been crowned champ.

A Cherished Look

Classes

*A composite of the complex
pattern of attitudes, values,
and perceptions
emerges from the real
WHY of Northwest—
the facts, ideas, ideals
reflected by its PEOPLE.*

An "idea exchange" is the view of learning taken by Mrs. Kathleen Speed and her Humanities class, composed of juniors, in daily discussion groups.

OFF for a Sunday afternoon spin on Mark's bike are Mark Harvey and Joanna Bateman, selected by their classmates as Freshmen Top Teens.

CLASS sponsors, Mrs. Charlotte Eaker and Mrs. Lucille Spann, check on reservations for the annual freshman picnic in May.

FUTURE activities of the freshman class is the major concern of officers Mark Havey, pres.; Bobby Clark, v. pres.; Timi Pellow, sec.; Cindy Jackson, sgt.-at-arms; and Gary Dickinson, treas. This group was elected in September.

Freshmen

New World Dawns For 821 Freshmen

Eager to learn the ways of Knighthood, 821 freshmen attended Orientation Day assembly August 31. This special program, held every year, briefed new students on all phases of life at Northwest.

After brief talks by leaders from all major school groups, students were taken on a tour of the building by Courtesy Club girls.

From the first school activity, the annual "Howdy Mixer," to the election of class officers in the spring, freshmen relished the challenges of class work and the whirl of activities.

D. A. T.'s (Differential Aptitude Tests) were administered in September to all freshmen. Results were used by counselors in advising curriculum choices for next year.

The first semester Knights' Honor Roll, one of Northwest's highest distinction, listed 86 ninth graders on its roster.

Proud of its first-year achievements, the class of 1971 looked forward to three more eventful, interesting years in Knightland.

Heralds Hail Status, Establish New Goals

The 802 members of the sophomore class rejoiced in their new status as full-fledged Heralds and sighed with relief because they were no longer the youngest class.

After evaluation of STEP test profiles (Sequential Test of Educational Progress), sophomores conferred seriously with counselors concerning curriculum and career choices.

January 24 was tenth grade Orientation Day. Enrollment was discussed with counselors in a special assembly. Soon after, schedule cards were distributed and sophs pre-enrolled earlier than ever before.

For the second straight year, Cheryl McDonald and Dick Randall were chosen sophomore Top Teens by their classmates. The annual contest was sponsored by The Shield. There was no campaign nor runoff; results were announced in a scoop in the school paper.

A class picnic at a local park completed the year in which class members began to fill leading positions in various clubs, departments, and organizations.

SOPHOMORE class officers Bobbi Steer, v. pres.; Greg Davis, pres.; Craig Fezler, treas.; Di Alper, sec.; and Suzette Yates, sgt.-at-arms; check out the location of their spring picnic, an annual event.

TALENT a-plenty is shared by sophomore Top Teens Cheryl McDonald and Dick Randall. Cheryl is serving as Cygnet Cheerleader; Dick, an accomplished musician, is the organist for the Lovin' Five, school band.

Squires Accept Roles of School Leadership

Signifying the obligations descending to the Squires as a last step toward Knighthood, the sword was passed by the senior class president, Frank McGregor, to the junior class president, Mark Ackerman, in the traditional end-of-school ceremony.

Already juniors have been selected for key positions next year in Northwest's 49 clubs and organizations. Members of the class have been chosen to head Student Council, publications, and other groups vital to the total school program.

College loomed bigger on the horizon as counselors checked juniors' credits for graduation and stressed long-range planning in scheduling for the senior year. As teachers and advisers talked about requirements, it seemed that just being admitted to college was a major project!

Highlights of second semester were the receiving of long-awaited class rings and the planning for the junior-senior prom. Because of a mixup in hotel schedules, the prom was moved to the Skirvin Hotel.

WONDERING if their guests might like psychedelic art for prom decorations are class officers (seated) Nancy Rice, sgt.-at-arms; Cathy McGregor, sec.; Terry Green, treas.; (standing) Bill Lytle, v. pres.; Mark Ackerman, pres.

'Year to Remember'

As 705 upperclassmen acquired the coveted title of "Senior," we vowed to make this final year one to be remembered.

Established traditions took on a new meaning as we took our place in the front row of pep section, served as hosts for the homecoming dance, and were treated as honored guests at the prom.

We point with pride to our four-year history of achievement. When we were sophomores, we won the contest for the class with the most spirit. As hosts at the prom for the seniors of '67, our class accomplished the impossible by providing a five-piece band for the entertainment. Fourteen of our group were National Merit Scholars.

Exuberant seniors produced pep at the basketball games by forming the sensational Section. The only students at Northwest who remembered the basketball champs of '65, these seniors were more than eager to celebrate another Victory Day for our state champs.

Each event was marked with a little more meaning because we knew it was our last in this big, wonderful school of ours. Though we look back with nostalgia at the twelve years which flew by so swiftly, we eagerly face the challenge of the years ahead.

SELECTED by classmates as best all-around student for her fourth consecutive year, Suzanne Martin and Top Teen Frank McGregor take advantage of a rare snowy afternoon to try out a seldom-used sled in a nearby park.

Rick Varnell Heads Stage Crew for Three Years

"IT'S FOR you, Harvey," laments Dr. Chumley, (Terry McMahon) as Elwood, played by John Morozuk, wonders who's calling. Student director, Diane La Faver, gives pointers for the final school play.

"PULL that big switch down and all the lights go out," muses crewman David Pape to his sidekick Rick Varnell, stage manager, and designer of sets for all school productions.

"IT ONLY HURTS when you laugh." Nurse-for-a-day Tom Brady tries to cheer up Activities Director Jeanene Miller as she prepares for her duties for Youth and Citizenship Week.

'We'll Never Forget Northwest, Because . . .'

WASN'T IT GREAT? Claudia Barrett and Barbara Baber browse nostalgically through four years of mementos.

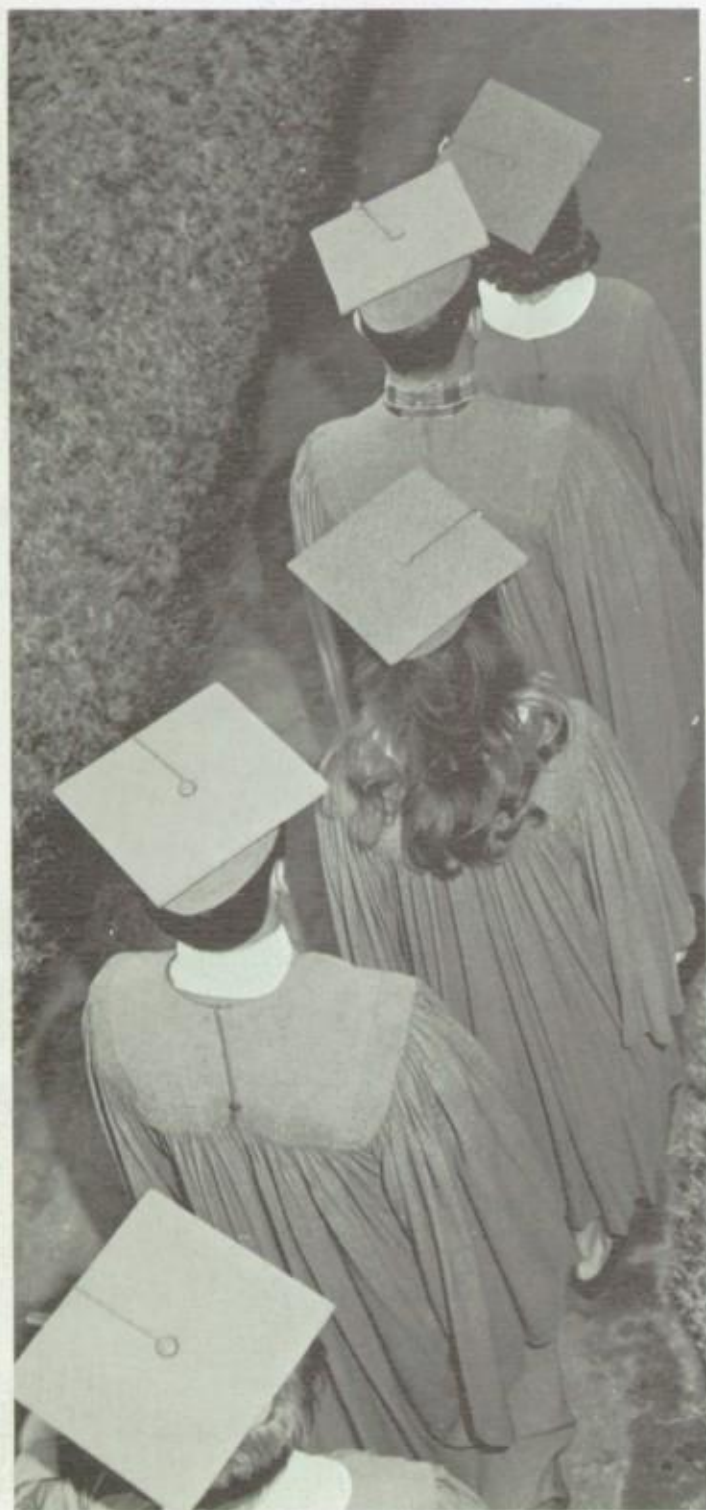

IT'S ALL OVER NOW ... Diplomas in hand, graduates race for the school's front door.

A Backward Look . . .

Nostalgic memories of 1968 are . . . SPIRIT SIGNS in proud halls of an impressive building . . . GALLANT KNIGHTS riding high in state competition . . . FACULTY FRIENDS striving to keep the light of knowledge burning . . . CLASSROOMS electric with eager students manipulating books, test tubes, projectors, and recorders . . . TEARFUL SENIORS singing the Alma Mater for the last time as jubilant freshmen look on . . . the circle is completed for the Total Look.

SOMETIMES Round Table staffers find producing a yearbook to be an absorbing business.

PRODUCTION NOTES: The 1968 Round Table was printed on 80 lb. Saxony Embossed Enamel paper in Bodoni Bold and Spartan type. There are 4,625 black and white photographs and five color prints arranged within the 8½" x 11" page. The book, consisting of 258 pages, is bound together in a 160 pt. Binders Board.

The Dupont Fabrikoid cover material is dull gold metallic color, and the texture is stone grain. Purple is applied to the embossed title, date, and backbone information.

Three four-color process pictures have been printed, die-cut and laminated to a recessed portion of the design area. Division pages are black and white photographs featuring the posterization technique and are printed in purple and black. The Taylor Publishing Company printed 2550 of the '68 Round Tables.

POSING and photographing pictures is a daily routine for Kay Barr and John Foust, chosen by fellow staff members to represent Northwest as Prince and Princess of Print at the City Inkslinger's Ball.

Last Look Completes '68 Pictorial Annals

Because each person sees Northwest in a different perspective, we have tried to capture the moods in every facet of school life and present a "calendar of memories."

The primary reason for this was to emphasize the theme, "The Total Look." The most dominant aspects have been portrayed in their importance to the total picture. Each individual student in his relationship to the academic program was first considered.

The amount of emphasis placed on activities, sports, and cultural events further pin-pointed student attitudes by providing a background for all-around development.

A sixteen-page summer supplement, which will include awards, spring sports, plus graduation events, will be mailed to purchasers in midsummer.

A book of this size necessarily involves a great number of people and a greater amount of personal dedication.

My thanks go to the combined efforts of those who have taken pride in producing this book.

Among these are teachers our staff members consulted: Mrs. Charlotte Eaker, Mrs. Lucille Spann, Mr. Ron Millican, business adviser, and especially Mrs. Elizabeth Burdette, our yearbook adviser.

Further acknowledgment should be given the following professionals: Mrs. Lu Carroll, representative of the Taylor Publishing Company; Wagner Studio, for class portraits; Curtis Studio, royalty photos; Mrs. Walter Sutton, Roger Myers Studio; and Mr. Joe Miller, my father, who shot the aerial and cover pictures.

Hi! Bailers

You're crazy! Can you believe this year is over? Next year is gonna be THE year and this summer is gonna be THE ^{summer} ~~year~~! Last summer was a gas but we can top it pretty easy. Booze and Beys! Man my head is swimming already. We have got to raise HELL to celebrate the end of this year. We really shouldn't have cut as much as we did. I hope summer school proves to be as exciting as it was last year! Like I told Patsy with a LOT of luck we might make it until graduation day. We'll have to try awfully damn hard. - Boy, we sure have made fools of ourselves a couple of times with that stuff that made Milwaukee famous (i.e. other stuff a little harder) like at Kenny's house and at the Cinema '70 (Race Riot) at couple of times (different sets of boys) and at the Ramada Inn and then of course there was the other night at Spanish Village. But it was a gas wasn't it? We've made it before and we've made it again. Now in another week we'll be big seniors! I can't wait to start celebrating! We ought to start a club called H.R.I. (Hell Raisers Inc.). It's kinda hard sometimes putting up with your straw chewing and your driving and your ^{other} weird ways. But it's times like last fri. night that make it worth it. - Boys make me sick to my gut sometimes but then I get to thinking about all the ones we haven't picked up yet and it cheers me up a little bit. There's one I wish I could have for the rest of my life - if I could I wouldn't worry or think about all the other bastards. But, I know I'm stupid but I love Terry! - Oh well we're still friends and that matters a lot to me too. - Just think.

Bailess Baby - Well DumDum, let me see if I
CAN think of any more of your cute nicknames.
IF I think of all the wild things we have done together I get dizzy. We have really had some fun together-huh. I hope it continues and I'm sure it will! I hope we don't get killed before the summer is over on one of our d^RU^N-ken rampages. Only 8 days left. I guess that won't give us time to go to MR. Millican together again. That's too bad. Your sweet, cute, darling, precious and all of those other lies.
So stay bad and you'll be FINE. You, Gail and Chuckie and I will really be little devils this summer. I just hope I get a few classes with you next year that we CAN cutt. You are really a true friend though AND I Dig you a whole whole bunch. Thanks for being my beauty operator too. "69"
Love Ya

Patsy Pack

Cont.
of how many times
we can go to the
library next year!
Just think of all the
hell there is to raise.
I have a feeling after we graduate I'll just be the Big Beginning.
California here we come!
We'll have to look up
John and Kenzie. And then there's a few we don't even know yet
that we'll have to look up. Well bid, you
bug me sometimes,
like when I'm writing
a novel but like I said - when I listen
to your gross and
funny remarks and your queer habits that are hysterical - !!
It's worth it!!
I wouldn't trade
ya for anything.
We've still got some great times to go through and I just want to say that I hope we go through them

hanging on to each other - together like!
what a gas!

I swear to God I can't wait. you turn me on so much (except
when you sing). Man,
it's gonna be one big
dancing, gassy,
wild 'hell raise'!

and you better
be my friend or I'll cry. Please.

Good Luck - I'm saying that 'cos I know if you get some good luck so will
I.

See ya,

Leech

P.S.

Remember got
we're still going
we're still going
a hell of a good time to have see the R
time - get's together
fun - & x

I am
you're the greatest there is. Be real super
good in the future.
Just think - next year
we'll be big bad seniors. Yea!
Good luck always. Yuff ya -

Pam -

We've only gotten to know each other this year but we've both got alot in common. You're good looking and you'll never be without a friend. Stay cool and good luck in what ever you do.

Love,

Luck

- Pam -

To a real sweet
girl I think an awful lot of. You'll always be my friend, & I'll never forget you. It's been great knowing you this year. What are you going to without me to write you admiite next year? Oh well, Too Bad! Good luck at N.W.C.

God Bless you always

P.S. Please come to my wedding.

I Love Pat,

Pam,

I haven't seen
you too much this year, but you're a great gal. Have a great summer and
be good? See you
next year.

Love you
Linda P. Sc. '68"

Pam,

We really have had some fun times this year especially with our little private jokes. You are a riot to be around, and you have a great sense of humor. Have lots of fun this summer.
See ya' next year. Best of Luck Always. May
God bless you!

Love ya' always!

Pam -
I still remember you from grade school. You've been a good friend for however many years it's been. Hope to see you in future years. Good Luck

Pam, Bay-Bay

First of all I would like to say you're a complete riot. I am glad you like to drink and cuss and chase boys! Herman is a good car - he gets us to all our drunks, private parties and enemy posts (+B&Y to see Tail the zit poe)! You're so much fun - we've got to keep it up all summer ~ Packa, Blanche, you, and me - what a riot! Please stay away from Spanish Fly ~~this~~ a bunch of hooks! Don't ever get hooked on a boy cause then we couldn't get boozed up and find "a - new - one - a - week"! You See! See ya Wednesday night the May 29 for the newly acclaimed Seniors Drunk! Be good Bailey (ha! ha!)

Sr. 69, Love ya,
ha! ha!
I doubt it!
Chuckie

that's crissible

WSTY { Bobby Samples is a riot too! Don't get hooked...

Pam

It's been great great knowing you this year even though ~~we~~ we don't go to the same school

-Pam-
It's been fun
in English this year.
Hope to see ya next year.

-Pam-

Well how can I say good-bye to my own sister. There are so many thing that we have done together at I hate to say good-bye to, thing that I will always remember. I hope that we can stay close together and I hope you get everything you want out of life. I pray that God helps you with all your problems in the future. I won't say goodbye sis.

Yours Always

Since this is a nice clean page
I'll be the first to write on it. Pam - I have really enjoyed being in Como with you - you're really a great girl whom I'm going to miss in the future. I hope we become better friends.
Good luck in all you do.

It's knowing
you this year, you
hope to see you
later on. Love Maria

Pam,
I really
don't know you
that well, but if I hadn't of been for old

I've known you for a long time & I will never forget you every year we seem to end up in some of same classes. I sure was surprised to find out that you knew Bill -
That was really a laugh I ~~with~~ hope next year we have a lot of fun & some more classes together. Good Luck &
God Bless ya

- Pam -
Well I'll be leaving and I sure miss that warm smile of yours. Be a cool Dr. (I know you will) Good luck with Eddie and the many more on your list. You really fun to know.
Thanks for helping me in Cosmo. Good luck.
Love ya!

Pam - So a cute girl Mary Hawkins
I've had a blast knowing.
Have a lot of fun this summer, '68.
I know you will. I'll see ya
this summer & next year.

Love ya
